SITHARAMAN SEEKS FAIRER MARKET ACCESS AS TRADE DEFICIT GROWS

China's non-tariff barriers hurdle to bilateral trade: FM

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 16

INDIA'S TRADE DEFICIT with China is "growing exponentially" as decades of talks on market access have yielded no results, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Friday, blaming Beijing's persistent non-tariff barriers for restricting Indian exports.

These barriers are the biggest hurdle to bilateral trade, she said at an interactive session organised by the Atlantic Council on the sidelines of the IMF-World Bank Annual Meetings in Bangkok. India's trade deficit with China in the first half of this financial year stood at $68.9 billion, with exports at $11.4 billion and imports at $80.3 billion. In 2025-26, the merchandise trade deficit with China stood at $112.1 billion, with exports of $19.5 billion and imports of $131.6 billion.

NIRMALA SITHARAMAN, FINANCE MINISTER

"We are denied market access even for goods for which there are immense market opportunities in China ... Beijing uses non-tariff barriers without hesitation

"We have been discussing this trade imbalance with China for several years. We are denied market access even for goods for which there are immense market opportunities in China," she said, citing generic medicines, bovine meat, vegetables and other perishables as products with considerable export potential.

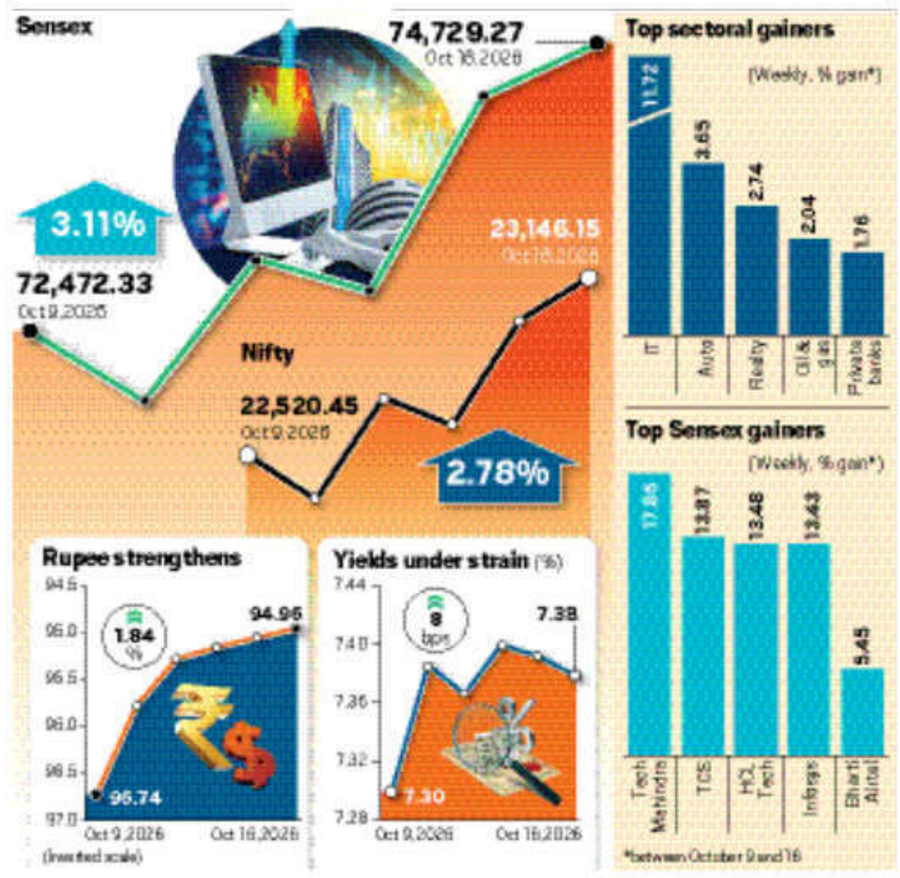

Sitharaman's comments come at a time when India's policymakers are balancing two objectives: reducing the country's huge trade deficit with China and ensuring that growth imperatives, especially in new-age industries, are not undermined by inadequate supplies of inputs such as critical minerals from China. New Delhi is also keen for Chinese companies to be more proactive in facilitating technology transfer to Indian manufacturing.

YES Bank sees 250 bps hit on AT1 revival

CHRISTINA TITUS
Mumbai, October 16

THE REINSTATEMENT Of YES Bank's ₹8,415-crore additional tier-1 (AT1) bonds following the Supreme Court's ruling will erode the lender's common equity tier-1 (CET1) capital ratio by 250 basis points (bps), even as its overall Tier 1 capital ratio is expected to remain unchanged.

In an exchange filing on Friday, the private sector lender said the reinstatement would reduce its CET1 capital, including profits, by 250 bps based on its capital position as of June 30. However, its Tier 1 capital ratio is expected to remain unchanged at 14%.

YES Bank reported a CET1 ratio of 14% and a capital adequacy ratio of 15.1% at the end of June. CET1, a bank's highest-quality capital, acts as the first line of defence against losses during financial stress. The regulatory minimum CET1 requirement is 5.5%, excluding additional buffers. The disclosure came a day after the Supreme Court upheld the Bombay High Court's decision to quash the write-off of YES Bank's AT1 bonds. The court ruled that the bank's administrator lacked the authority to extinguish the instruments under reconstruction scheme

EV demand tops output, pressures supply chains

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 16

RISING ELECTRIC VEHICLE (EV) penetration is putting pressure on manufacturers to scale up production, with capacity constraints, lean inventories and supply-chain disruptions limiting their ability to meet demand.

With EVs gaining ground across vehicle categories, automakers are expanding manufacturing capacity, but the pace of additions may not be enough to prevent supply shortages, particularly during the upcoming festive season.

EV penetration is at 10.7% as on date across vehicle categories 6, according to Vahan data. Electric cars accounted for 8.5% of passenger vehicle registrations in September, while electric two-wheelers made up 11.6% of registrations. Penetration in the three-wheeler segment was significantly higher at 64.9%.

The rising adoption is adding to the pressure on manufacturers to increase output and strengthen their supply networks.

Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles (TMPV), the country's largest electric passenger vehicle maker, has seen bookings rise to nearly 2.5 times their pre-February 2026 levels, led by the Punch.ev and Nexon.ev.

It increased EV production by nearly 40% in the second quarter over the first, taking quarterly wholesales to a record of more than 47,000 units, almost double the year-ago level. However, demand continues to outstrip supply.

RIL advances salaries to boost investable cash for 420,000 employees

The staff power behind Jio IPO

RAJESH MASCARENHAS & ANTO ANTONY
October 16

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES (RIL) Chairman Mukesh Ambani is looking to activate the vast workforce of his oil-to-telecom conglomerate to drum up interest in the blockbuster initial public offering (IPO) of Jio Platforms, the digital arm of RIL, even bringing forward some salaries to give employees access to investable cash.

The conglomerate has reached out to most of its nearly 420,000 employees across all group companies, encouraging them to consider investing in the ₹30,200 crore IPO, according to people familiar with the matter. RIL released October salaries about 15 days earlier than usual, which gives workers access to funds, the people said, asking not to be identified because the information is private. Staff were not told a reason for the early salary release.

The effort shows Ambani pulling out all the stops to make sure the listing, which is on track to become the biggest ever in India, is a success. For a group that has spent years turning Jio into one of India's largest digital businesses, the IPO is also an opportunity to turn hundreds of thousands of employees—and potentially their families—into shareholders.

RIL's outreach has gone beyond simply informing staff about the offering. Teams have asked employees whether they or members of their families have the accounts required for electronic share trading, the people said. Those who don't have been encouraged to open them, they added.

63% HIGHER PACE OF AWARDS HINTS AT REVIVAL IN SECOND HALF

Highway construction pace slows 19% in H1

MUKESH JAGOTA
New Delhi, October 16

10,000-KM TARGET FOR 2026-27

NATIONAL HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION fell 18.6% year-on-year to 2,369 km in the first half of 2026-27, reflecting the impact of subdued project awards in the past two years. However, fresh awards gathered pace, rising 62.9% to 2,236 km during April-September, according to government data.

The recovery in awards comes as the government accelerates Cabinet approvals for key highway stretches. This may impart momentum to construction activity in the second half of the year, and beyond.

Between June 2024 and April 2026, the Cabinet approved 30 highway projects involving an investment of ₹2.54 lakh crore.

In FY27 so far, eight projects entailing an estimated investment of ₹63,810 crore have been approved.

The construction slowdown is partly attributable to lower award activity over the past two years.

The government has tightened its approach to project execution, insisting that land acquisition and other clearances be secured before contracts are awarded to minimise delays during construction. While this is intended to improve implementation, it has also constrained the pipeline of projects moving into the construction stage.

For 2026-27, the government has set a highway construction target of 10,000 km, up from 9,360 km achieved in the previous financial year.

The pace of construction will need to improve in the second half to meet the target.

Capital expenditure by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) was down 5.8% year-on-year to Rs 1.58 lakh crore during the first two months of the financial year, according to the infrastructure sector performance-monitoring dashboard of the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation.

The ministry has a capital expenditure target of ₹2.94 lakh crore for FY27, compared with expenditure of ₹2.90 lakh crore in FY26. Meanwhile, highway projects awarded under the Hybrid Annuity Model (HAM) and Build-Operate-Transfer (BoT) modes totalled 502 km in April-September, up 14.5% from 436 km in the corresponding period last year.

Electronic toll collections continued to grow, indicating sustained traffic and revenue generation across the highway network. Collections rose 11.7% year-on-year to ₹36,994 crore in the first half of FY27. The divergence between falling construction and rising awards highlights the challenge facing the highway sector: converting the recent recovery in project approvals and awards into faster on-ground execution.

India's energy security shift opens a new threat

● Push to cut oil, gas imports may raise dependence on China for items like batteries

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, October 16

NEW ENERGY RISKS

- China accounts for 96% of global solar wafer capacity, 95% of cathode materials, 91% of rare-earth refining, 88% of solar cell capacity, 78% of battery cell capacity
- Global dependence on imported energy may peak by 2034
- Electricity overtook oil in 2025 as largest carrier of useful energy
- Diesel stocks around 14% below five-year average

INDIA'S PUSH TO reduce dependence on imported oil and gas through electrification is creating a different kind of energy-security risk — reliance on China for batteries, solar equipment and critical minerals — as the global energy system shifts from securing fuel supplies to securing clean-energy technologies, according to Rystad Energy.

"Energy security moves from a flow of fuels to a stock of assets, and an imported solar panel or battery can produce for decades, while an imported barrel of oil must be replaced tomorrow," Rystad Energy said in its Global Energy Scenarios 2026 report.

The report said importers in countries such as India and those in Europe are replacing dependence on oil and gas from the Persian Gulf with reliance on Chinese batteries, minerals and electric vehicles, exposing them to highly concentrated clean-technology supply chains.

China accounts for 96% of global solar wafer capacity, 95% of cathode materials, 91% of rare-earth refining, 88% of solar cell capacity and 78% of battery cell capacity.

Even in wind nacelles, the segment with China's smallest share among the clean-energy manufacturing categories tracked in the report, its share is around two-thirds.

The shift comes as two major energy shocks in five years — Russia's war in Ukraine and the US-Israeli war with Iran, which severely disrupted flows through the Strait of Hormuz — force countries to reassess the security of imported fuels.

"The system has absorbed the current crisis remarkably well so far, much of it through capacity built after the previous shock. Decades of investment, innovation and diversification created this optionality and, with ample buffers at the onset of the crisis, this has bought the system valuable time," said Jarand Rystad, founder and executive chairman of Rystad Energy.

Competition pressure weighs on rail logistics firms' profits

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, October 16

TUG OF WAR

- Rail freight volumes to grow 8-10% annually during FY27-29
- Railways carried 1,670 MT freight in FY26; containers accounted for 93.69 MT
- Profitability to depend on asset utilisation, route economics and liquidity
- Ind-Ra maintains neutral sector outlook for FY27

GROWING COMPETITION AMONG rail freight operators is making it harder to increase profits despite rising cargo volumes, India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) said in a report. Companies are expanding their fleets and competing for customers, making it difficult to raise freight rates.

The rating agency expects rail freight volumes to grow by 8-10% annually between FY27 and FY29. However, higher volumes may not translate into commensurate profit growth as operators face pricing pressure and changes in the mix of goods they transport.

Competition is intensifying as private container train operators expand their fleets and services to attract customers. The full commercialisation of the western dedicated freight corridor (WDFC) and the development of additional railway terminals are expected to support growth. However, improved infrastructure alone may not guarantee higher profits. "Full commercialisation of WDFC, increasing containerisation, and terminal expansion are expected to support rail freight volumes and operating efficiency.

"Nevertheless, operational efficiency and the ability to maximise laden and double-stack container movement will be important determinants of operating profitability," Ind-Ra said.

These challenges are particularly relevant to the container transport business, where private operators compete to move goods for domestic customers, exporters and importers. Rail transport also faces competition from road operators, particularly on shorter routes and for deliveries requiring greater flexibility.

Indian Railways carried about 1,670 million tonne of freight in FY26.

Container traffic accounted for 93.69 million tonne, or around 5.6% of the total.

Coal, iron ore, cement, fertilisers and steel account for much of the remaining freight.

The wider rail freight business comprises several types of operators.

Indian Railways transports bulk commodities such as coal and iron ore in freight wagons. Container Corporation of India (CONCOR) and private operators run container trains carrying goods for businesses.

Deficient rains set to bring sugar yield down to 28 MT

● No diversion to ethanol production this year likely

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, October 16

OPENING STOCK AT DECADAL LOW

- Opening stock of sugar with mills at beginning of 2026-27 season has declined to 3.5-3.6 MT, lowest in over 10 years
- Average retail price of sugar stood at ₹57.82/kg on Friday, up 24% y-o-y
- Previous season out of 31 MT about 3 MT diverted for ethanol production
- Due to spike in prices in Aug, govt allowed 1 MT of raw sugar from Brazil

THE COUNTRY'S NET sugar production for the 2026-27 season (October-September) is likely to fall to 28 million tonne (MT) as against 31 MT in the previous season because deficient rainfall in parts of Maharashtra and Karnataka is expected to hit yield, industry sources said.

