NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

After more than eight hours of a sit-in that turned the premises of Akashvani Bhawan into the centre of a dramatic political standoff, Lok Sabha Leader of the Opposition Rahul Gandhi and Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra were detained by the Delhi Police on Tuesday evening.

Rahul and Priyanka were taken to the Kingsway Camp police station. The police also detained protesters gathered outside Akashvani Bhawan as they moved to clear the premises following the prolonged confrontation.

Among those detained along with Rahul and Priyanka were Congress leaders KC Venugopal, Deepender Singh Hooda and Amrinder Singh Raja Warring, and several other leaders and workers who had joined the sit-in inside and outside the Akashvani complex. Rahul and other leaders were released a little after 10 pm.

The day's protest had begun at Parliament around 10.30 am, with more than 300 Opposition MPs marching towards Nirvachan Sadan, demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar over alleged irregularities in electoral rolls and the Special Intensive Revision

NO MEETING SOUGHT: EC

- The EC said no party had sought an appointment for a meeting with it till 4 pm
- The poll panel said Delhi Police later told it that a delegation of Oppn MPs wished to meet it
- The EC said it had laid down a procedure for meetings with political parties in 2025

ANARCHY ATTEMPT: BJP

- The BJP alleged Rahul was trying to create anarchy with his 'baseless vote-chori' allegation
- It said Rahul should instead work diligently to regain people's faith to win elections
- "The reality is Rahul is a 'kaam-chor'," said BJP spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi

(SIR). But what appeared to be a conventional Opposition march took an unexpected turn after the Delhi Police stopped the MPs near the NITI Aayog office with heavy barricading.

Rahul climbed atop a barricade and waved the Tricolour as the MPs tried to move towards the Election Commission headquarters. Several leaders were detained and bundled into buses. Then came the move that changed the course of the protest. Priyanka had already boarded a detention bus parked near Akashvani Bhawan, while Rahul was preparing to follow her. Instead, the two suddenly changed course and walked into the nearby Akashvani Bhawan premises, leaving the police scrambling to respond. The move reportedly took

Air Marshal Dixit to take charge as next IAF Chief on Oct 31

AJAY BANERJEE
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The government on Tuesday appointed Air Marshal Ashutosh Dixit as the next Chief of the Indian Air Force. He will assume charge on October 31 upon the superannuation of Air Chief Marshal AP Singh.

Air Marshal Dixit is presently serving as Vice Chief of the IAF. He will take over at a time when the force is on the cusp of significant transformation. Several new aircraft and weapon systems are expected to be inducted in the coming years, shaping the IAF's trajectory over the next decade.

One of the immediate priorities for the IAF Chief-designate will be assessing the induction of Tejas Mk-1A fighter jets.

Public sector firm Hindustan Aeronautics Limited is set to complete the integration of radars and missiles.

The first of the aircraft are expected to enter service before the end of the year. The IAF has ordered 180 of these jets and a delay in

Punjab moves SC against CBI probe into corruption charges linked to CM's office

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Punjab Government on Tuesday moved the Supreme Court, challenging the Punjab and Haryana High Court directive for a CBI probe into allegations of corruption linked to Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann's office.

A Bench led by Chief Justice of India Surya Kant agreed to take it up on Wednesday or Thursday after senior counsel Vikas Singh mentioned it for urgent listing, alleging that it was all due to the ensuing Assembly elections.

HC NOTICE TO CHIEF SECY IN DA CASE

- The Punjab and Haryana HC has issued a notice to Chief Secretary KAP Sinha and directed him to remain present on Friday
- The court has asked the Chief Secretary why criminal contempt proceedings should not be initiated against him for making a "prima facie false statement" in dearness allowance case

"During election time, these kinds of cases are being trumped up... It's a clear case of federal structure being violated," Singh submitted.

"We will try tomorrow... otherwise the day after, definitely," the CJI told Singh.

A special leave petition against the High Court's October 5 order, which came on a PIL filed by advocate Nikhil Saraf, was filed by the government at 1.42 am on Tuesday.

A High Court Bench of Chief Justice Ashwani Kumar Mishra and Justice Rohit Kapoor had on Monday directed the CBI to register a criminal case to probe allegations against Rajbir Singh Ghuman, Officer on Special Duty (OSD) to Chief Minister Mann. It had also directed the state of Punjab and the Punjab Police to provide all assistance to the CBI for conducting a fair probe.

Earlier, the Enforcement Directorate had asked the Punjab Police to register a case to probe the allegations of corruption against Ghuman.

Nitin Gohal acted as an intermediary between people seeking favours from the government and Ghuman, the ED alleged. The allegations related to transfers, access to confidential government documents, facilitation of arms licences and other benefits. After the police CONTINUED ON PAGE 8

Indian seafarers hurt in Black Sea, Hormuz attacks

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

India on Tuesday condemned attacks on two commercial vessels in the Black Sea and the Strait of Hormuz that killed two foreign seafarers and injured several others, including 11 Indians, in the latest incident off Oman, and warned that attacks on merchant shipping were undermining global commerce and the welfare of people worldwide.

Delhi seeks end to strikes on commercial shipping

In the latest incident, 11 Indian nationals were among 12 crew members injured when the Panama-flagged commercial vessel MT 'On Peace' was struck by a projectile while transiting the Strait of Hormuz.

The vessel was carrying 19 crew members, of whom 17 were Indian nationals. With the assistance of Omani authorities, all injured crew members were evacuated and have been receiving treatment in Khasab (Oman), the Ministry of External Affairs said.

India thanked the Omani authorities for their "valuable support" and called for an immediate cessation of attacks in the region. "The targeting of commercial shipping, seafarers and civilian infrastructure in the region must end, and navigation and commerce through international waterways must be restored at the earliest," the MEA said.