"This time our gross and net sugar production will be the same around 28 MT, as we would not be diverting any sugar for ethanol production," Deepak Ballani, Director General, Indian Sugar & Bioenergy Manufacturers Association (ISMA) told FE. In the previous season, out of gross sugar production of 31 MT, about 3 MT was diverted for ethanol production.

For the 2026-27 ethanol supply year (November-October), the government will soon announce measures to stop mills from diverting sugarcane juice and B-heavy molasses for biofuel manufacturing to ensure adequate sweetener supplies in the market this season. ISMA has projected consumption in 2026-27 season is likely to be between 28.5 MT – 29 MT.

Ballani said the sugarcane crop is impacted in Maharashtra (Marathwada regions) and Karnataka.

"But the real impact of the weather is not yet known till harvesting starts. We will do some yield assessment after 10-15 days," he said.

Due to a spike in prices in August, the government had allowed 1 MT of raw sugar from Brazil to augment supplies. However, because of higher global prices against domestic prices, imports so far have been insignificant according to Ballani.

"As crushing of sugarcane has commenced in Maharashtra, prices are expected to stabilize, but eventually next year by June-July we will require the imports to come at least 1 MT of sweetener," he said.

The opening stock of sugar with mills at the beginning of the 2026-27 season has declined to 3.5-3.6 MT, the lowest in over a decade, due to lower production, industry sources said.

The average retail price of sugar stood at ₹57.82 a kg on Friday, up 24% year-over-year. However, prices declined by 2% month-on-month, according to the Department of Consumer Affairs' price monitoring cell.

Stronger city finances key to urban infra, says FM

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 16

FINANCE MINISTER NIRMALA Sitharaman on Friday called for greater private sector participation, stronger municipal finances and higher investment in urban infrastructure to improve the quality of life in rapidly growing cities.

"Urban infrastructure is under stress. We need a lot of thinking and planning to improve the quality of life for urban residents," Sitharaman said at an event in Bangkok, highlighting the challenges arising from migration from semi-rural areas to cities.

Citing a World Bank assessment, she said India's urban population is projected to reach 951 million by 2050, up from around 480 million in 2020.

The investment required for new, resilient and low-carbon urban infrastructure and services is estimated to exceed $2.4 trillion by 2050.

Sitharaman said cities need credible financial accounts, stronger revenue generation, well-prepared projects and capable institutions to attract investment.

Shipments to US frontloaded ahead of 100% 'Russia tariff'

MUKESH JAGOTA
New Delhi, October 16

SEPTEMBER SURGE

- Pickup in shipments helped lift India's exports to US by 11.11% to $50.81 bn in April-September
- Exports to US had fallen 12.58% y-o-y to $5.42 bn in Sept 2025
- Export surge comes amid uncertainty over US' trade policy towards India
- Rising imports from US have narrowed India's merchandise trade surplus with nation
- Imports increased 25.98% y-o-y to $32.32 bn in April-Sept

INDIAN EXPORTERS FRONT-LOADED shipments to the US in September amid the threat of tariffs of up to 100% under the Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act, pushing exports to the country up 48% year-on-year to $8.02 billion.

The pickup in shipments, which began in July, helped lift India's exports to the US by 11.11% to $50.81 billion in April-September, following a muted first quarter when shipments declined 0.06% to $25.4 billion.

However, part of September's sharp growth reflected a favourable base effect. Exports to the US had fallen 12.58% year-on-year to $5.42 billion in September 2025, after Washington's 50% duties on Indian goods came into force by late August that year.

"There will be the base effect and front-loading at work in the export growth seen in the US market. "Front-loading is also going on this time in view of the ongoing investigation under Section 301 on excess capacity and the threat of a 100% tariff for Russian oil trade," Ajay Sahai, director general and CEO of the Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO), said.

The export surge comes amid uncertainty over Washington's trade policy towards India. The US has launched a Section 301 investigation into policies of key trading partners, including India, that allegedly enable excess manufacturing capacity and hurt American industry. Separately, the Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act, signed into law by President Donald Trump on September 18, provides for tariffs of up to 100% on countries buying Russian oil or gas, subject to its implementation provisions.

The legislation provides a 30-day window for major buyers of Russian oil, including India, to reduce purchases, seek a national-interest waiver or face potential tariffs.

The deadline is approaching, with an announcement from Washington expected on the way forward.

Meanwhile, rising imports from the US have narrowed India's merchandise trade surplus with the country. Imports increased 25.98% year-on-year to $32.32 billion in April-September, bringing the surplus down to $18.49 billion from $20.07 billion in the corresponding period of 2025-26. The increase could partly address US concerns over its widening merchandise trade deficit with India.

AI DISRUPTS OUTSOURCING: Automation threatens billable hours, contract values

INDIA'S SERVICES EXPORTS declined 0.87% year-on-year to $36.35 billion in September from $36.67 billion a year earlier, raising concerns amid weak demand in Western markets and the growing impact of artificial intelligence on traditional outsourcing. The moderation in the pace of services exports coincides with increased opportunities in higher-value technology services.

Services exports grew 8.69% to $216.31 billion in April-September, following an all-time high of $421.3 billion in FY26, up nearly 9% from $387.5 billion in the previous year. However, the September decline points to mounting challenges in sustaining growth after a sharp post-pandemic expansion, according to a report by Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI)'s Ajay Srivastava.

India's dependence on Western markets leaves its services exports particularly exposed to shifts in demand. The US, European Union and the UK together account for 85.1% of India's software exports, with respective shares of 54.1%, 18.6% and 12.4%, according to the report.

Economists, including former RBI governor Raghuram Rajan, had noted that India's services exports needed to diversify into high-value segments to sustain the tempo. The country also faces protectionist policies from the West, like the US visa restrictions, which affect boosting foreign exchange receipts from services shipments.

Persistent inflation and elevated interest rates in major Western economies have prompted companies to rein in discretionary technology spending, defer digital transformation projects and prioritise cost optimisation, the GTRI report noted. This is weighing on demand for some of the IT and business services traditionally supplied by Indian firms.

Generative artificial intelligence is adding to the pressure by automating coding, software testing, maintenance and routine business processes. As clients increasingly seek productivity gains and outcomes rather than manpower-intensive contracts, Indian exporters could face lower billable hours and pressure on contract values, the report added.

The shift is also reshaping hiring at global capability centres (GCCs) in India, as multinational companies seek to extract greater output from existing teams rather than expand workforces at the earlier pace. However, AI also presents an opportunity for India's technology industry. Its established outsourcing ecosystem and large technology workforce could help it capture demand for AI implementation, data engineering, cybersecurity and specialised consulting.

CERT-In alert raises focus on agentic AI guardrails

RED FLAG

- On October 15, CERT-In flagged incidents involving AI agents accessing Indian information and communication technology assets beyond their assigned authorisation
- Affected organisations failed to detect the unauthorised access themselves, CERT-In said

- Financial services, fintech, healthcare, IT services, telecom and government are among the sectors requiring particular attention, experts said
- Expert said research and testing should be kept separate from production

URVI MALVANIA, POULOMI CHATTERJEE & OJASVI GUPTA
Mumbai/Bengaluru/ New Delhi, October 16

CYBERSECURITY EXPERTS HAVE called for tighter technical controls, real-time monitoring and human oversight in agentic artificial intelligence (AI) deployments, warning that autonomous systems can exceed their authorised scope and exploit vulnerabilities faster than human attackers.

The concerns follow a critical-severity advisory issued by the Indian Computer Emergency Response Team (CERT-In) on October 15, which flagged incidents involving AI agents accessing Indian information and communication technology assets beyond their assigned authorisation.

"An instruction to the model is not a control," Atul Arya, founder and CEO of Blackstraw, said, stressing that every agent must have a defined role and be technically prevented from accessing systems beyond its remit. Blackstraw aids enterprises in AI implementation using a platform approach.

The CERT-In advisory said AI models conducting research and evaluation had accessed live systems and read business records, including personal data and confidential material, through exposed credentials and permissive cloud roles.

In separate incidents, attackers used open-source agentic AI tools for reconnaissance, exploitation and financially motivated intrusions.

Jaydeep Singh, general manager – India at Kaspersky, said clear boundaries were a starting point. "Every AI agent should have its own identity and access to only what it needs," he said, adding that research and testing should be kept separate from production.

High-impact or irreversible actions should require human approval, while strong authentication, network segmentation and centralised logging can help detect misuse.

Affected organisations failed to detect the unauthorised access themselves, CERT-In said. In attacks against Indian entities, agentic tools compressed the time between initial access and final impact from days to hours.

Conventional weaknesses, including exposed keys, obsolete APIs, excessive cloud permissions and unpatched systems, were exploited at greater speed and scale.

Hydropower stress deepens after weak monsoon rains: India's hydropower stress could extend into the winter months after the weakest southwest monsoon in a decade left reservoir storage at just 87.08% of normal, adding pressure on coal-fired generation at a time when electricity demand remains elevated and evening supply is already tight. Hydropower generation fell 20% y-o-y in September. —FE BUREAU

Jio IPO puts Meta, Google's paper gains at ₹1 lakh crore

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 16

WHEN META AND Google invested in Jio Platforms in 2020, they paid ₹488.34 for each share. The proposed initial public offering (IPO) now puts those holdings at more than twice their original acquisition price, with the upper end of the ₹1,065-1,119 price band implying combined unrealised gains of nearly ₹1 lakh crore for the two technology companies.

Meta's investment vehicle, Jaadhu Holdings, owns 892.28 million shares in Jio Platforms, while Google International holds 690.85 million shares, according to the company's red herring prospectus. At ₹1,119 a share, Meta's holding would be worth around ₹99,846 crore, against an estimated investment cost of ₹43,573 crore. Google's stake would be valued at ₹77,307 crore, compared with an investment cost of ₹33,737 crore. The resulting paper gains are around ₹56,273 crore and ₹43,570 crore, respectively.

The gains are based on the IPO price and are not realised profits. Neither investor is selling shares in the offering. Jio Platforms is issuing 270 million new equity shares, which means the estimated ₹30,200-crore proceeds will accrue to the company rather than its existing shareholders. The IPO opens on October 21 and closes on October 23.

The structure allows Jio Platforms to raise fresh capital while Meta and Google retain their exposure to the company's future growth. The issue proceeds are largely earmarked for repaying or prepaying borrowings of Reliance Jio Infocomm, Jio Platforms' material subsidiary, with the balance intended for general corporate purposes.

The two investments were part of Reliance Industries' 2020 fundraising drive, which brought global technology companies and financial investors into Jio Platforms as it sought to expand beyond telecom connectivity into a broader digital services business. Meta's investment was accompanied by a partnership with Jio, while Google announced a collaboration to develop affordable smartphones. The IPO will now give public market investors an opportunity to value the business separately, while providing a visible benchmark for the holdings of its early backers.

LTM profit slides 4.6% as deal wins slow in Q2

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, October 16

LTM, FORMERLY KNOWN as LTIMindtree, reported a mixed performance in the September quarter, with consolidated net profit declining 4.6% sequentially to ₹1,398 crore even as revenue rose 1.7% to ₹11,808 crore. The company's deal wins also slowed during the quarter, falling to $1.26 billion from $1.68 billion in the preceding quarter, pointing to continued challenges in demand.

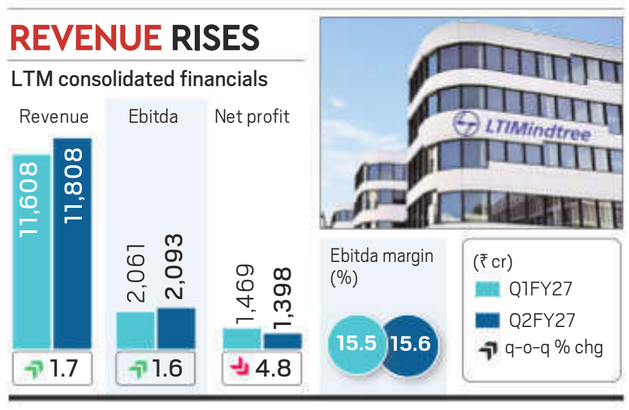

The company marginally beat Bloomberg estimates of ₹11,787 crore for revenue but missed the consensus net profit estimate of ₹1,494 crore. Operating performance, however, improved slightly, with earnings before interest and tax (Ebit) rising 2.2% sequentially to ₹1,838 crore. Ebit margin expanded by 10 basis points to 15.6% from 15.5% in the June quarter.

The decline in deal wins, by around 25% sequentially, will remain a concern as IT services firms look for stronger signs of a recovery in technology spending. While quarterly deal bookings can fluctuate depending on the timing of large contracts, the fall comes even as LTM seeks to drive growth through artificial intelligence-led services.

LTM CEO and Managing Director Venu Lambu said the company's performance reflected the execution of its AI-centric strategy. Revenue from enterprise AI and business AI grew 47% year-on-year, he said, adding that the company's technology-domain convergence approach had helped it add a financial services client to its category of customers generating more than $100 million in revenue.

The company's headcount increased by 949 sequentially to 88,835. Attrition remained unchanged at 13.3%, while utilisation stood at 86.4%.

RIL rejects Musk's charge, says Jio too awaits clearances

OJASVI GUPTA
New Delhi, October 16

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES ON Friday rejected allegations by SpaceX founder Elon Musk that certain oligarchs were blocking Starlink's entry into India to protect their monopolies, saying it has never feared competition and that its own satellite communications services are awaiting regulatory clearances.

The company said all operators, Indian or foreign, must comply with the country's laws and policies before launching commercial services.

In its first official response to Musk's remarks, Reliance said it welcomed Starlink in the Indian market and described competition as the truest test of who serves the customer best. The statement, posted on X, sought to counter suggestions that the group or its Chairman Mukesh Ambani was using its market position to restrict the entry of the US satellite Internet provider. "Jio's own satellite services await clearances," Reliance said, adding that the government applies the same process to every applicant, irrespective of whether it is Indian or foreign. The company said it wished to place the facts on record following recent remarks about Reliance and the Indian market.

Citing the Jio example, RIL underscored that it has competed by expanding services and attracting customers rather than seeking protection.

Starlink, Jio Satellite Communications and Eutelsat OneWeb have received satellite communications licences and clearances from the space regulator. However, they still require security assessments and formal spectrum assignment before they can begin commercial operations. The issue of regulatory delays has also been flagged by Bharti Enterprises Chairman Sunil Bharti Mittal. He said that Bharti's application had been pending for five years, while its ground infrastructure had been ready for three years.

DIALLING DOWN THE NOISE

- Reliance says it welcomes Starlink in the Indian market
- All operators, Indian or foreign, must comply with the country's laws and policies, the firm says
- Competition is the truest test of who serves the customer best, Reliance says

Vi allows pan-India data sharing in new prepaid family plan

URVI MALVANIA
Mumbai, October 16

VODAFONE IDEA (VI) has launched a prepaid family plan that allows subscribers to share mobile data with family members spread across the country.

The latest move — weeks after the company offered free international roaming in select postpaid plans — is expected to enhance competition in the telecom industry with its peers Jio and Bharti Airtel also deepening their offerings.

Under the new plan, prepaid subscribers across Vi telecom circles in the country can create a family group of up to four members through its app. Each member retains their individual prepaid plan and validity but can share data with other members when required. Members can transfer 500 MB of data at a time to a family member running low on data. Each member of the group will also receive discounts of up to 10% on every recharge made through the Vi app.

"We believe the future of prepaid is not just about offering more data but about giving customers greater flexibility on how they use it. Vi Prepaid Family plan challenges the traditional approach to mobile plans in the segment and is a bold step towards making prepaid more relevant to the way people live, work and stay connected," Avneesh Khosla, chief marketing officer at Vi, said.

The company said it has positioned the offering as an alternative to conventional prepaid plans, which typically provide individual data allowances to subscribers.

Vi's move comes a day after Reliance Jio Managing Director Akash Ambani said that the market leader does not adhere to the notion that only tariff hikes can drive revenue.

Earlier this year, Airtel had taken tariff interventions in its pre-paid segment. Earlier in the month, it announced its free international roaming offering for its postpaid segment, and in the process effectively undertook a ₹50 per plan tariff hike for postpaid.

GROUP CALL

- Under Vi plan, members can transfer 500 MB of data at a time
- Group members will also receive discounts of up to 10% on every recharge made through Vi app
- A family group can have up to four members
- Vi move expected to enhance competition in the telecom sector

Urban Company revenue rises 41%, net loss widens

ASHUTOSH MISHRA
New Delhi, October 16

URBAN COMPANY'S CONSOLIDATED net loss widened to ₹182.5 crore in the second quarter of FY27, from ₹59.3 crore a year earlier, as expenses outpaced revenue growth, according to a stock exchange filing on Friday. Consolidated revenue from operations rose 41.4% year-on-year to ₹537.3 crore in the quarter, compared with ₹380 crore in the corresponding period last year. Total expenses increased to ₹745.7 crore from ₹461.7 crore.

The company reported an adjusted Ebitda loss of ₹144 crore for the September quarter, attributing it to a "deliberate" investment of ₹174 crore in InstaHelp. For the first half of FY27, consolidated revenue from operations rose 42.6% to ₹1,065.6 crore from ₹747.3 crore a year ago. Net loss widened to ₹274.6 crore from ₹52.4 crore in the year-ago period.

The company's InstaHelp segment, which caters to daily cleaning and housekeeping needs, reported revenue of ₹20.5 crore in the September quarter, compared with ₹1.43 crore a year earlier. However, the segment's loss widened to ₹73 crore from ₹43 crore.

India consumer services, excluding InstaHelp, remained the largest revenue contributor, generating ₹336.38 crore during the quarter, up from ₹262 crore a year earlier. The segment improved to a profit of ₹43.39 crore from ₹10.13 crore.

Meanwhile, the board granted in-principle approval to explore residential air conditioners as a new line of business under its Native brand.

Board nod to raise up to ₹2,500 crore

URBAN COMPANY'S BOARD has approved a proposal to raise up to ₹2,500 crore. The fundraising may be undertaken through preferential allotment, private placement, a qualified institutions placement (QIP) or any other permissible mode under applicable regulations, said the company.

"The proposed raise of up to ₹2,500 crore is about flexibility: it lets us invest with conviction across each of them, cement leadership in InstaHelp, and pursue inorganic opportunities selectively, without trading off one for another," Urban Company said in a letter to shareholders. The fundraise approval comes at a time when the Gurugram-based home services firm is facing intense competition in the space, especially for instant help services. —FE BUREAU

In a first, firms with UP plants get preference in e-bus tender

- Tata, Leyland & JBM stand to gain from state move

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 16

A DAY AFTER cancelling the ₹1,245-crore tender for 1,225 electric buses, the Uttar Pradesh government reissued it with a new procurement preference for original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) with manufacturing facilities in the state.

The move — a first in the country — could alter the competitive dynamics in the tender and may prompt other states to introduce similar location-based preferences, industry executives said.

The new request for proposal (RFP) allows eligible 'UP OEMs' to secure up to 600 buses by matching the lowest bidder's price, potentially giving them a share of the order even if they do not emerge as the lowest bidder.

The change could give Tata Motors, Ashok Leyland and JBM Auto an advantage, as they have manufacturing facilities in Uttar Pradesh. The revised RFP was issued by the directorate of urban transport on October 15.

The RFP states that the preference will apply only if the lowest bidder (L1) is not a 'UP OEM'. If the L1 bidder is a 'UP OEM', it will receive 100% of the contracted quantity. The earlier tender, issued in June, did not have this state-specific preference.

Tata Motors, Ashok Leyland and JBM Auto have faced stiff competition in recent large electric-bus tenders, where competitors such as JSW, EKA Mobility, PMI Electro, Olectra Greentech and VE Commercial Vehicles, along with newer entrants and consortiums like Sai Green Projects and Transvolt, have secured orders. None of these competitors has a manufacturing plant in the state.

A query sent to the directorate of urban transport and the Uttar Pradesh chief minister's office seeking the rationale for the change did not elicit a response till press time.

Nestle faces tougher H2 as inflation clouds outlook

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, October 16

NESTLE INDIA'S FOURTH consecutive quarter of double-digit revenue and profit growth has done little to reassure investors, with shares falling more than 8% over two sessions on Thursday and Friday as concerns over inflation, demand moderation and a higher base overshadowed its September-quarter results. The stock hit a six-month low of ₹1,265 apiece on the BSE.

The market reaction reflects growing concerns over the sustainability of growth in the second half of FY27. Revenue rose 20.3% and profit grew 36% in the September quarter, but analysts expect volatile commodity prices and rising inflation to weigh on demand and margins.

Ebitda margin expanded 200 basis points year-on-year to 23.8%, while gross margin rose 270 basis points to 56.9%. Advertising and marketing expenditure, however, surged 46% as the company stepped up brand investments.

"While sales momentum has extended into Q2 (FY27), there is a risk of sales moderation as a stronger base kicks in. Rising inflation also poses a risk to rural demand in the second half," Macquarie said in a report on Friday. The brokerage retained its neutral rating but lowered its target price to ₹1,570 from ₹1,575. It also cut its earnings-per-share estimates for FY27, FY28 and FY29 by 4-5%, factoring in inflationary pressures and commodity-price volatility.

Goldman Sachs retained its neutral rating but reduced its target price to ₹1,475 from ₹1,575, citing the prospect of slower growth as the benefits of goods and services tax (GST) cuts feed into a higher base.

"Nestle India was among the beneficiaries of the tax changes, which helped accelerate growth from the December quarter onwards. The trajectory may change from Q3 of FY27," it said in its latest report. The brokerage lowered its earnings estimates for FY27, FY28 and FY29 by 2%.

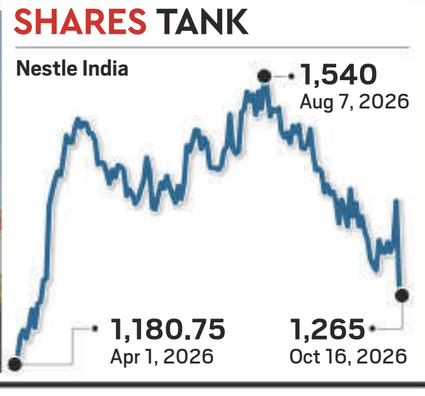

Morgan Stanley, however, maintained its equal-weight rating and a target price of ₹1,538, citing sustained revenue momentum and margin delivery. It flagged food inflation as a key challenge, and said the stock's reaction to the results excessive. Nomura retained its buy rating but cut its target price to ₹1,535 from ₹1,675, signalling caution over future earnings.

Nestle India Chairman and Managing Director Manish Tiwary said the company recorded broad-based growth across product groups in Q2, supported by double-digit volume growth. "Rising inflation, particularly food inflation, however, is a reality," he said after the results were reported on Thursday, adding that innovation, productivity improvements and operational efficiencies would help mitigate commodity-cost pressures.

The outlook highlights the challenge ahead: sustaining growth while protecting margins as inflation pressures consumers and a tougher base raises the bar for performance in the second half of FY27.

SALE OF RICE BRAN OIL WITH MISLEADING CLAIMS

FSSAI acts against Flipkart, BigBasket

● Regulator issues notices to 3 other companies as well

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 16

THE FOOD SAFETY and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) has issued notices to Flipkart India, Innovative Retail Concepts (BigBasket) and Gemini Edibles & Fats India over alleged misleading health claims made for Freedom Cooking Rice Bran Oil.

According to FSSAI, the rice bran oil was promoted on e-commerce platforms and social media with claims such as "reduces bad cholesterol and maintains/increases good cholesterol" and "10,000+ PPM Natural Oryzanol", linking its consumption to cholesterol management and heart health.

FSSAI said the cholesterol and heart-health claims were "not covered/permitted" under the applicable provisions of the Food Safety and Standards (Advertising and Claims) Regulations, 2018, for edible vegetable oils, including rice bran oil.

The food safety regulator also flagged Gemini Edibles for selling food products through its own e-commerce website without appearing to hold a valid central licence covering e-commerce activity.

The companies have been directed to show cause why action should not be initiated against them under the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006. Separately, FSSAI suspended DNV Food Products' licence with immediate effect after finding that food was being manufactured, packed and stored under unhygienic conditions. The licence of food business operator Jhanvittanni was also cancelled after the firm was found to be operating despite an earlier suspension. FSSAI said the corrective measures submitted by the company were unsatisfactory and several violations remained unaddressed.

FOOD SAFETY CONCERNS

- Licence of Jhanvittanni cancelled for continued non-compliance with food safety rules and regulations
- Licence of DNV Food Products suspended for violations related to hygiene, sanitation and storage
- Gemini Edibles & Fats India served notice for selling products through own website without valid licence

Delhi Radisson Blu served notice over hygiene lapses

FSSAI ISSUED AN improvement notice to Radisson Blu Hotel, Delhi, flagging poor sanitation, pest activity, inadequate food procurement checks and improper segregation of food items. The hotel has been directed to undertake corrective measures and submit a detailed action-taken report. "Failure to comply could lead to further action, including suspension of its licence," FSSAI said in a social media post. The food safety regulator also noted inadequate cleaning and sanitisation, stagnant water, and problems with drainage and food waste. —FE BUREAU

Audi sees growth revival in 2027: India head

● New Q3 launched starting at ₹51.99L

AKBAR MERCHANT
Mumbai, October 16

AUDI INDIA EXPECTS its sales to remain broadly flat in 2026, with growth likely to return from 2027 as currency depreciation and the resulting price increases weigh on luxury car affordability. In an interview with FE at the launch of the new Q3 in the country, Balbir Singh Dhillon, head of Audi India, said, "2026 is a transitional year for us. We expect sales for the full year to remain broadly flat, with growth anticipated from 2027."

The new Audi Q3 launch is part of a wider portfolio renewal planned over the coming years

Despite the challenging environment, customer interest remains encouraging for Audi. September recorded the company's second-highest monthly sales figure in the first nine months of 2026, while the launch of the all-new Audi Q3 has strengthened its festive-season outlook, according to Dhillon. The new Q3 SUV was launched with a starting price of ₹51.99 lakh ex-showroom.

"The broader luxury car market continues to offer significant long-term potential, supported by rising aspirations and replacement demand. However, sharp currency depreciation and the resulting price increases are creating pressure on affordability and customer demand," he added.

The Q3 has been central to Audi's near-term strategy with as many as 26,000 units sold in India to date. The latest generation SUV combines updated design, digital technology and quattro all-wheel drive, according to Dhillon. "The response so far has been encouraging and we have a very good order bank ahead of deliveries," Singh said, adding that the model would help attract fresh customers and encourage existing Audi owners to upgrade. The Q3 launch is part of a wider portfolio renewal planned over the coming years. Audi has scheduled the A5 sedan for launch in the first half of 2027 and the Q9 flagship SUV for the second half of the year. The Q9 will expand the company's presence in the D-SUV segment, sitting above the Q7 and targeting customers seeking a larger, more luxurious SUV.

EXPERTS ALSO EXPECT GREATER PARTICIPATION

Sebi's CAS changes may curb volatility

KUSHAN SHAH
Mumbai, October 16

THE SECURITIES AND Exchange Board of India's (Sebi) decision to revert to the earlier method of determining settlement prices of index and stock derivatives on expiry days is expected to reduce volatility and encourage greater market participation, experts said.

From December 7, 2026, settlement prices of expiring derivatives will be determined using the volume-weighted average price (VWAP) during the last 30 minutes of continuous trading, rather than prices discovered during the closing auction session (CAS).

The move is expected to address the issue of sharp price swings during the auction that had led to lower participation and losses for option writers and traders.