The statement came hours after India condemned the attack on MV Royad Mamadov in the Black Sea, in which two foreign seafarers were killed and members of the crew, including Indian nationals, were injured. The MEA said the three Indian nationals who were part of the crew were safe. CONTINUED ON PAGE 8

String of targeted killings puts Pb Police in a spot ahead of polls

JUPINDERJIT SINGH
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

The Punjab Police are grappling with two distinct security challenges ahead of the 2027 Assembly elections — a string of attacks on policemen allegedly backed by Pakistan-based handlers and a spate of killings of social media influencers in the name of moral policing.

Social media has been abuzz with posts highlighting how easily shooters appear to arrive on motorcycles, carry out attacks and ride away. Three influencers and six policemen have been targeted in recent months.

A similar pattern has emerged in several of these attacks, prompting Opposition parties, including the Congress, BJP and the Shiromani Akali Dal, to question the police response and the state's grip on law and order. Police officials, however, said investigations indicated that the attacks on influencers and policemen were unrelated, involving different perpetrators and motives.

"The attacks on policemen are an attack on national security. A pseudo organisation, Tehreek-e-Taliban Hindustan (TTH), has been floated to claim responsibility, but the planning and execution are linked to Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) and terror groups," said a senior police official.

Gurugram infra projects stuck for years; CMO seeks report

SUMEDHA SHARMA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

GURUGRAM, OCTOBER 6

Basic infrastructure projects in Gurugram have remained stuck for years, with several missing deadlines repeatedly for over a decade, prompting the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) to seek a status report on each pending project.

The move follows a recent meeting with civic and other senior officials, where no concrete explanation emerged for the prolonged delays. Officials mainly cited technical issues, tendering and budgetary constraints. The CMO has now sought project-wise status reports, with officials indicating that a decision on which projects will move ahead and be completed is expected within a month.

The civil hospital tops the list of long-pending projects. The project has remained incomplete for over a decade, with the old

Civil Hospital, bus terminal, smart grid, Metro, RRTS, waste management and drainage projects remain incomplete

Civil Lines hospital demolished in 2021. After being handled by multiple agencies, it is now with the Haryana State Industrial and Infrastructure Development Corporation (HSI-IDC), but construction is yet to begin.

The new bus terminal, pending for 13 years, has also failed to materialise. The smart grid project, announced in 2015 with a target of providing 24-hour power and underground cabling by 2017, remains incomplete.

The proposed pod-taxi corridor from Dhaula Kuan to Manesar, announced nearly a decade ago at an estimated cost of Rs 4,000 crore, is yet to take off. As recently as April, the government was discussing its feasibility with Suzuki and Glydways. The proposed entertainment zone in Sector 52 has similarly seen little progress in more than 10 years.

Gurugram's rail connectivity projects have also faced delays. The first phase of the Metro, which took 14 years to begin, is now under construction up to Sector 9 and is targeted for completion in 2028. The Rs 1,662-crore tender for the Sector 9-Cyber City stretch closes on November 18. The Delhi-Gurugram-SNB Regional Rapid Transit System corridor, meanwhile, is yet to enter the construction stage.

Waste management remains another major concern. The Bandhwari landfill has repeatedly missed clearance deadlines. Two firms engaged to clear legacy waste were sacked and fined Rs 9.02 crore in 2025 after processing only 16.5% of the target. The civic body has now set February 2027 as the deadline. The waste-to-energy plant, due in 2019 under a 2017 concession, is also yet to become functional.

Drainage projects have met a similar fate. Work on the Leg-4 master drain began in 2022, while the Rs 51-crore network in Sectors 68 to 75 remains incomplete despite deadlines between May and August this year. Residents' groups also allege that stormwater drains have not been cleaned since 2023 despite nearly Rs 100 crore being sanctioned over four years.

United Gurugram RWAs president Praveen Yadav said the prolonged delays exposed the gap between Gurugram's image as the "Millennium City" and its basic infrastructure.

He said the CMO should take direct charge of Gurugram for a year or two to ensure that promised projects are completed.

Modi's reforms have propelled Haryana's growth: CM Saini

Says state has made rapid strides in social welfare, agriculture and industry

NAYAB SINGH SAINI
Chief Minister, Haryana

RIDING the crest of reforms and leveraging the largesse of Prime Minister Narendra Modi — who completes 25 years of public service today (he was sworn in as Gujarat Chief Minister on October 7, 2001, and later as Prime Minister for his first term on May 26, 2014) — Haryana has made rapid strides in all fields and today rubs shoulders with some of its advanced cousins.

Be it social welfare, education, agriculture, infrastructure, digital penetration, industrial growth, taking administration to people's doorsteps, or skilling the youth and giving them jobs, the state has come up trumps. Thanks to the inspiration of PM Modi, the Haryana model of governance and development has become a talking point at the national level.

Significantly, the state economy is firing on all cylinders. Investment, both domestic and foreign, is pouring in; governance stands redefined by taking administration to people's doorsteps; connectivity connects; highways criss-cross the state; farmers never had it so good; youth is getting skilled and jobs too; the man in the street has begun to find living easy; and entrepreneurs are logging growth after setting up shop in the state.

Haryana owes its standing and growth to the largesse of the Prime Minister, who has paid 18 visits to the state in the past 12 years. We, Haryanvis, are celebrating his 25 years of public service with a month-long Seva Sankalp Abhiyan to take PM's message of love for the country and undiluted commitment to serve the people.

His stewardship as Prime Minister for more than 12 years has not only steered the ship of the nation through choppy global waters but also transformed India in myriad ways. His zeal, zest and unwavering commitment to take the country forward and make people happy and prosperous have made him a statesman in the true sense of the term.