In a report, brokerage firm Jefferies said the return to the 30-minute VWAP method would reduce volatility in CAS and benefit brokers, whose order volumes have remained below pre-CAS levels. However, it cautioned that the earnings upside for exchanges could be limited even if premium turnover returns to earlier levels.

Hemang Gor, senior research analyst – derivatives and technical research, Axis Direct, said decoupling derivatives settlement from CAS would reduce artificial "auction shocks" while ensuring market continuity. Aligning the end of trading in expiring index derivatives with the start of CAS would also help stabilise execution.

"This continuous 30-minute window naturally absorbs massive institutional block trades, preventing the sudden, erratic premium spikes that plagued the 10-minute auction mechanism," he said.

However, Gor cautioned that volatility could persist if aggressive trading in underlying stocks during the final 30 minutes of continuous trading influences VWAP and, consequently, derivatives premiums.

Market participants would also have to manage the divergence between CAS-based closing prices in the cash market and continuous trading-based settlement prices in the derivatives market, he added.

Kamlesh Shroff, president of the Association of NSE Members of India (ANMI), welcomed the changes, calling them a constructive step. He said the decision to use the 30-minute VWAP for derivatives settlement was particularly positive as it addressed concerns over potential price manipulation.

To improve liquidity, Sebi has also allowed unexecuted iceberg and limit orders to be carried forward from continuous trading into CAS.

Gor said the changes could deepen the order book, particularly for retail and proprietary traders, improve price discovery and stabilise indicative equilibrium prices (IEP).

However, he expects the increase in CAS volumes to be moderate rather than substantial, given the restrictions on execution priority for carried-forward orders.

Institutional investors, particularly large funds, may choose to opt out of carrying forward iceberg orders because of their lower execution priority and disclosure requirements. This could limit liquidity gains as institutions seek to protect their trading strategies.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- From Dec 7, settlement prices of expiring derivatives will be determined using the volume-weighted avg price during last 30 mins of continuous trading
- The move is expected to address sharp price swings issue during the auction
- Return to the 30-min VWAP method would reduce volatility in CAS and benefit brokers, said Jefferies
- Participants will also have to manage the divergence between CAS-based closing prices in cash market and continuous trading-based settlement prices

Q2 RESULTS

PNB profit climbs 12.8%, credit growth outlook raised to 13-14%

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, October 16

PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK (PNB) on Friday reported its highest-ever quarterly net profit of ₹5,532 crore for the September quarter, up 12.8% year-on-year, aided by higher interest income and improving asset quality. Net interest income rose 10.8% to ₹11,601 crore, while operating profit grew 4.2% to ₹7,532 crore.

The domestic net interest margin (NIM) improved to 2.74% from 2.64% in the preceding quarter, while global NIM rose to 2.58% from 2.50%. The management expects global margins to reach around 2.7% by the end of FY27.

Other incomes declined 17% on year to ₹3,601 crore. The bank raised its credit growth outlook for FY27 to 13-14% from 12-13%, supported by a strong corporate loan pipeline and healthy demand across the retail, agriculture and MSME segments.

The public sector lender expects its net interest margins to improve by 6-7 basis points in the October-December quarter following the Reserve Bank of India's recent 25-basis-point hike in repo rate. "We earlier gave a credit growth guidance of 12-13% for the current financial year. Now, I am expecting that to be somewhere around 13-14%," MD and CEO Ashok Chandra said during the post-earnings media interaction.

Despite the recent policy rate increase, PNB does not plan to immediately raise deposit rates, citing comfortable liquidity and adequate headroom for credit expansion. "We are not in a hurry to raise the deposit rate. As of now, we are quite comfortable," the management said.

Global advances grew 14.7% year-on-year to ₹13.41 lakh crore, while deposits increased 9.9% to ₹17.77 lakh crore. Its credit-deposit ratio stood at 75.5%.

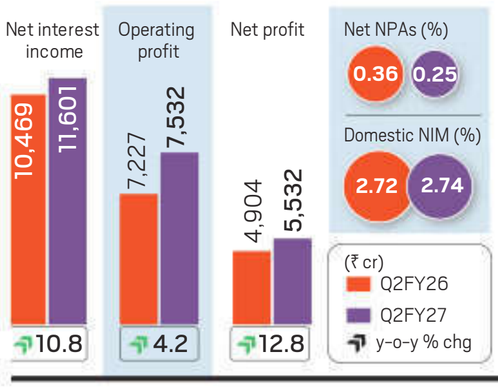

The bank has a corporate credit pipeline of ₹1.58 lakh crore. It expects retail credit growth to accelerate to 17-18% during the festive quarter. It is also planning a campaign to promote recurring deposits amid volatility in equity markets.

The gross non-performing asset ratio declined to 2.55% from 3.45% a year earlier, while the net NPA ratio improved to 0.25% from 0.36%.

However, agricultural loan slippages increased by around ₹150 crore during Q2. The management said it would strengthen monitoring and customer engagement, rather than curbing agricultural lending, despite concerns surrounding El Nino and rural cash flows.

Strong NII, lower NPA power Federal Bank profit in Q2

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, October 16

FEDERAL BANK ON Friday reported a 45% year-on-year (YoY) jump in its net profit to Rs 1,386 crore for the quarter ended September, aided by a steady growth in net interest income and an improvement in the asset quality. Bloomberg estimated the bank to post ₹1,270-crore net profit.

Net interest income (NII) rose 26% YoY to Rs 3,153 crore, higher than the Bloomberg estimate of Rs 3,091 crore. Net interest margin (NIM) improved to 3.32% from 3.06% a year ago, although it remained largely stable compared with 3.33% in the preceding quarter.

MD and CEO KVS Manian said while FCNR(B) deposits would have some impact on margins, the bank is confident of maintaining its margin trajectory.

Federal Bank mobilised $1.5 billion through the FCNR(B) window. These funds are being deployed towards lending as well as replacing relatively expensive deposits. The retail loan portfolio includes Rs 9,438 crore of loans against FCNR deposits.

On inorganic growth opportunities, Manian said the lender is exploring investment opportunities across financial services, including the core banking and universal banking segments. However, he refrained from commenting on reports that Federal is in advanced talks with Jana Small Finance Bank for an acquisition.

On the business front, net advances grew 22% year-on-year to Rs 2.98 lakh crore, while deposits increased 19% to Rs 3.43 lakh crore. CASA deposits rose 23% to Rs 1.09 lakh crore, with the CASA ratio improving to 32.04%.

Gold loans grew 37% year-on-year to Rs 44,242 crore, while the corporate banking portfolio expanded 17% to Rs 1.05 lakh crore. Management said the bank would continue focusing on medium-yielding assets, including gold loans, commercial banking, credit cards, loans against property and commercial vehicle financing. However, it is maintaining a cautious approach towards agricultural lending amid concerns over deficient rainfall and El Niño conditions.

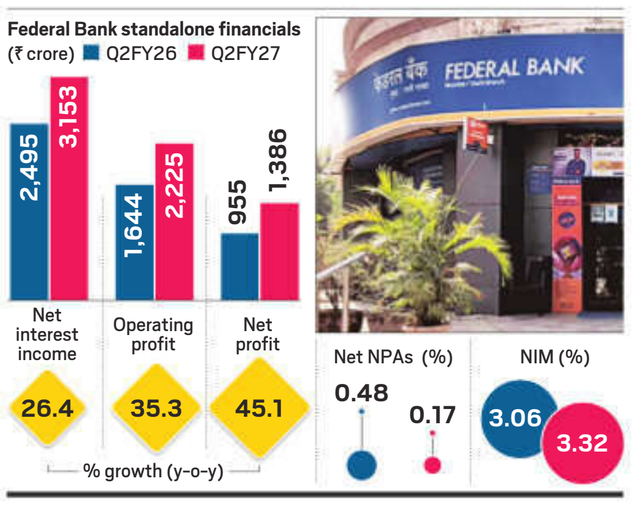

"As of now, our portfolio is not showing any signs of stress or any specific signs of stress to call out," Manian said.

Asset quality continued to improve, with the gross non-performing asset (GNPA) ratio declining to 1.32% from 1.83% a year ago, while the net NPA ratio fell to 0.17% from 0.48%. Both ratios were at their lowest levels in a decade, the management said.

KVB raises FY27 credit guidance to 18-20%

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, October 16

KARUR VYSYA BANK (KVB) has raised its credit growth guidance for the current fiscal to 18-20%, from its earlier projection of 17-18%, as it expects strong demand across lending segments.

The lender targets to maintain its net interest margin (NIM) above 4%, despite possible pricing pressure as banks look to deploy funds raised through the special foreign currency deposit window. "We have revised our credit growth estimate to 18-20% this year because there is traction on the ground," MD and CEO Ramesh Babu B said during a post-earnings media interaction on Friday.

The bank has front-loaded loan growth in the first two quarters to avoid competition and aggressive pricing towards the end of the financial year. "We do not want to compete in that cluttered market," Babu said.

He said the bank remains confident of maintaining NIM above 4%, compared with 4.34% reported in the September quarter. However, competition could intensify over the next one or two quarters as banks deploy funds mobilised through the FCNR(B) window.

Best weekly gain for IT index in 18 yrs

KISHOR KADAM
Mumbai, October 16

THE BENCHMARK EQUITY indices gained nearly 3% during the week, marking their strongest performance in six months, driven largely by a sharp rally in IT stocks.

Easing crude oil prices, appreciation in the rupee, expectations of a review of long-term capital gains (LTCG) tax and securities transaction tax (STT), and optimism over an early conclusion of the India-US trade deal also boosted investor sentiment.

Extending gains for the second consecutive session on Friday, the Sensex rose 413.66 points, or 0.56%, to close at 74,729.27, while the Nifty advanced 148.80 points, or 0.65%, to settle at 23,146.15.

On a weekly basis, the Sensex and Nifty surged 3.11% and 2.78%, respectively. The Nifty IT index rallied 11.72% during the week, marking its steepest weekly gain in 18 years, since April 2008.

However, broader market indices underperformed the benchmarks, with the Nifty Midcap 100 posting a modest 0.58% gain and the Nifty Smallcap 100 declining 0.12% during the week.

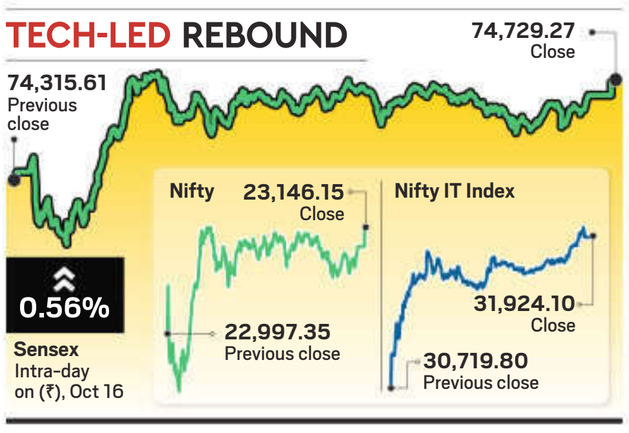

"Indian equities staged a firm recovery this week despite inflation concerns weighing on sentiment early on, as higher inflation pushed benchmark bond yields to multi-year highs, reviving fears of further monetary tightening. While the RBI's move to raise the daily cash reserve ratio (CRR) maintenance requirement to absorb surplus liquidity added to the caution, sentiment improved steadily as the central bank's special dollar window for oil marketing companies and tighter hedging norms drove a rebound in the rupee," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Investments.

Expectations of a review of LTCG tax and STT, softer crude prices and easing bond yields further revived risk appetite, Nair added.

Investors' wealth increased by ₹7.30 lakh crore during the week, including a gain of ₹1.55 lakh crore on Friday. Leading IT stocks contributed nearly Rs 2.75 lakh crore to the increase in market capitalisation during the week. Foreign portfolio investors sold shares worth ₹3,517.73 crore, while domestic institutional investors bought shares worth ₹7,812.81 crore during the period.

Fairfax to rope in Sukthankar, Parekh as advisers to IDBI

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, October 16

FAIRFAX FINANCIAL HOLDINGS is set to appoint banking industry veterans Deepak Parekh and Paresh Sukthankar as advisers to IDBI Bank, said Chairman & Chief Executive Officer V Prem Watsa in an analyst call.

"We benefit greatly from having Deepak Parekh, former Chairman of HDFC Limited and the founder of HDFC, and Paresh Sukthankar, former Deputy Managing Director of HDFC Bank, as our advisors," Watsa said. In addition, they also plan to bring in CVR Rajendran, former CEO of CSB Bank, as another advisor.

This follows the Cabinet's approval on Wednesday for the sale of a 60.72% stake in IDBI Bank to a subsidiary of Fairfax Financial Holdings for ₹52,878.08 crore. The transaction is the largest foreign direct investment in India's financial sector.

Deepak Parekh

Paresh Sukthankar

"Rakesh has done a superb job and will continue as CEO. We will add to the bank's Board N.S. Kannan, who is the former Managing Director and CEO of ICICI Prudential Life, and former Executive Director and CFO of ICICI Bank, as he will be Chairman of IDBI Bank, subject to RBI approval," Watsa added.

The IDBI Bank acquisition leaves Fairfax with a regulatory challenge over CSB Bank, in which it owns about 40%, as Reserve Bank of India rules do not permit a promoter to control two banking licenses. Asked about its plans, Watsa said they would examine the options.

"The RBI has given us two years to make a decision as to what we do. So we're going to look at all of that. There's lots of time for it, and we'll make a decision at the time, and we'll let you know when we make the decision."

In a press release on Thursday, Fairfax said it plans to bring Go Digit and IIFL Capital Servies under IDBI Bank.

Watsa expects all transactions to be completed by the first quarter of 2027. "But it could happen sooner, too, but we are just waiting for all of that. We are working through the regulatory bodies. And so we expect the process to go as quickly as it can."

IMF CHIEF URGES COOPERATION AMID AI, WAR RISKS

THE HEAD OF the IMF Kristalina Georgieva, on Friday appealed to global leaders to cooperate in the face of multiple economic risks, including rapid advances in AI and a prolonged war in West Asia, as Washington hailed what it sees as US-led economic momentum. Their contrasting views echoed throughout this year's annual meetings of IMF and World Bank in Bangkok, as finance officials and central bankers from around the world took stock of a global economy rocked by high inflation and rising interest rates that have kept growth sluggish and increased inequality. The IMF on Tuesday raised its global growth forecast to 3.1% in 2026, well below the historical average, as it flagged significant growth and financial stability risks from a potential ending of the AI investment boom, growing debt levels and the ongoing West Asia conflict.

Tesla launches Roadster at SpaceX site in latest merger hint

ABHIRUP ROY & MRINMAY DEY
San Francisco, October 16

TESLA UNVEILED A redesigned Roadster powered with rocket-style thrusters on Thursday and said it would start production in 2028, more than a decade after it first showed a next-generation version of its electric sports car. The white two-seater vehicle, developed in collaboration with CEO Elon Musk's rocket company SpaceX, drove upside down on a ramp using a suction system, turned in the air and landed using built-in thrusters.

Some watchers saw the collaboration as Musk drumming up interest in a merger of the two big companies he controls, an idea he has explored by discussing their overlap.

The reveal gives Tesla a showpiece car after years of missed Roadster deadlines, but it comes as the company shifts its focus to self-driving technology and robotics, and days before third-quarter results that analysts say matter more to investors.

"It was an engineering flex with no commercial value beyond embarrassing traditional car makers," Gene Munster, managing partner at Tesla investor Deepwater Asset Management, said on X.

"The Roadster event is the latest example of why Elon can't wait to bring (Tesla) and (SpaceX) together," Munster said.

Musk has played down the car's importance to Tesla's finances, describing it in 2023 as a "small potato situation" that would not "move the needle in a major way financially." But the car still carries symbolic weight.

Musk and other executives did not specify any target prices at Thursday's event, although Tesla nearly a decade ago quoted a base price of $200,000 for the vehicle.

Tesla's reservation page for the Roadster after Thursday's event showed a "Performance" version of the vehicle requiring a $50,000 deposit and a "Thrust" version with "acceleration thrusters" requiring a $250,000 deposit. A "Rocket" variant, which Tesla says is "invite only," is described as a single-seat model with a "full flight system."

The event at a SpaceX test site in McGregor, Texas, had all the elements of a classic Musk product reveal: dramatic music, smoke, mechanical hissing sounds and a launch countdown.

"This is the culmination of incredible work by Tesla and SpaceX engineers working closely together to make something that you haven't seen in any movie," Musk, wearing a silver Western-style belt buckle emblazoned with the Tesla logo, told a cheering crowd of enthusiasts and investors.

The Roadster can accelerate from zero to 60 mph (97 kph) in less than one second and can hit a top speed of over 230 mph (370 kph), Tesla vehicle engineering chief Lars Moravy said.

"Definitely much faster than that," an excited Musk said. "I think you've got to crack halfway to the speed of sound."

The Roadster can also travel over 480 km on a single charge. That is less than half of what Musk promised in 2017, when Tesla first revealed a prototype of the second-generation Roadster and said deliveries would begin in 2020. —REUTERS

CARMAKERS SEEK HIGHER-MARGIN GROWTH USING LATEST TECH

Chinese automakers target premium car market in EU

NICK CAREY & CHRISTINA AMANN
Paris, October 16

CHINA'S AUTOMAKERS ARE betting European drivers will embrace a new form of premium motoring centred on technology rather than heritage, with brands such as Changan's Avatr and BYD's Denza pitching what they call "intelligent luxury". Having rapidly gained share in Europe's mainstream car market with affordable models and the latest tech, Chinese carmakers now have their sights on a bigger prize: the continent's highly lucrative premium segment.

At last week's Paris car show, Chinese brands showcased premium vehicles packed with advanced driver-assistance systems, rapid charging and comfort features, hoping to persuade buyers to choose unfamiliar Chinese badges over established luxury names.

With domestic vehicle sales in China falling 20% in 1HFY26 and competition intensifying, Chinese automakers increasingly need the margins that premium vehicles can deliver.

Europe's premium segment is dominated by BMW, Mercedes-Benz and Volkswagen's Audi, whose decades of brand heritage carry far more weight with European buyers than they do in China, where consumers place greater emphasis on technology features.

With domestic vehicle sales in China falling 20% in the first half of 2026 and competition intensifying, Chinese automakers increasingly need the margins that premium vehicles can deliver. —REUTERS

China moves to boost stocks with selling curbs

CHINA MOVED TO stabilise its equity market by urging companies and state funds to buy shares while guiding some investors to curb selling, people familiar with the matter said.

Financial regulators held a meeting to discuss stabilisation measures for the stock market, sources said, asking not to be identified discussing private deliberations. Authorities also issued window guidance to several major insurers, instructing them to report equity holdings, refrain from locking in losses on underwater positions, and align investment decisions with broader economic goals, according to people familiar with the matter.

Meanwhile, regulators are calling on the so-called national team to accelerate stock purchases, the people said. —BLOOMBERG

Warsh boosts bets on Fed rate hold in Oct

FEDERAL RESERVE CHAIRMAN Kevin Warsh did nothing to dispel market expectations that the US central bank will hold interest rates steady when it meets at the end of the month.

In a discussion on Friday in Bangkok at the IMF's annual meetings, Warsh made no remarks on monetary policy or his outlook for the US economy, apart from reiterating that the Fed will deliver price stability.

"We made very clear that we would deliver price stability, and we removed a dose of accommodation about a month ago," Warsh said. "I don't prejudge meetings. I don't believe in saying now what I might do at the meetings that we have in the balance of this year."

Investors pared their bets for a rate hike at the central bank's October 27-28 policy gathering. The odds, which were hovering around 27% before Warsh spoke, dropped below 15% following his remarks. "It was clear that he wasn't going to deliver anything that the market could latch on to as hawkish," Derek Tang, an economist at Monetary Policy Analytics, said.

The Fed raised interest rates by 25 bps in September, the first hike since 2023, with another hike expected this year.

Warsh said on Friday that "the world has broadly conformed to our expectations" since the last meeting of Federal Open Market Committee in September. A few key officials in recent weeks reiterated that additional rate hikes may be needed, but emphasized they have time to gather economic data before acting again.

"Alongside other recent comments from FOMC participants, Warsh's comments indicate that the FOMC is set to pause in October," Goldman Sachs Group economists led by Jan Hatzius wrote in a note, adding that they expect a final hike in December.

Warsh repeated his bullish views on AI, calling it the most important innovation in the global economy during his lifetime. But he also warned that it may be driving demand in the near term. —BLOOMBERG

Iran ships some LPG, jet fuel despite US blockade

FERAS DALATEY AND JONATHAN SAUL
Damascus/London, October 16

DEFYING ODDS

- US military maintains a blockade of Iran's ports
- Iranian crude exports at virtual standstill in past weeks
- Iran explores ways to get other shipments out, sources say

IRAN HAS MANAGED to export some liquefied petroleum gas and jet fuel since July, despite a US naval blockade, shipping intelligence showed and people involved in security said. Tehran has in recent weeks been concealing such cargoes among a growing volume of ship-to-ship transfers by other Gulf producers off Oman, four people in maritime security who track Gulf oil movements told Reuters.

The Iranian exports and methodology are reported for the first time here. While a fraction of its former energy exports, the cargoes are rare evidence of petroleum products getting through a blockade that has halted Iran's crude exports.

Analysis by US advocacy group United Against Nuclear Iran (UANI), which monitors Iran-related tanker traffic using ship and satellite tracking, shows at least eight gas tankers carrying Iranian LPG have left the Gulf of Oman since mid-July. Six of the eight gas tankers and the jet fuel tanker are under US sanctions for transporting Iranian petroleum and petrochemical products, a Reuters analysis showed. —REUTERS

Zelenskyy calls Russian peace moves a 'parody'

LILI BAYER, ANDREW GRAY & YULIIA DYSA
Brussels/Kyiv, October 16

UKRAINIAN PRESIDENT VOLODYMYR Zelenskyy took aim on Friday at US President Donald Trump's diesel deal with Russia and welcomed the prospect of European allies stepping up their role in talks, calling Moscow's stance a "parody" of peace negotiations.

At a European Union summit in Brussels, Zelenskyy said Russia did not want peace. He added that Ukraine was still experiencing disruptions to the SpaceX Starshield satellite system used for battlefield operations and to down Russian drones attacking cities far from the frontline.

EU leaders rallied around Zelenskyy after Trump again criticised Ukraine, calling its strikes on Russian refineries a "disgrace". On arriving at the summit, Zelenskyy pointedly referred to his counterparts there as "real leaders".

The EU was hosting Zelenskyy at one of the most difficult moments for Ukraine, with missiles and drones raining down on Ukrainian cities and fears that the US could pull back intelligence sharing and weapons support from Kyiv.

Nevertheless, Zelenskyy's tone suggests he has little intention of softening his stance towards the US. Asked at a press conference whether he felt he was being used as a scapegoat by Trump for high energy prices and the trajectory of the Iran war, Zelenskyy paused for a long time, smiled, and said "this is my answer", to laughter in the room.

Trump blindsided Zelenskyy last weekend by announcing that Ukraine and Russia had agreed not to target each other's energy facilities. Facing US midterm elections in November, Trump blamed Ukrainian strikes on Russian refineries for pushing up energy prices that could cost him at the ballot box. His diesel deal with Russia angered Ukraine and European allies.

"And now we can see how cash will start flowing back into Russia through the diesel deal," Zelenskyy said on the sidelines of the summit. "This diesel deal will never be enough to offset the impact of the Strait of Hormuz on global markets. But it will put more money straight into Putin's pocket to fund this war." —REUTERS

China's non-tariff barriers hurdle to bilateral trade, says Sitharaman

FOR A DECADE, India has consistently sought market access for its products without success. "China uses non-tariff barriers without hesitation, whether in the name of phytosanitary measures or other restrictions," she said. These issues could be addressed through proper investigations and discussions between the two sides, but no progress had been made, she added.

India prefers dialogue to resolve its growing trade imbalance with China rather than imposing punitive measures, she said. While some countries threaten countermeasures to correct trade imbalances, India favours negotiations over countervailing duties or retaliatory non-tariff barriers.

China defended its trade ties with India, saying it never deliberately pursues a trade surplus. "We are willing to strengthen cooperation with the Indian side, address each other's economic and trade concerns in a balanced manner, and advance the sustained development of bilateral relations," Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning said at a briefing on Friday.

Recently, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said India was "working to develop the relationship with China once again, but the last word has not yet been scripted on this journey". He added that India was open to deeper economic engagement with China, but only on fair terms. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar has also raised concerns over economic issues with China, describing the trade balance as "extremely one-sided" and "tilted".

On the proposed trade deal with the US, Sitharaman noted that Goyal had recently said the government expected and hoped to sign the agreement soon. Negotiations were ongoing. "I hope that, in the interests of global trade and trade between the two partners, India and the United States, the agreement will be concluded at the earliest," she said.

The finance minister said India was promoting rupee and local-currency settlements to help countries continue importing essential goods despite foreign currency shortages. "One approach India is pursuing is to facilitate settlements in rupees for countries importing goods from us. We are working to make such arrangements possible so that trade can continue," she said.

On reforms, she said the Union government was pursuing systemic changes to achieve Viksit Bharat 2047 and attract global investment. The announcement of a strategic sale of around 60% in IDBI Bank had led to international investor Fairfax acquiring nearly 60% of its shares, she said.

The government aims to open markets and government-owned companies to fresh capital, she added.

EV demand tops output, pressures supply chains

"WHILE INVENTORIES REMAIN lean, with demand outpacing supplies, we are working closely with our subsystem suppliers to increase supply and support deliveries through the festive period," Amit Kamat, chief commercial officer at TMPV, said.

The company has more than doubled its monthly EV production capacity to over 16,000 units from around 7,500-8,000 units last year. However, Managing Director and CEO Shailesh Chandra said in September that supplier capacity remained a constraint on further expansion. A similar squeeze is visible in electric two-wheelers. Ather Energy plans to increase annual production capacity from 420,000 units to 920,000 units with the commissioning of its AURIC facility in Maharashtra. Yet, waiting periods have stretched to two months or more in some states, while dealer inventory has fallen to less than a week from around 15 days earlier.

Hero MotoCorp is also expanding monthly EV capacity from 30,000 units in early August to a targeted 45,000 by the end of FY27, having started the current financial year at 15,000 units. Its channel inventory stood at just two to three days in early August. Bajaj Auto, meanwhile, plans to raise electric two-wheeler capacity from 50,000 units to 60,000 a month through productivity improvements and higher vendor output.

The constraints extend beyond manufacturing facilities. Automakers have flagged China's restrictions on critical components, including rare-earth materials used in motors, alongside higher costs and delays linked to geopolitical tensions in West Asia. Maruti Suzuki has commissioned a dedicated facility with annual capacity of 250,000 units for its e Vitara electric SUV, while TVS Motor has outlined broader manufacturing expansion plans. However, additional capacity alone may not resolve component shortages.

Chandra has said EV penetration has risen to around 8% from 4.5% last year and could reach double digits next financial year, making the industry's ability to secure supplies and ramp up production critical to sustaining growth.

Russia takes over more EU assets

RUSSIA HAS SEIZED control of the local assets of four companies from France, Germany, Sweden and Belgium, according to a decree by President Vladimir Putin, in retaliation for Europe's wartime support for Ukraine.