The changes propelled by some big-ticket systemic reforms — his brainchild — have not only made India move up the social, cultural and economic ladder but also enabled it to acquire a global voice that counts and is respected and heard with admiration today. PM Modi has redefined governance, given social welfare a new meaning, and reached out to the last man in the queue with the hand that helps.

Looking at his stint as Prime Minister through the prism of our state, Haryana has gained a lot, reaping the harvest of a double-engine government. The harvest consists of lakhs of people seeing their lives change, courtesy the Central Government's growth-oriented and welfare programmes, and the largesse of projects and schemes bringing in investment, growth, jobs and welfare.

Inspired by the leadership of the Prime Minister, Haryana is forging ahead on the road to accelerated development on all fronts. Social welfare has penetrated every section of society; hope has come to replace fear, and people take pride in belonging to the state. The gains of the double-engine government are showing. We are well on track to play a leading role in realising the vision of the Prime Minister of Viksit Bharat by 2047.

Rights panel seeks reports on Ambala building collapse

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

AMBALA, OCTOBER 6

Days after the collapse of an under-construction three-storey building in Ambala's Dhulkot village that left seven persons dead and several workers injured, the Haryana Human Rights Commission has sought detailed reports from the district administration, municipal corporation and police.

The Commission has sought information on the circumstances of the September 27 incident, action taken so far, approvals and inspection records related to the building, and measures being taken to prevent recurrence of such incidents.

Assistant Registrar Dr Puneet Arora said the Commission took serious note of the incident following a complaint filed by Amandeep Singh Bhatia. Member (Judicial) Kuldeep Jain, after hearing the complaint, directed the Deputy Commissioner, Commissioner of the Municipal Corporation, Ambala, and Superintendent of Police to submit detailed reports.

The Commission has sought details from the Deputy Commissioner

Details sought on approvals, inspections, probe and action taken regarding the deceased and injured, relief and compensation provided to the victims and their families, and whether any magisterial or administrative inquiry has been ordered or conducted.

The municipal corporation has been asked to provide the sanctioned building plan and clarify whether construction complied with the plan and applicable building bylaws. It has also been asked to furnish details of the owner, builder, contractor, architect and structural engineer associated with the project, besides inspection records and any notices or proceedings initiated over violations, if any.

An SIT was constituted after the incident and samples of construction material were collected. The police also registered an FIR against Jaggi Builder, Shripal Rana, who used to assign the work, the property owner and others. The matter will next be heard on November 12.

Singapore firms set to invest ₹5,500 cr in state

Proposals expected to boost healthcare, water management & education

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

Haryana is set to receive investment proposals worth around Rs 5,500 crore from Singapore-based companies and institutions following Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini's visit to the country, aimed at strengthening the state's position on the global investment map.

The proposals cover the health and wellness, water treatment and management, and education and skill development sectors. The investments are expected to give a boost to modern healthcare, water management, education, skill development and employment generation in the state.

During his visit, Saini also met Singapore Foreign Minister Dr Vivian Balakrishnan and held discussions on strengthening cooperation between Haryana and Singapore. The talks covered education, skill development, water management, urban development, technological innovation and employment opportunities for youth.

Both sides agreed to explore greater cooperation in skill development and education, modern training and employment opportunities for youth, and the use of advanced technologies in water management and urban development.

Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini with Singapore Foreign Minister Dr Vivian Balakrishnan in Singapore on Tuesday. Industries and Commerce Minister Rao Narbir Singh is also seen.

Saini said the state government was committed to providing investors with transparent governance, better connectivity, strong infrastructure, skilled manpower and a conducive business environment.

He said the objective was not merely to attract investment but also to ensure that projects were implemented within a time-bound framework and generated employment opportunities for the youth.

₹3,000 crore for health and wellness

Investment proposals worth around Rs 3,000 crore have been agreed upon in the health and wellness sector. The proposed investments are expected to support state-of-the-art hospitals, healthcare centres, wellness facilities, medical research and the adoption of modern healthcare technologies.

₹1,500 crore for water management

Investors also expressed interest in Haryana's water treatment and management sector, with proposals worth around Rs 1,500 crore.

The projects are expected to cover modern water treatment and sewage treatment plants, industrial water management, water reuse and smart water management systems. These initiatives could improve the utilisation of water resources in urban and industrial areas while strengthening environmental protection.

₹1,000 crore for education

Proposals worth around Rs 1,000 crore have also been agreed upon in education and skill development. The investments are expected to facilitate modern educational institutions, skill development centres, technical education, digital learning and employment-oriented training facilities.

There is no next stop till democracy is restored, says Sirsa MP Selja

SURYA S PILLAI
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Congress MP Kumari Selja on Tuesday said the BJP has weakened the institution of the Election Commission which should have been the epitome of transparency and justice.

She also called for bringing back the traditional paper ballots to preserve the sanctity of people's votes and public mandate.

"The Election Commission is working at the behest of the BJP. An institution which represents the trust of around 148 crore people of the country has been weakened to the core by the ruling dispensation. We have seen how the two Election Commissioners have raised questions on the Chief Election Commissioner's autocratic way of functioning," Selja told The Tribune.

The Sirsa MP was in the national capital to participate in the 'Save Democracy' protest march organised by the INDIA bloc demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar.

The Opposition alliance has announced nationwide protests for the removal of the CEC besides putting forth its key demands of scrapping the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) exercise and adopting the paper ballot system.

Asked about how paper ballot system can help in restoring democracy, the Haryana MP said many questions have been raised on the working of electronic voting machines (EVMs), but the poll panel has outright rejected the claims.

"It is high time we move back to the paper ballot system because the electorate of India have lost faith in EVMs that are being easily tampered with. The Election Commission has provided no concrete evidence to state otherwise," Selja said.

The parliamentarian also noted that the protest march also signalled the unity of the Opposition bloc, and how all the parties under its umbrella, are on the same page regarding the resignation of the CEC. Asked about the INDIA bloc's next stop, Selja said, "There is no next stop till democracy is restored." "We will keep marching till our demands are fulfilled, and the CEC hang his boots," she added.

Mohan Lal Badoli, Chairman of the Haryana Bureau of Public Enterprises; Mayor Rajiv Jain; Dronacharya Awardee Om Prakash; Dhayanchand Awardee Kuldeep Malik; and Olympic gold medalist hockey player Harwinder Singh were among those who honoured the players.

Savita recalls penalty save that sealed gold in Asian Games

Deepika says goalkeeper's performance was the decisive 'Chak De' moment

DEEPPENDER DESWAL

HISAR, OCTOBER 6

It was a "Chak De" moment for the Indian women's hockey team when goalkeeper Savita Punia deflected a penalty stroke in the Asian Games final against China, recalled striker Deepika Sehrawat, the tournament's highest scorer with 21 goals, while talking to The Tribune here today.

Deepika and Savita were felicitated at the hockey ground in Hisar by their coach, Prof Azad Singh Malik, who played a key role in grooming both players.

Recalling the crucial penalty stroke, Savita said she got a few precious seconds to prepare after India sought a referral against the decision.

"I took a deep breath and thought that if I could stop penalty strokes from my Netherlands coach Sjoerd Savita Punia and Deepika Sehrawat in Hisar on Tuesday.

Marijne during practice, why could I not stop the shot of this girl from China?" she said.

Savita said she knew the outcome would be decided in the blink of an eye. During those few seconds, she focused on her strategy and remembered the Almighty.

"I was confident that I would stop it. I could not move until the stroke was taken. As the stick hit the ball, I leapt to my left. The ball hit my palm and it was the most precious moment of my life," she recalled.

The save proved decisive in the final and helped India clinch the gold medal.

Savita said missing qualification for the Paris Olympics had been a major setback for the team and provided additional motivation for the Asian Games campaign. The team, she said, was desperate to make a comeback after a difficult run in the preceding years.

"We got into rhythm during the World Cup, where we finished fifth. It was then that we decided to go for gold because it was important for us to secure direct entry into the next Olympics," she said.

The team had also been disappointed at missing the Paris Olympics despite finishing fourth at the Tokyo Olympics.

Savita said the Asian Games gold also fulfilled her mother Leelavati's wish to see the medal around her neck.

Recalling a difficult phase in her career, she said she could have quit hockey in 2011 after an unpleasant incident during a bus journey from Delhi to her native Jodhkan village in Sirsa.

She said a conductor had demanded an additional ticket for her heavy hockey kit and made a humiliating remark when she refused. Upset, she called her father Mahender Singh Punia and said she would no longer play if she had to travel to camps and tournaments by public transport.

Her father supported her decision to continue and bought her a second-hand WagonR so she could travel safely.

Deepika, who hails from a family of wrestlers in Bhainsru Khurd village of Rohtak, said the team remained united throughout the Asian Games campaign.

Prof Malik, formerly a Sports Department professor at Chaudhary Charan Singh Haryana Agricultural University, began training girls in hockey in Hisar nearly two decades ago and helped nurture several players who went on to represent India.

Police unveil Next Gen e-challan system in state

Provision for traffic violators to contest in 45 days

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

The Haryana Police have introduced a “Next Gen” e-challan system under which traffic violators will receive a notice within three days of the violation and get 45 days to accept or contest the challan.

If the vehicle owner or driver fails to take any action within the stipulated period, the challan will be deemed to have been accepted automatically.

A grievance against a challan will have to be disposed of within 30 days. If the grievance is not decided within this period, it too will be deemed to have been accepted. One nodal officer and two grievance redressal officers have been appointed in each district.

If a grievance is rejected, the vehicle owner or driver can challenge the challan in court after depositing 50% of the challan amount. An accepted challan will have to be paid within 90 days.

A police spokesperson said the system would help trans-

The meeting also discussed restrictions on BS-III and below-standard vehicles in the NCR and the vehicle scrapping policy. ADGP Traffic said 27 scrapping centres had been established in the state. Vehicle owners can scrap eligible old vehicles and avail benefits.

Higher-income families can also avail Chirayu benefits

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

The Haryana Government has expanded the Chirayu-Ayushman Bharat scheme to cover families with an annual income of more than Rs 1.80 lakh, allowing them to avail cashless healthcare by paying a nominal annual premium.

Eligibility will be determined on the basis of verified annual income recorded in the Parivar Pehchan Patra (PPP). Eligible families will be entitled to free and cashless treatment of up to Rs 5 lakh a year at empanelled hospitals across the state.

The annual premium has been fixed according to income slabs. Families with an annual income of Rs 1.80 lakh to Rs 3 lakh will have to pay Rs 1,500, those earning between Rs 3 lakh and Rs 6 lakh will pay Rs 4,000, while families with an annual income above Rs 6 lakh will pay Rs 5,000.

The registration and payment portal will remain open till November 30, 2026. The new policy period will run from November 1, 2026, to October 31, 2027.

‘Under PM Modi, development pace has accelerated manifold’

MANOHAR LAL KHATTAR

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi completes 25 years as the head of a government today—a public journey that began when he took oath as the CM of Gujarat in 2001 and continued with his assumption of office as Prime Minister in 2014. During this period, India has undergone profound economic, technological, infrastructural and social changes.

The Modi government has pursued an approach centred on scale, technology, infrastructure, financial inclusion, manufacturing, social welfare and India’s increasing engagement with the global economy.