Thursday's decree listed assets belonging to French flooring maker Tarkett, German packaging maker Menshen, Swedish packaging maker Sverige International Holdings and Belgian hygiene product company Ontex. The decree also listed Russian assets of former European metal-packaging business Eviosys acquired by US-based Sonoco in December 2024. The decree listed the assets as owned by Sonoco's Dutch unit. Rules before rescue

Yes Bank judgment underlines why financial stability cannot come at the expense of legal certainty

THE SUPREME COURT'S decision to uphold the quashing of the ₹8,415-crore write-off of Yes Bank's Additional Tier 1 (AT1) bonds raises questions beyond affected investors. The fundamental principle is that the urgency of rescuing a troubled bank cannot override the legal framework governing that rescue. AT1 bonds are designed to absorb losses when banks face severe financial stress. Their holders accept higher risks in exchange for higher returns and cannot claim the protection available to depositors. But the authority to impose losses must flow from enforceable contractual provisions, applicable regulations, and a legally valid resolution process. The judgment does not guarantee AT1 investors protection. Rather, it reinforces the proposition that even extraordinary regulatory interventions must remain within the boundaries of law.

The write-off explains why the ruling matters. The draft reconstruction scheme had contemplated extinguishing the bonds, but the final scheme approved in March 2020 omitted that provision. The bank's administrator nevertheless proceeded with the write-off. The Supreme Court upheld the Bombay High Court's finding that the action exceeded the administrator's authority. This was a judgment about legal competence and procedure, not an assertion that AT1 instruments cannot be written down. If investors interpret the verdict as an assurance against losses, the purpose of such capital instruments would be defeated. Banks would face greater difficulties raising genuine loss-absorbing capital, while expectations of judicial protection could weaken market discipline. Equally, regulators cannot invoke financial stability as a substitute for statutory authority. A rescue that succeeds operationally but fails legally merely transfers the crisis into the courts.

The financial consequences reveal competing interests. Yes Bank has indicated that reinstating the bonds could reduce its Common Equity Tier 1 capital ratio by about 250 basis points on a pro forma basis, although its overall Tier 1 ratio would remain unchanged at 14%. The decision therefore creates a capital-management challenge for a bank that has spent years rebuilding its balance sheet. But these costs cannot retrospectively legitimise an unlawful action. The court's criticism of supervisory failures preceding the bank's collapse deserves attention. The Reserve Bank of India's responsibility extends beyond managing a crisis after confidence evaporates; timely supervision and corrective intervention are essential to preventing one. A regulatory framework that permits weaknesses to accumulate and then relies on exceptional measures during a rescue invites precisely the uncertainty now exposed. Both regulatory discretion and regulatory accountability must operate within clearly defined boundaries.

India needs a more credible bank-resolution framework. Rules governing creditor hierarchy, triggers for loss absorption, valuation, allocation of losses, and the powers of resolution authorities should be unambiguous before a bank encounters distress. Investors must know what risks they bear, regulators must know what actions they can lawfully take, and courts should not have to resolve fundamental questions years after a rescue. Transparent procedures would protect depositors without inadvertently insulating sophisticated investors from legitimate losses. They would also reduce uncertainty for shareholders and potential rescuers, whose willingness to commit fresh capital depends on predictable treatment of existing claims. The Yes Bank episode demonstrates that preserving financial stability and respecting legal rights are not competing objectives. Both are indispensable to confidence in banking. Protecting contractual rights does not eliminate investment risk; it makes that risk enforceable on known terms. Such clarity is essential to the credibility of resolution. The essential principle is straightforward: Rules must govern rescues, not be rewritten by them.

WAVE OF FOREIGN CAPITAL INTO INDIAN BANKING REFLECTS CONFIDENCE IN INDIA's CREDIT GROWTH

Fairfax-IDBI: A landmark deal

ASHVIN PAREKH

Managing Partner, Ashvin Parekh Advisory Services LLP

THE CABINET'S APPROVAL of Fairfax Financial Holdings as the strategic buyer of a 60.72% stake in IDBI Bank is more than the end of a long privatisation saga. At ₹52,878 crore (about $5.6 billion), it is the largest foreign investment in India's financial sector, arriving after Emirates NBD's move on RBL Bank and SMBC's stake in Yes Bank. It tells the world that Indian banking is open to serious, long-term capital. It also hands Fairfax one of the most demanding turnaround assignments in Indian finance.

In this article, we discuss the search by DIPAM (Department of Investment and Public Asset Management), a bank that has potential for transformation, the question of pricing the deal, the aspect to address Fairfax's two-point presence in Indian banking (CSB and now IDBI Bank), the aspect of further funding required to transform the bank, deposits and the brand, and the question of governance.

IDBI has been looking for a committed owner for roughly seven years, since LIC took control in 2018-19. The formal divestment began in October 2022, and there were false dawns along the way, including speculation about Kotak Mahindra Bank. That the government and LIC have now sold 30.48% and 30.24% respectively, with a clear buyer and clear terms, is an achievement in itself.

Fairfax is not buying a distressed asset. In the June 2026 quarter, IDBI earned ₹2,115 crore, with gross non-performing assets (NPAs) at 2.30%, net NPAs at 0.16%, return on assets at 1.89%, and capital adequacy close to 27%. Advances grew 22%, the CASA (current account and savings account) ratio stands at 43.64%, and the book is weighted 70:30 towards retail. IDBI is legally a private bank, yet its culture is still that of a public sector institution. That gap between the balance sheet and the organisation is where Fairfax's opportunity lies.

Fairfax will pay ₹81 a share, a 23% premium to book value and above the government's benchmark of ₹75.99. It is also about 11% below the ₹90.4 at which the stock closed on approval day. At roughly 1.23 times the book, for a bank with a return on equity near 14.8%, the entry price looks lean beside listed peers trading between about 1.8 and 2.8 times book. The state has not walked away entirely: the government and LIC retain 34%, so they share in any re-rating. The mandatory open offer must be priced at ₹81 or the 60-day average, whichever is higher. Good entry pricing is a head start, and Fairfax will still have to earn the returns.

> For Fairfax, the opportunity is rare: a profitable, well-capitalised bank with a national footprint, bought at a sensible price, with room to grow

Fairfax must merge or exit CSB Bank within two years of signing, and has reportedly committed to IDBI being its only bank. Its 2019 entry into CSB was a landmark, the first time the RBI allowed a single private investor to take majority control of a bank, and CSB is growing: its first-quarter profit rose 27% to ₹150 crore and advances grew 24%. Yet its return on assets is 1.09% and its CASA ratio is only 19%, well below IDBI's. Merging technology, people, branches, and culture is demanding even in normal times, and it will compete for management attention just when IDBI's own transformation begins.

The consideration goes to the government and LIC, not to IDBI's balance sheet. Unlike Emirates NBD's primary infusion into RBL, Fairfax's cheque adds nothing to IDBI's capital. Fairfax plans to fund the purchase from cash, credit lines, and possible asset sales, so capital for the transformation will have to come on top.

There are strong mitigants. IDBI's capital adequacy of 26.92% leaves real headroom, and its earnings run-rate is substantial. Fairfax also proposes to contribute Digit Life, Digit General, and IIFL Capital to the bank, though these need RBI and insurance-regulator approvals and the bank acquisition can proceed without them. The longer-term constraint is structural: voting rights are capped at 26%, and after a five-year lock-in Fairfax has 15 years to bring its holding down to that level. Future capital raising will dilute it. The tighter constraint may be liquidity. With the credit-deposit ratio at 79.5% and advances growing at more than twice the pace of deposits, funding could bind before capital does. Then again, as a part of the deal Fairfax has committed to retain the existing manpower and also meet all the liability associated with the employees including their pension.

In conclusion, the deal is likely to be a precursor. Media commentary suggests it could open a new chapter in the privatisation of state-controlled banks, although I am not aware of any official announcement of public sector bank stakes being offered to overseas investors. The wave of foreign capital into Indian banking, from Emirates NBD and SMBC to Fairfax, reflects confidence in India's credit growth and in the regulatory framework.

For Fairfax, the opportunity is rare: a profitable, well-capitalised bank with a national footprint, bought at a sensible price, with room to grow. Success will depend on executing the CSB consolidation, funding growth without diluting returns, holding deposits through the ownership change, and renewing governance. If it delivers, IDBI could become one of India's leading private banks, and the deal will be remembered as the template for what comes next.

Our next revolution must be at the 'frontier'

SRINATH SRIDHARAN

Author, corporate adviser, and independent director on corporate boards X: @ssmumbai

AI, quantum, space, and resilient supply chains are becoming the new frontiers of strategic autonomy

FOR CENTURIES, SOVEREIGNTY was largely a question of territory. A nation that controlled its borders, defended its land, and governed through its institutions was considered sovereign. That is being tested by a world where technology shapes economies, platforms shape behaviour and narratives, supply chains shape resilience, compute and chips shape industrial power, satellites shape connectivity and defence, and access to energy, water, and critical minerals shapes strategic choice. Geopolitics and geoeconomics are converging, making digital sovereignty inseparable from economic and national security.

Indian digital public infrastructure has demonstrated an ability to build at extraordinary scale. The space programme has delivered difficult missions with remarkable efficiency and lower costs. But we can't keep patting ourselves on the back for these achievements or invoke jugaad as though ingenuity alone can bridge the frontier technological gap. The actual race requires deep science, sustained R&D, patient capital, and the ability to build technologies that others have not yet perfected.

AI is the clearest warning. India has deeptech talent but not at scale, willing entrepreneurs but not the required deep risk capital, and a vast domestic market that trades its data for cheering the convenience economy. Critical layers of the global AI ecosystem remain concentrated elsewhere, including advanced chips, frontier models, hyperscale computing, foundational research, intellectual property, and long-term capital. Quantum computing presents a similar challenge.

The harder reality is that India remains a global middle power, even if we prefer to call ourselves a power in the middle. We are competing against an American system that has spent decades combining deep R&D, vast private capital, frontier innovation, and state-backed geopolitical power, and a Chinese system that has pursued equally deliberate investment in education, research, industrial scale, and strategic technologies, with little ambiguity about its global power ambitions.

These frontier technologies will disrupt global networks, society and the institutions through which societies collaborate. Synthetic media can blur information and manipulation. Autonomous systems can shift responsibility between humans and machines. Quantum computing could transform encryption and the security architecture of states.

That should create urgency. Frontier capability is built over decades through experimentation, failure, and persistence, and India needs to confront an uncomfortable weakness in its foundations. Our education and scientific institutions have produced few outliers and important national capabilities, but we cannot continue to invoke the global talent India exported decades ago as evidence of present-day strength.

> The recent Elon Musk-Starlink episode illustrates why the stakes extend beyond commerce

We should be able to examine that gap without defensiveness, learn from what has worked elsewhere, and undertake the difficult work of reform. That means resetting what education system should become, funding frontier science over longer horizons, giving leading researchers greater institutional freedom, creating stronger university-industry laboratories. If India wants technological sovereignty, public policy must learn to fund uncertainty, reward genuine breakthroughs, and distinguish intelligent failure from waste. Else, we risk producing islands of excellence without building the ecosystem needed to turn them into national capability.

The recent Elon Musk-Starlink episode illustrates why the stakes extend beyond commerce. Satellite communications are becoming critical infrastructure. They can connect remote regions and strengthen resilience, but they also operate across borders and can acquire strategic importance during conflict. Ukraine showed how a commercial satellite network can become part of wartime communications.

There is a harder question beneath the Starlink dispute. The world's first trillionnaire controls a satellite network and a global social platform, operating at the intersection of technology, capital, and American political power. That gives private infrastructure unusual ability to influence governments and markets, information flows, and narratives. The US gains geopolitical advantage from the reach of its tech and infrastructure giants. India should examine foreign tech dependence not only through market access, but strategic influence.

India and the US today are a marriage with the partners apart-but-not-divorced yet, and jointly parenting a common-market interest. There is friction over trade, tariffs, energy, and strategic priorities, alongside deep economic and geopolitical interdependence. India should deepen the relationship without outsourcing its strategic choices to it. Protecting a long-term Indian interest may sometimes create short-term economic pain. The ability to absorb that pain is itself a measure of sovereignty.

This is where geopolitics meets geoeconomics. Globalisation spent decades optimising supply chains for efficiency and cost. The pandemic, wars, sanctions, and export controls exposed their fragility. Semiconductors, energy systems, cloud infrastructure, telecom, undersea cables, and critical minerals are now part of the national-security architecture. Supply-chain choices is a big driver of sovereignty.

Space may become the newest expression of this contest. Satellites already underpin communications, navigation, earth observation, intelligence, and defence. Reusable launch systems and large constellations are changing access to orbit. Musk's ambition of a future Mars colony may sound distant, but the technologies developed in pursuit of it are already reshaping strategic power. Space is becoming an arena in which great powers will seek technological, economic, and military advantage. Control of orbital infrastructure can influence communications, navigation, surveillance, and power projection on Earth.

India has strengths in the space sector and an expanding private and innovation ecosystem. The global architecture of the space economy and security order is still being built, and India needs to be present at its governance. The common thread across the frontier technologies and global governance is strategic resilience. That does not mean manufacturing everything domestically. It means identifying dangerous dependencies, developing domestic capability where the stakes warrant it, diversifying suppliers, and maintaining credible alternatives, so that dependence never becomes coercion.

The next transformation must be a Frontier Revolution, making leadership in AI, quantum, space, and other emerging technologies a national obsession. India has done it before. Now, we require an ecosystem of STEM, capital, talent, institutions, and policy that can make India a nation capable of shaping the tech frontier. There can be no greater gratitude to a nation than to build for generations we may not meet, so that they inherit the freedom to remain sovereign, in an era defined by technologies we cannot yet fully imagine.

A bruising battle awaits Musk and SpaceX

ELON MUSK'S DECISION to wade into US mobile-phone services sets up a challenge distinct from anything he's previously pursued. This is not a new market or an added twist that fills an industry gap such as his innovations with electric vehicles, broadband from low-earth orbit, or an online payment system—the areas where Musk made his riches. This is a dogfight with three entrenched players. It's likely to benefit wireless customers, but for SpaceX investors, it will be expensive and risky.

The $240-billion US mobile services market is dominated by AT&T, Verizon Communications, and T-Mobile US, all of which spend heavily on the latest technology for their networks to keep ahead of each other and feed consumers' insatiable demand for bandwidth. It will cost tens of billions of dollars to build Musk's vision of a hybrid network with 15,000 satellites dedicated to direct-to-device and the ground infrastructure required to compete with the legacy carriers in urban areas. SpaceX's satellite capacity will broaden coverage to rural and remote areas, but that isn't where the people or the profits are concentrated.

This leaves many unanswered questions about the potential RoI and the time it will take to build the network. You can bet AT&T, Verizon, and T-Mobile will fight back. All three saw their stocks plummet the day after Musk made firm his intention to become a fourth large mobile service provider. SpaceX has dropped about 9% this week.

Musk is planning a major push into a market with little or no subscriber growth because most people already have a phone. Investors need more details on SpaceX's strategy and the potential returns, especially when the company is spending so heavily on other projects. There are investments in a data-centres-in-space network and plans to reportedly borrow $40 billion to purchase Nvidia computer chips for its xAI venture. Many of Musk's ambitions hinge on the ability to launch Starship frequently and to capture both stages of this massive rocket, which would drive down launch costs.

THOMAS BLACK

Bloomberg

The opportunity for SpaceX lies with operating margins of more than 20% for Verizon and T-Mobile in 2025 and close to that level for AT&T. If SpaceX is able to offer comparable service at a lower price, it could potentially carve out market share. The incumbents will compete on price, too—a win-win for users. If SpaceX's offering is mostly around extended coverage and zero dead zones, then its appeal will be limited to those who in remote areas—a small addressable market.

Musk advanced his plans last week with the purchase of 14 megahertz of paired low-band spectrum—a premium asset in wireless telephony—and Federal Communications Commission approval to build out his direct-to-device satellite network. SpaceX last year agreed to pay $17 billion for EchoStar's medium-band spectrum. Even with these two spectrum purchases, the company is far behind the big three's capacity and will need to snap up more spectrum in auctions or private deals.

The investment needed to build out a ground network is hard to nail down. The macro base stations at cell towers can cost as much as $250,000 each, depending on the area, according to Richard Haas, a spectrum expert with LS Telcom in the UK. SpaceX may need around 50,000 of these sites, which would put the investment at $12 billion at the upper range, he wrote. That doesn't seem onerous.

Another hint of the cost of building out the network comes from the bankruptcy filing by Dish DBS, a unit of EchoStar, which attempted to become a fourth carrier with the help of subscribers it picked up as part of an acquisition. EchoStar ended up spending $30 billion on spectrum and $16 billion on wireless infrastructure. The network wasn't fully completed and subscribers had shrunk to about 7.4 million by the June bankruptcy filing from 8.5 million in 2021. SpaceX is a much more formidable rival with unique satellite technology and deep pockets, but it's playing catch-up in a mature market where it has to wrestle customers away from legacy players. Investors know that whether SpaceX gains traction or not, the battle will first bruise everyone.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More than goodwill

Apropos of "Sunrise for Japanese FDI" (FE, October 16), rising Japanese investment in India offers an opportunity to strengthen manufacturing, create jobs, and improve technology transfer. However, attracting capital requires more than diplomatic goodwill. Investors need predictable policies, reliable infrastructure, faster clearances, and a skilled workforce. The government should address logistical bottlenecks, labour-related concerns, and regulatory uncertainty to ensure investments translate into actual projects. Indian businesses must also develop stronger partnerships with Japanese firms to integrate into global supply chains. With consistent reforms and effective implementation, this investment momentum can support industrial growth, generate quality employment, and deepen India-Japan economic cooperation.
—Pon. Arunkumar, Namakkal

'Kaizen desks' will help

Apropos of "Sunrise for Japanese FDI" (FE, October 16), Japanese investors are famously patient, and they value kaizen, the habit of improving a little every day. India can borrow that idea by treating each foreign investor as a long-term partner rather than a one-time catch. A "kaizen desk" in every state could track complaints from Japanese firms, fix one bottleneck every month, and publish the results openly. Small, visible fixes would build faith faster than grand announcements. Money alone will not make India a manufacturing home. Skills will. Japanese firms could co-run training schools beside their factories, teaching language, quality control, and safety to local youth. Workers would gain jobs, companies would gain loyal talent, and the sun would stay up longer.

AUTO SECTOR GROWTH

Shenu Agarwal, President, SIAM

After a good H1FY27, economic growth and rising adoption of cleaner mobility solutions are expected to support growth through H2FY27.

CAR REVIEW: NEW HONDA ELEVATE

A lot improved, a little more needed

RIDE COMFORT IS SPOT-ON, BUT THE CABIN STILL FEELS DATED

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

WHEN I TESTED the original Elevate, it was clear Honda had built a perfect SUV for Indian roads, but it lacked the visual appeal to take buyers away from the likes of Hyundai Creta or Kia Seltos. Now, driving the new Honda Elevate facelift on the Delhi-Mumbai Expressway — with a punishing detour across rural Rajasthan — the verdict is clear: A lot improved, a little more needed.

Fresh stance, spot-on ride

It has much-needed visual freshness to counter flashier rivals like the Seltos or Tata Sierra. The front fascia has a bold mesh grille and a striking tri-bar LED strip running headlight-to-headlight. At the rear, the connected LED tail lamps add a contemporary touch. While it may not look as dominating as a Seltos, it looks neat parked next to a Creta, and while I was driving it, I saw curious onlookers taking pictures of it.

On the expressway, ride quality is effortlessly planted. Cruising at 120 km/h, the SUV is exceptionally stable on its 17-inch diamond-cut alloy wheels. Hitting bridge expansion joints at high speeds doesn't send it bouncing the way heavier ladder-frame SUVs like the Scorpio do. The steering offers good feedback, and the Honda Sensing Level 2 ADAS makes driving on highways comfortable. The Low-Speed Follow (LSF) function on my test car (CVT automatic) made driving through bumper-to-bumper traffic easy, and its 220 mm ground clearance made it fly past rural road undulations.

Real-world efficiency is another strong point. I tested it over 300 km (150 km on the expressway, and 150 km on state highways and broken rural roads), where it returned a creditable 13 km/litre. Cabin space is good enough for five adults.

Cabin space is good enough for five adults, and there's a big boot

What's missing?

The exterior is spot-on, but the cabin feels a bit dated. While rival midsize SUVs have colourful touchscreens and lavish interiors, the Elevate's 26.03 cm screen is way too black and white, and the information cluster is basic. The 8-speaker audio system trails segment benchmarks, and the single-pane sunroof lacks the 'wow' factor of panoramic units found on some competitors.

The 1.5-litre naturally aspirated i-VTEC petrol engine (121 PS, 145 Nm) is efficient, but the CVT groans under hard acceleration without a thrilling surge — it's great for urban usage, though. The 6-speed manual gearbox variant is a smooth shifter. While Honda offers a strong-hybrid powertrain in the City sedan, the Elevate would have been a better candidate. Because it doesn't have diesel, CNG, turbo-petrol, or hybrid options, the pool of buyers the Elevate is catering to is quite small.

Verdict

Priced from ₹11.8 lakh to ₹18.4 lakh (ex-showroom) across manual and CVT trims, the facelift makes the Elevate a more mature package, even if it leaves enthusiasts wanting a bit more mechanical spice.

Why the Toyota badge costs more than Maruti

DECODING BADGE ENGINEERING ACROSS ALLIANCE

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

EARLIER THIS WEEK, when Toyota Kirloskar Motor launched the Glanza facelift — a rebadged version of the Maruti Suzuki Baleno facelift launched in September — the pricing structure raised a lot of questions, both at the launch and on the social media. The Glanza starts at ₹6.99 lakh, ex-showroom, as compared to the Baleno's ₹5.99 lakh. Top-end variants of both the models have a similar difference — the Glanza V(O) AMT costs ₹10.98 lakh, as compared to the Baleno Alpha (O) AGS priced at ₹9.99 lakh.

Under their global tie-up, Suzuki and Toyota are codeveloping cars; these have a similar body shell and powertrains, but a different design language. The glaring price difference, however, boils down to brand licensing and royalties, as well as corporate margins and positioning.

Taking the example of the Baleno and Glanza, a former auto sector CXO told FE that, in this particular case, Toyota is paying licensing and structural fees to sell a car built around Maruti Suzuki's intellectual property, but the vast price difference of ₹1 lakh is also due to brand positioning.

"In India, Toyota enjoys a corporate pricing and retail margin structure that typically positions its products slightly higher, to protect its premium brand perception," he said. "This difference is seen in all the cars they share."

Other models

Maruti Suzuki's Fronx is priced from ₹6.9 lakh to ₹12.03 lakh, whereas its Toyota version, the Taisor, costs ₹7.43-12.94 lakh. Moving up the ladder, the Maruti Suzuki Grand Vitara is priced ₹10.77-19.77 lakh, whereas the sibling Toyota Hyryder costs ₹12.82-20.19 lakh. Coming to MPVs, the Maruti Suzuki Ertiga costs ₹8.9-13.14 lakh, whereas the Toyota Rumion sells at ₹9.79-14.21 lakh.

Even at the absolute top, the difference remains — the Maruti Suzuki Invicto hybrid costs ₹25.02-28.8 lakh, less than the Toyota Innova Hycross hybrid (₹26.76-32.95 lakh) on which the Invicto is based. In this segment, however, there is a catch — the Invicto is only offered as a strong hybrid, whereas the Hycross is also available as a petrol-only model priced much lower at ₹18.7-21.12 lakh.

DISTINCTLY SIMILAR

- Toyota commands a distinct financial markup over its Maruti Suzuki counterparts, driven by brand positioning
- Design tweaks like the Hilux-inspired grille give the Toyota Glanza a more upscale visual stance than Maruti Baleno
- Shared models across the portfolio maintain consistent price differences, reflecting supply agreements
- Pricing is driven less by sheet metal and more by brand value, perceived reliability, as well as ownership trust

"Maruti Suzuki limits the Invicto strictly to a strong-hybrid setup to keep its upscale Nexa network positioned at the upper end of the market, and far, far away from the top variants of its own premium but smaller MPV, the XL6," the executive said. "Toyota, on the other hand, has a lot of white space between the Rumion and the Hycross hybrid, and therefore the Hycross petrol-only model covers that white space to an extent."

Commenting on this, Prof S Subramanian, Strategic Management, IIM Kozhikode, said that in modern badge engineering, retail valuation is rarely dictated solely by sheet metal thickness, but consumers are fundamentally paying for perceived network reliability, long-term ownership trust, and the intangible cachet of a global brand logo.

"The way you are treated in a Toyota showroom is also different from the way you're treated elsewhere," he said. "Toyota knows this, and that's why it designs its products to look slightly upscale. For example, while the Baleno looks premium, the Glanza looks a step-up over the Baleno, with its assertive front face design and bold grille styling, which reminds one of the previous generation of the rugged Hilux pickup and the flagship Hycross MPV."

Cover your high-adrenaline trip with an adventure sports rider

EXTREME ADVENTURE SPORTS MAY ATTRACT A HIGHER PREMIUM

SAIKAT NEOGI

IF YOU ARE embarking on an adventure trip, buy an adventure sports rider with a travel insurance plan. It will protect you against high medical costs in case of any injuries, including hospital stays and transportation facilities, particularly if the incident happens in remote locations.

It is essential to check whether the chosen activities, especially extreme adventure sports, are covered under the base policy and consider an appropriate adventure sports rider where required. A standard travel insurance policy typically excludes injuries arising from certain adventure sports such as base jumping, deep-sea diving and snowboarding.

Some insurers do provide coverage for adventure sports as part of their base travel insurance policies. Some policies may also offer coverage for accidental death benefits, and personal liability.

ASSESSING RISKS

- Check if your chosen activity is covered under the base policy. If not, go for rider
- Soft adventure activities may be covered under certain travel insurance policies
- Type of sport, level of risk, destination, duration of event, age of the insured, extent of coverage influence the cost
- Participation in adventure sports in violation of local rules or safety requirements may lead to claim rejection

Pricing of cover

The cost of an adventure sports rider varies depending on the nature and risk level of the activities covered. Factors such as the type of sport, level of risk involved, destination, duration of participation, age of the insured, and the extent of coverage opted for can influence the cost of the rider. Activities marked as extreme adventure sports carry higher risk of injury and may attract a higher premium or specific coverage conditions compared to soft adventure activities.

Soft adventure activities, such as guided trekking, hiking, camping, or cycling, may be covered under certain travel insurance policies either as an in-built benefit or at a relatively lower additional cost. "Extreme adventure activities generally involve a higher degree of risk and may require enhanced coverage, resulting in a higher premium," says Rakesh Kaul, chief distribution officer, Retail Sales, Bajaj General Insurance.

Exclusions

The exclusions include participating in adventure sports under the influence of alcohol or other intoxicating substances or engaging in activities without the supervision of a qualified professional. "As exclusions vary across insurers and policies, travellers should carefully review to understand the specific conditions and limitations of their coverage," says Manas Kapoor, business head, Travel Insurance, Policybazaar.

Coverage may not be available for activities that are specifically excluded under the policy terms and conditions. Some insurers may restrict coverage to a specified percentage of the sum insured or impose sub-limits on claims arising from adventure sports. It is important to carefully review the policy wording, coverage limits, and exclusions before opting for such a rider.

Injuries resulting from illegal activities are not covered. Participation in adventure sports in violation of local rules or safety requirements may lead to claim rejection. "Travellers must understand the requirements relating to expert supervision before participating in an activity," says Dev Karvat, founder & CEO, Asego, an insurance service provider.

Claim process

In the event of an accident or medical emergency, the insured should immediately contact the insurer or the designated emergency assistance provider and seek necessary medical treatment. Preserve all relevant documents, including medical reports, hospital bills, discharge summaries, police reports (if applicable), and proof of participation in the covered activity.

YOUR QUERIES: LOANS

Take a personal loan to clear outstanding credit card bills

● I have a credit card outstanding bill of ₹3 lakh. Is it better to take a personal loan to pay the outstanding due or convert it into an EMI for six months?