One of the defining features has been the expansion of digital public infrastructure. Digital India, launched in 2015, helped establish an ecosystem in which identity, banking, mobile connectivity and public services could operate at population scale. India now has over 144 crore Aadhaar identities, 57.71 crore Jan Dhan accounts and an expanding digital network.

The Unified Payments Interface (UPI) has become one of the most visible symbols of this transformation. Transactions grew from about two crore annually in FY2016–17 to more than 24,162 crore in FY2025–26.

Platforms such as DigiLocker, UMANG, Common Service Centres (CSCs) and BharatNet have expanded access to government and essential services. By 2026, more than 2.21 lakh gram panchayats have been made service-ready under BharatNet, while over five lakh CSCs are delivering digital services.

Infrastructure has been another central pillar. India has accelerated investment in roads, railways, airports, ports, waterways, housing, energy and urban transport. By March 2026, 99.6% of the railways network had been electrified, while the Metro network has been expanded to over 1,155 km.

This push has been accompanied by an emphasis on manufacturing and economic self-reliance. ‘Make in India’, Production Linked Incentive schemes and Atmanirbhar Bharat framework have sought to increase manufacturing capabilities, attract investment and build strategic capacity in sectors ranging from electronics and telecommunications to pharmaceuticals and defence.

The period has also witnessed an expansion of social welfare delivered through technology and direct transfers. Schemes covering housing, sanitation, cooking fuel, drinking water, health insurance and food security have sought to address basic household needs at unprecedented scale. A 2026 Union Cabinet resolution highlighted the government’s claim that over 25 crore people had moved out of multidimensional poverty during this period.

The COVID-19 pandemic presented the most extraordinary governance challenge. India mounted one of the world’s largest vaccination programmes, supported by the CoWIN digital platform. More than 220 crore vaccine doses were administered through the programme, while digital health initiatives such as eSanjeevani expanded telemedicine access.

Another important dimension has been the effort to strengthen global economic and strategic presence. India has presented itself as a voice for the Global South, a major technology and manufacturing economy, and a partner in global initiatives like climate action. The successful organisation of the G20 presidency in 2023 provided a platform for India to place development concerns, digital inclusion and the interests of developing economies more prominently on the international agenda.

The transformation has also been visible in India’s technological ambitions. From digital payments and Aadhaar to space exploration, semiconductor manufacturing and artificial intelligence, the policy emphasis has moved towards building indigenous capabilities.

India’s journey during this period has also involved difficult questions concerning employment, inequality, agricultural distress, federal relations, institutional autonomy, social cohesion and the quality of public discourse. India’s economic expansion has created significant opportunities, but ensuring that growth generates productive employment and reaches all sections of society remains a challenge.

The next chapter is likely to be defined by whether these foundations can translate into sustained improvements in productivity, employment, human development and living standards. The national objective of ‘Viksit Bharat 2047’ places that challenge within a longer horizon.

Modi’s tenure as PM has brought significant national investments and expansion initiatives to Haryana. Major projects include the Gurugram Metro, AIIMS-Rewari, Dwarka Expressway and expanded railway and highway connectivity. His government has also supported new healthcare, energy, aviation and industrial infrastructure. In 2026, Haryana became home to India’s first indigenous hydrogen-powered train between Jind and Sonapat, alongside infrastructure projects worth around ₹14,700 crore.

The next measure of Modi’s journey will be how effectively today’s institutions, infrastructure and technological capabilities are converted into opportunity, prosperity and a higher quality of life for India’s 1.4 billion citizens.

Create awareness about civic duties: Speak to MLAs

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

Speaker Harvinder Kalyan on Tuesday released the book ‘Who’s Who 2024’, published by the Haryana Vidhan Sabha Secretariat. The book contains profiles of all 90 MLAs elected to the 15th Haryana Vidhan Sabha.

Addressing the function, he said the role of elected representatives was not confined to the development of their constituencies. They should also play an active role in making society aware of civic duties and responsibilities. He said along with development, a sense of responsibility among citizens was essential for strengthening the democratic system. — TNS

45-year-old contractor shot dead at solar plant in Sirsa

OUR CORRESPONDENT

SIRSA, OCTOBER 6

A 45-year-old contractor was shot dead inside a solar power plant near Jamal village in Sirsa on Tuesday afternoon, with the police suspecting a possible financial dispute behind the killing.

The incident took place around 1.30 pm at a solar plant being developed by Hexa Sun Energy Pvt Ltd near the Rajasthan border. According to the police, two-three unidentified men entered the plant and opened fire at the contractor, identified as Subhash Chandra, before fleeing the spot.

Police suspect financial dispute with partner

Chandra, a resident of Jamal village, sustained multiple bullet injuries to his back. The bullets reportedly passed through his body. Plant workers rushed him to the Civil Hospital, Sirsa, where doctors declared him dead.

Police teams reached the site soon after the incident and launched an investigation. The body has been sent for post-mortem examination, while the family has been informed.

Preliminary investigation has indicated a possible dispute between Chandra and one of his partners over financial dealings, the police said. Investigators are probing the nature of the dispute and trying to identify the partner.

The police said Chandra had a criminal record in the past, but the motive behind the killing had not yet been established.

A police spokesperson said the family had not filed a complaint so far. Further action would be taken after receiving the complaint and completion of the investigation.

HC puts Chief Secy on notice over ‘palpably false’ affidavit in DA case

SAURABH MALIK

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

A day after questioning Punjab’s claim that defects in the SLP in the dearness allowance (DA) matter had been cured, the Punjab and Haryana High Court on Tuesday prima facie found the statement made by the Chief Secretary in his affidavit “palpably false”.