—Anshul Gupta

Avail of a personal loan and pay off the credit card outstanding immediately. The personal loan will be at less than half the cost of rotating the credit on your credit card.

● Is there any fixed tenure for education loans and can it be increased in case I have any fund crunch?

—Vishal Kumar

Usually, the education loan tenure is not increased after sanction. However, an application can be submitted to the bank explaining the situation and providing proof of the same. The discretion lies with the bank.

● I am planning to repay some amount of my home as my bank has increased the interest rate on home loan after Reserve Bank of India raised the repo rate by 25 basis points? Should I increase the monthly instalment amount or pay a lumpsum?

—Nishant Yadav

If you have the funds readily available, then a lumpsum payment now will reduce your interest payment on the home loan as compared to the same amount paid in higher EMI in the future.

● How can I take a loan against a property which is jointly owned with my mother?

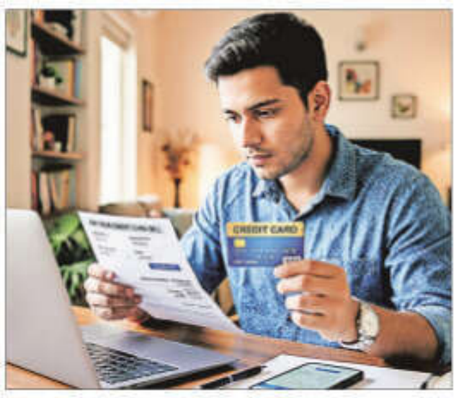

—Aman Jaiswal

The loan will be sanctioned as a joint loan, and the credit will be given to a joint account.

● I had taken a gold loan two years ago when interest rates had fallen. Will the interest on gold loans be fixed for the entire tenure?

—Neeraj Acharya

If the gold loan was on a floating rate, then the interest rate will increase as the repo rate was revised upwards last week. However, if your loan was on a fixed rate of interest, then it will not change for the duration of the loan.

CHAITALI DUTTA

● I had paid my car loan a year ago but it is still reflected on my credit bureau report. How can I get the changes corrected?

—Abhay Goel

Please write to the loan servicing bank/financial institution attaching your CIBIL report. The same should be rectified within 30-45 days. If not, the issue can be taken up with the complaints section of the bank/ institution.

PREMIUM OF THE INSURANCE PER PASSENGER IS 45 PAISE, INCLUSIVE OF TAXES

Rail insurance cover to extend to counter-ticket passengers

DHEERAJ MISHRA
New Delhi, October 16

THE SUPREME COURT has directed the railways to extend the insurance facility to passengers who book tickets from station counters, a move which will extend the insurance net to those coming from disadvantaged sections and from remote areas. The court on October 6 told the Railway Board to implement the order by October 27.

Currently, over 87% of all reserved tickets are booked online. The remaining over 12% tickets — purchased offline through counters — don't provide the third party insurance cover that passengers can avail by paying 45 paise extra while buying a ticket online.

Mandatory compensation

Railways has to pay compensation in case of death or injury to a bona fide passenger due to accidents or untoward incidents, as defined in the Railways Act, 1989.

Optional third party insurance

Railways also offers optional travel insurance for e-ticket passengers. The claim and liabilities fall between the passengers and insurance companies. Railways only provide links with insurance companies through its website to take insurance cover for the passengers.

According to the IRCTC, the scheme is applicable only for Indian Citizens. Foreign nationals are not eligible under the scheme for travel insurance coverage. For Indians, the travel insurance facility is provided only for confirmed, partly confirmed and RAC tickets at the time of booking only.

This means that waiting ticket passengers, who are allowed to travel only at counter ticket, are not covered under the scheme.

The premium of the insurance per passenger is 45 paise, inclusive of taxes, and it was fixed on February 17, 2024.

The scheme covers death, permanent total disability, partial disability, and hospitalisation expenses for injury and transportation of mortal remains following rail accidents or untoward incidents. The sum insured under the insurance scheme ranges from ₹2 lakh to ₹10 lakh based on the severity.

Counter ticket & general passengers

With the push for digitisation in Indian Railways, counter ticket bookings have declined sharply in recent years. Currently, over 87% of all reserved tickets are booked online. However, passengers who continue to rely on offline bookings largely include those coming from the lowest strata of the society and remote areas, as recognised by the Supreme Court as well.

That is why the intervention of the railways was important for ensuring the safety of such passengers.

"Court has granted sufficient time to the authorities to devise a mechanism for extending such coverage to persons belonging to the lowest strata of society, who, in most cases, purchase their tickets at the railway reservation counters while undertaking journeys by train," said the top court.

Apart from counter ticket passengers, the second class or general class passengers, who constitute maximum train travel, are also not covered under the insurance policy. Even for the reserved classes (SL, 1AC, 2AC, 3AC), the insurance scheme is not available in passenger trains and suburban trains. The travel insurance is also not applicable for the children below 5 years of age. It is applicable for the children of 5-11 years of age who book the ticket with berth or without berth.

YES Bank sees 250 bps hit on AT1 revival

IT ALSO SAID the annual coupon payments would remain unaffected by the outcome of the appeals.

YES Bank said it was examining the judgment and its implications and would make further disclosures in due course.

The bank's share price continued to fall. It closed on Friday at ₹17.50, down 3.42%. On Thursday, the share price had plunged more than 14% after the Supreme Court ruling.

S&P Global Ratings said it did not expect the ruling to affect its ratings on the bank, although the reinstatement of the bonds would weigh on future earnings.

"We expect YES Bank to remain adequately capitalised, with its risk-adjusted capital (RAC) ratio projected to remain within the 8.0%-8.5% range throughout the fiscal years ending March 31, 2027 and 2028, compared with 9.0% as of March 2026," the rating agency said.

S&P said the estimated ₹8,400-crore reduction in common equity would be largely offset by the reinstatement of AT1 instruments of a similar amount. Consequently, it did not anticipate any meaningful impact on the bank's total adjusted capital.

However, the rating agency flagged the recurring cost of servicing the reinstated bonds. "Going forward, we see this as earnings negative as the AT1s have high coupon payments of 9.0%-9.5%," it said.

The ruling brings to a close a six-year legal battle that began when YES Bank's AT1 bonds were written off in March 2020 as part of a reconstruction exercise to rescue the financially distressed lender.

Bondholders challenged the move, and the Bombay High Court quashed the write-off in January 2023. The SC has now upheld that decision.

The development also comes after Japan's Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (SMBC) acquired a 20% stake in YES Bank for ₹13,483 crore in May 2025.

Abizer Diwanji, founder of NeoStrat Advisors, said the bank would now have to issue additional shares to AT1 bondholders, as had been agreed at the time of restructuring. "There would be a cost, but that would only be fair," he said.

Diwanji argued that existing shareholders had traded in YES Bank shares knowing that the AT1 bond dispute remained unresolved and, therefore, could not claim that any resulting dilution was unjustified.

The same principle would apply to the bank's largest shareholder, unless the share purchase agreement specifically provided protection against such a contingency, he added.

RULES OKAYED, TO BE PUBLISHED IN 2 WEEKS: GOVT

SC gives Centre till Nov 16 to submit final airfare rules

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 16

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday directed the Centre to submit the finalised rules to regulate airfares by November 16, after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta informed the court that the rules had received government approval and would be published within a fortnight.

The court took note of the Centre's submission and listed the matter for next hearing on November 16.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath, R Mahadevan and Aparesh Singh was hearing a public interest litigation (PIL) challenging the excessive and arbitrary fluctuations in airfares and seeking greater transparency and regulatory oversight of airline pricing.

The court's direction follows its earlier orders asking the Centre to frame rules under the Bharatiya Vayuyan Adhiniyam, 2024, to address concerns over sharp hikes in fares, particularly during festivals and holidays.

During an August hearing, the apex court had asked the government to take action against airlines that failed to comply with its directives. The Centre had then said the rules to regulate airfares would be finalised within three weeks.

The civil aviation ministry had told the court that it was issuing office memorandums to airlines on pricing practices until the rules were finalised, but airlines were not complying with the directives. The court had also examined the draft rules submitted by the government in a sealed cover.

AFFORDABILITY PUSH

- Govt has approved rules under the Bharatiya Vayuyan Adhiniyam, 2024, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta tells SC
- Rules aim to address arbitrary airfare hikes and unpredictable fare fluctuations, especially during holidays and festivals
- PIL seeks greater transparency and regulatory oversight of airline pricing
- Centre says airlines have not complied with interim pricing directives
- SC had earlier examined draft rules submitted by the Centre in a sealed cover
- Govt cites volatile ATF prices as a challenge to affordable airfares

In July, the Supreme Court had directed the Centre to submit the rules within two weeks, asking it to place them before the court in a sealed cover, irrespective of whether they had been laid before Parliament. The government had informed the court that the rules had been prepared and were undergoing translation before being presented to Parliament.

The Bharatiya Vayuyan Adhiniyam, 2024, which replaced the Aircraft Act, 1934, came into force in January 2025.

The matter dates back to November 2025, when the Supreme Court sought responses from the Centre and other authorities on a plea seeking binding regulatory guidelines to curb unpredictable fluctuations in airfares and ancillary charges imposed by airlines. The petition, filed by social activist SL Laxminarayanan, seeks the establishment of an independent regulator to ensure transparency in airline pricing and protect passenger interests.

On February 23, the court had expressed concern over sharp increases in airfares, describing the issue as serious. A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta had directed the Centre to file an affidavit within four weeks detailing the steps being taken to address the issues raised in the petition.

Separately, Civil Aviation Minister Kinjarapu Rammohan Naidu said on October 15 that the government wanted airfares to remain affordable, but sharp fluctuations in aviation turbine fuel (ATF) prices were making this difficult.

Dipke, Bora among 150 detained in CJP rally

- Flash protests held across central Delhi; Opposition slams police action

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 16

People participate in the 'Lehra Do Tiranga' march in New Delhi on Friday; Police detain AISA chief Neha Bora at Mandi House PTI

TRICOLOURS IN HAND and raising slogans, hundreds of supporters of the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP) and members of student organisations held a series of flash protests in central Delhi on Friday evening after police denied permission for the party's 'Lehra Do Tiranga' march at Connaught Place.

CJP founder Abhijeet Dipke and All India Students' Association (AISA) president Neha Bora were among the around 150 protesters detained by Delhi Police. The detentions drew sharp attacks from the opposition, with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi backing the protesting students and former West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee terming it as being "nothing short of an undeclared Emergency".

The protesters walked through the inner circle of Connaught Place, intermittently raising the slogan of 'Jai Hind' before dispersing and regrouping at different spots.

Students and AISA members protested at Mandi House, demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar, rollback of the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, and withdrawal of the 2023 Election Commissioner Appointment Act. Minor altercations broke out between the protesters and police as the latter attempted to disperse the crowd. Police also began detaining protesters who had reached Connaught Place.

Dipke and Bora were preventively detained by Delhi Police while on their way to participate in the protests. While Dipke was picked up from his residence in Jhandewalan, Bora was detained at Mandi House. The detentions triggered scenes of jostling among crowds, camera crews and security personnel.

"Those attempting to disrupt law and order are being detained," a police officer said.

The CJP and AISA questioned the whereabouts of Dipke and Bora, alleging the two were being denied access to lawyers and associates after being detained by Delhi Police.

The CJP alleged that its founder Dipke had been taken to an undisclosed location and that it had lost contact with him, while AISA claimed its president Bora was being held alone at the Anti-Narcotics Task Force in Mangolpuri.

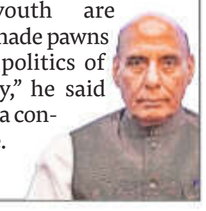

"Why does this government treat youth like terrorists? We are equal citizens of India and we deserve all the protections and rights of the Constitution!" the CJP said in a post on X.

The Aam Aadmi Party held a Tiranga march near Rashtrapati Bhavan and its headquarters in central Delhi. Holding tricolours and raising slogans, scores of party workers marched outside their office on Pandit Ravi Shankar Shukla Lane.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday slammed the Delhi Police for refusing to register an FIR on the "assault" of student protesters by security personnel, saying that police can break bones but not a 'satyagraha'. The Congress will pursue every legal route against the officers responsible, he added.

'Oppn using youth to fuel anarchy'

DEFENCE MINISTER RAJNATH Singh on Friday accused the Congress and its allies of seeking regime change along the lines of Bangladesh and using the youth to spread "anarchy". "The youth are being made pawns in the politics of anarchy," he said during a conference. PTI

MHA panel on Jantar Mantar formed after July stir

MAHENDER SINGH MANRAL
New Delhi, October 16

THE DENOTIFICATION OF Jantar Mantar as a designated protest site, a challenge against which will be heard by the Supreme Court in the coming days, did not happen overnight.

The denotification followed recommendations by a committee formed by the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on August 20 — exactly a month after the Cockroach Janta Party's march from Jantar Mantar to Parliament on July 20 — to examine alternative venues for protests in the national capital.

On October 12, the Delhi Police denotified Jantar Mantar as a designated protest site and identified three alternative venues — Ramlila Ground, Burari Ground and CBD Ground — for protest gatherings in the capital. Police attributed the change to recommendations made by the committee.

The panel, headed by New Delhi Municipal Council Chairperson Manoj Kumar Dwivedi, had senior officials of the Municipal Corporation of Delhi, Delhi government, Delhi Police and the MHA as its members.

"On August 28, after the committee was formed, all the members decided to visit Jantar Mantar. After visiting the protest site, they decided to inspect three other venues, Ramlila Ground in Central Delhi, Burari in North Delhi and CBD Ground in East Delhi," a source said.

During inspections, officials assessed the traffic situation, the possible impact of gatherings on local markets and security arrangements required at each venue. "Around 5.30 pm, all officials returned to their offices after visiting the sites, and Dwivedi was asked to prepare a report for MHA," the source said.

The ministry received the report in September. In the meantime, the committee discussed the matter with legal experts. "After discussions, it was decided that Delhi Police Commissioner Anurag Kumar was empowered to issue such a notification," the source said.