The Bench issued notice to him for explaining why criminal contempt proceedings should not be initiated for “wilfully misleading” the court. He has also been asked to remain present on Friday, the next date of hearing.

“From the materials placed on record, we prima facie find that there is a deliberate misstatement of fact made by the Chief Secretary before this court. We are, therefore, issuing notice to the Chief Secretary to explain as to why proceedings of criminal contempt be not initiated against him for wilfully misleading this court by making false assertions,” the court said.

The development followed a report obtained by the HC from the Supreme Court registry. The Bench of Chief Justice Ashwani Kumar Mishra and Justice

Chief Secretary KAP Sinha

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

- The HC said the Supreme Court registry report showed Punjab’s appeal defects had not been removed
- The Chief Secretary has been directed to appear on Friday and explain why contempt proceedings should not start

Rohit Kapoor recorded that the report “clearly depicts that the defects pointed out by the Supreme Court registry in the appeal filed by Punjab have not been removed”.

The report also showed that the appeal filed by Punjab State Power Corporation Limited (PSPCL) continued to lie in defect. “From the report of the registry of the Supreme Court, it is apparent that a false statement was made before the court yesterday,” the Bench observed.

The court had on Monday directed its registry to immediately obtain the Supreme Court registry’s status report after the state maintained that defects in its appeal had been cured. The Chief Secretary had also appeared before the court and filed an affidavit.

As the matter came up for hearing on Tuesday morning, the Bench recorded that an affidavit was not filed despite its direction in the August 3 judgment requiring the Chief Secretary to file the same by August 31. The court said the matter had, thereafter, been placed before it on applications filed by the petitioners and interveners invoking its jurisdiction under Article 215 of the Constitution.

The court was assisted in the matter on the applicants’ behalf by senior advocate Sanjay Kaushal. Another application in the same matter was filed through counsel Gagneshwar Walia and Hargun Sethi, and was argued by senior advocate Chetan Mittal.

Govt has no moral right to remain in power, says Dhillon

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

BJP state president Kewal Singh Dhillon has said that the Punjab Government’s alleged attempt to mislead the court in the dearness allowance (DA) matter and the manner in which it was allegedly deceiving eight lakh employees and pensioners had been exposed in the Punjab and Haryana High Court.

In a press statement issued from the party office in Chandigarh, he said after the government was allegedly found to have made a false statement before the court, the AAP government had no moral right to remain in power. — TNS

Ensure time-bound payment: Pargat

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

Punjab Pradesh Congress Committee president and MLA Pargat Singh criticised the Aam Aadmi Party government over the Punjab and Haryana High Court issuing a contempt notice to Chief Secretary KAK Sinha in connection with pending dearness allowance (DA) arrears of government employees and pensioners. Pargat Singh said the government should make the complete status of the matter public and announce a clear, time-bound roadmap for payment of the outstanding DA arrears. — TNS

ED summons brother-in-law of CM in ₹5-cr bribery case

RUCHIKA M KHANNA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has summoned Amardeep Singh Grewal, brother-in-law of Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann, for questioning in connection with the alleged Rs 5-crore bribery case, in which the name of Dr Gurpreet Kaur Mann, the Chief Minister’s wife, has also cropped up.

Sources in the ED said Grewal was initially asked to appear before the high-intensity unit (HIU) on October 7, but he sought an adjournment. He has now been asked to appear at the ED’s Delhi office on October 9.

“In the Punjab Chief Minister’s wife bribe case, the ED has summoned CM’s brother-in-law Amardeep Singh Grewal,” an official source said.

Grewal is a prominent Punjabi film personality associated with East Sunshine Production Private Limited. He has been associated with Punjabi films, including “Maujan Hi Maujan” and “Snowman”, and has overseas production and release linkages, the source said. The movies were produced after the AAP government was formed, he added.

The alleged bribery controversy relates to a rape case registered in Amritsar, in which allegations were made that Grewal had offered to get the investigation scuttled in lieu of a Rs 5-crore bribe.

Ex-HC judge moves court for compensation from CM’s wife

RAMKRISHAN UPADHYAY
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 6

Justice Ranjit Singh, a former judge of the Punjab and Haryana High Court and Chairman of the Punjab Human Rights Organisation (PHRO), has filed an application before a Chandigarh court seeking compensation of Rs 50,000, along with 12 per cent interest, from the date of the ad interim injunction granted on September 8, 2026, until realisation.

The application, filed through advocate Charanjit Singh Bakshi, states that Section 95 of the Code of Civil Procedure provides for compensation for obtaining an injunction on insufficient grounds.

On September 25, Dr Prikshit, Civil Judge (Junior Division), Chandigarh, allowed an application filed by Justice Ranjit

Singh (retired) and vacated the ex parte ad interim injunction passed against him on September 8, 2026.

The injunction had restrained him from publishing, circulating or making any unverified defamatory content concerning an alleged demand for a bribe, prejudicial to the interests of Gurpreet Kaur, wife of the Punjab CM, on social media platforms.

The order was passed in a suit filed by Dr Gurpreet Kaur seeking damages and an injunction. She alleged that the former judge had made allegations against her at a press conference concerning an alleged demand for Rs 5 crore from an accused in a rape case, with the intent to tarnish her image.

Bakshi argued that Gurpreet Kaur had made false and misleading averments in the suit.

The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) subsequently took cognisance of a complaint concerning the allegations and sought an action-taken report from the Punjab Chief Secretary and the Director General of Police.

The controversy later reached the high court.

2 more students of LPU held over campus violence

PHAGWARA, OCTOBER 6

Two more students of Lovely Professional University (LPU) were arrested on Tuesday in connection with the alleged violence and arson on the campus on September 27, taking the total number of arrests in the case to 14.

The arrested students were identified as Ishush Mahajan of Ghumiarvi village in Bilaspur, Himachal Pradesh, and Anuj of Unthai village in Thanesar tehsil of Kurukshetra, Haryana. Both were arrested in connection with FIR No. 163 registered at the Satnamputra police station here.

Kaithal girl quizzed for Reddit post

The FIR was lodged against the duo on charges of mischief, robbery and damaging campus property.

Meanwhile, the police reportedly questioned a girl student from Siwan village in Kaithal over a post she had uploaded on Reddit regarding reports of the alleged rape of a hostel resident at the campus by a worker. She was reportedly detained for questioning but was subsequently released.

The circumstances surrounding the post and the police inquiry are part of the ongoing investigation.

AMRITSAR, OCTOBER 6

Bhagat Ravidass’s vision of “Begumpura” imagined a society free from social, political and economic hierarchies. Centuries later, his legacy has become central to the assertion of a community whose political significance carries weight in Punjab’s electoral politics. With the state government earmarking Rs 100 crore to mark his 650th birth anniversary, a larger question has emerged over how his spiritual vision of equality is being interpreted within electoral politics.

Harinder Singh, scholar and founder of SikhRI, USA, said the problem began with how Ravidass was understood. Delivering a lecture at Bhai Vir Singh Niwas Sthaan as part of the 650th birth anniversary celebrations organised by the Bhai Vir Singh Heritage Museum and Ex-ambassador Navdeep Suri delivers a lecture in Amritsar.

Library, he said debates over whether to describe him as Bhagat, Sant or Guru Ravidass had overshadowed his vision of an egalitarian society.

The discussion also examined issues beyond Ravidass and Begumpura, including beadbhi, institutional credibility and accountability within the Sikh community. Former ambassador Navdeep Suri, Sikh scholars HS Gill and MLA Amritsar South Dr Inderbir Singh Nijjar participated in the discussion.

Transport constraints

Commuting must be made affordable and safe

INDIA's first National Household Travel Survey has laid bare the challenges faced by commuters. Conducted by the National Statistics Office between July 2025 and June 2026, the survey covered nearly 5 lakh households and 20 lakh people. Its findings should shape the transport policy. The most striking aspect is the dominance of two-wheelers. They account for 42.6% of trips to workplaces, with the share rising to 52.3% among urban workers. Public transport carries only about 15% of work commuters, while mass-transit systems such as metros and suburban rail serve just around 5% of urban workers nationally. This dependence on private vehicles is understandable where public transport is unreliable, inaccessible or poorly connected. But it is hardly sustainable for India's rapidly growing cities.

Maharashtra, West Bengal and Delhi demonstrate that people prefer mass transit when it is easily available. The key task is to replicate such accessibility across other urban centres — not merely by building metro lines, but by integrating buses, rail, walking, cycling and last-mile connectivity. The gender findings are equally important. Only 41.9% of women workers travel at least one kilometre to work, compared with 61.9% of men. In rural India, the gap is wider still. Lower commuting expenditure among women reflects mobility constraints and fewer employment opportunities.

Cost is another concern. The average worker spends Rs 785 a month on commuting, but the burden rises to Rs 1,044 in urban areas. For low-income households, transport is not a minor expense — it can influence where people work, study and live. Policymakers now have invaluable evidence at their disposal. They must use it to redesign routes, improve frequency, make public transport safer and more accessible for women, and create pedestrian/bicycle-friendly neighbourhoods. A modern transport policy should make it possible for Indians to travel affordably, safely and sustainably, reducing reliance on private vehicles.

Brain breakthrough

Light opens a window into neuroscience

THE 2026 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine has been awarded to Karl Deisseroth, Peter Hegemann and Georg Nagel for discoveries that have given scientists a new way to study the brain. Their work led to optogenetics — a technique that uses light to control selected nerve cells. The idea is easier to understand than the name suggests. The brain contains billions of nerve cells, or neurons, which communicate through electrical and chemical signals. To understand how the brain controls movement, memory, emotions and behaviour, scientists need to know what particular groups of neurons do. This was difficult because earlier techniques could observe brain activity but could not control individual cells precisely.

The breakthrough began with a light-sensitive protein found in a single-celled alga. Scientists studied how the protein responds to light and eventually adapted the discovery to make neurons sensitive to light. Researchers could then switch selected nerve cells on or off and observe what happened. The significance of the technique is profound. Instead of merely observing that a part of the brain was active during an action or emotion, scientists could test whether activating or silencing particular cells actually caused that response. They could work to test how particular nerve cells make things happen. This has opened new ways of understanding how the brain works.

The discovery is also a striking demonstration of how basic scientific research can lead to unexpected breakthroughs. A light-sensitive protein in a tiny alga, studied to understand how the organism responds to light, eventually became a powerful tool for investigating one of nature's greatest mysteries: the human brain. The Nobel, therefore, recognises a new way of asking questions about the brain. Optogenetics has opened a new window and further exploration could reveal much more about how the brain works.

Progressive parties

WITH the filing of nomination papers by candidates in some of the provinces, the General Elections may be said to have begun in right earnest. The stage of mere preparations is over. The country is now in the throes of the actual contest. In the two provinces in which candidates have so far been nominated, the large majority of the seats are being contested in some cases by more than two candidates. This is exactly as it should be, and shows that to the only part of the present Constitution that is really valuable — the exercise of the franchise — the country is no longer either hostile or apathetic. On one point, however, we must once again utter a word of warning. In our opinion, it would be a great mistake at this stage to oppose the return of the best men in any of the progressive parties, and especially their accredited leaders. The reason is perfectly obvious. In spite of all that has happened or may happen in the immediate future, the progressive parties in our legislatures are and will for some time continue to be His Majesty's Opposition at least on the main issue; and as long as the government continues to be exclusive, and to rely upon its exceptional powers of certification and veto to carry on the administration irrespective of the wishes of the people, it is not merely the strength but the quality of the Opposition that will matter. To slightly alter the words of Dr Johnson, it is not enough merely to outvote the government; it is necessary at every stage to outargue them. For this, it is essential that as many as possible of our best men should be in the Councils.

Three years on, Israel has less leeway

The world is speaking up against the illegality of Israeli actions after 2023 Hamas attack

THE third anniversary of the October 7, 2023, massacre in Israel comes at an unusual time. Opposition parties are asking Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to respond to allegations that Egypt and the UAE had warned him about an imminent attack by Hamas just days before it happened. His refusal to allow an independent State Commission of Inquiry has only fuelled speculation about what he knew about the attack and when he knew about it.

With the Israeli elections coming up on October 27, the near-tragedy of the flydubai flight to Tel Aviv last week has also been thrown into the political scrum. The Opposition in Israel is calling the episode an intelligence failure, even as Netanyahu is co-opting the undoubted valour of Capt Smit Machchhar to present himself as the resolute leader in the face of a 9/11-type suicide mission. For Netanyahu, the forthcoming elections are more than a matter of political survival. They are also his “stay out of jail” card as he faces criminal charges of bribery, fraud and breach of trust in Israeli courts and an arrest warrant for war crimes issued by the International Criminal Court. Opinion polls predict a close race. In a development that reminds us of events closer to home, Israel's Supreme Court announced a unanimous verdict on October 2, overturning a decision of the Central Elections Committee to disqualify two Arab-majority parties from running in the elections.

HIGH STAKES : For PM Netanyahu, the forthcoming elections are more than a matter of political survival. REUTERS

October 7 also reminds us that it is almost a year since US President Donald Trump announced the Gaza Peace Agreement in Sharm el-Sheikh on October 25, 2025. It secured the release of all Israeli hostages but has failed to alleviate the plight of the Palestinians, who continue to face near-daily attacks despite the supposed ceasefire. Israel has taken effective control of the fertile eastern part of Gaza through its ‘Yellow Line’ buffer zone, with Netanyahu boasting that he has instructed the Israeli Defence Forces to expand this newly occupied zone from 60% of Gaza to 70%.

Even before October 7, 2023, the two million inhabitants of Gaza lived in one of the most crowded places on earth, barely 41 km long and 6-12 km wide. It was called the world's largest open-air prison because land, air and sea access were controlled by Israel. And now, the same population has been squeezed into ramshackle tents on a narrow coastal strip without access to sanitation, healthcare or education. Google Maps contrasting the period before and after October 7 are a stark reminder of the destruction wrought in Gaza by Israel's genocidal campaign. The aim, articulated frequently by several Israeli leaders, is to “encourage the voluntary departure of Palestinians.”

It is in India's interest to stand up for international law and a rules-based order.

Meanwhile, the pogroms being launched by extremist Jewish settlers against Palestinians in the occupied West tion. The politicians are listening to their voters. A Pew opinion poll in July revealed that 60% of American adults have an unfavourable view of Israel, with those under 30 expressing a more favourable view of the Palestinian people (58%) than of the Israelis (32%). Among young Democrats, the gap is even starker — 72% favour Palestinians and just 26% prefer Israelis.

Clearly, the world is watching, and beginning to speak up loud and clear against the manifest illegality of Israeli actions. The recently concluded 81st session of the UN General Assembly saw France, the UK, Italy, Denmark, Spain, Ireland and half a dozen other European countries condemn the expansion of illegal settlements and threaten trade restrictions and other sanctions against products and services emanating from these settlements. These countries have traditionally been some of Israel's staunchest allies, rather than the Asian or African states that could be airily dismissed as the usual suspects.

India, historically one of the most vocal supporters of the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people, has been largely missing in action, even though we continue to provide financial, medical and technical aid to the Palestinian Authority in Ramallah. Our expanding defence and intelligence partnership with Israel is, of course, a vital part of our national security architecture; our categorical denunciation of the 2023 Hamas terror attack was the right thing to do. But speaking up against the horrors in Gaza and the occupied West Bank and calling out the illegality of the attack on Iran is also the right thing to do.

Even in this transactional age of Trump, where principles and morality are quaint relics of the past, it is in our interest to stand up for international law and a rules-based order. This is the time to stand firm, rediscover our voice and reclaim our place on the right side of history.

From dakia to drone in the mountains

KR BHARTI

NEWS reports about drones carrying mail into the remote mountains of Himachal Pradesh took me back almost four decades to Pangi, where I served as SDM from 1986 to 1989. I had to walk more than 50 km over rugged mountain trails, crossing streams and negotiating stretches of snow-covered terrain, to reach Killar, the headquarters of Pangi.

After completing a long and arduous journey of six days from my village in Hamirpur district, the first thought that crossed my mind was to send a message home informing my family that I had reached safely. But communication in Pangi had its own pace — and its own hardships.

There was a Sub-Post Office in Killar, but with no roads and virtually no means of conventional transport, mail delivery was entirely manual. Letters were carried by dakias, locally known as harkaras, under tough conditions. A letter could take days, sometimes weeks or even months, to be delivered.

Fortunately, the Postal Department had a wireless facility at Killar. A message could be transmitted by wireless to the district headquarters and from there sent onward by telegraph. But telegrams had to be brief — every word mattered. There was little room for pleasantries or explanations. The language was stark in its simplicity: “Self OK, wire your welfare.”

I sent home a telegram and waited for the reply. Days turned into weeks, but there was no reply. Silence did not necessarily mean that a reply had not been sent. It simply meant that the mountains had once again come between you and the people you loved.

Among the various measures undertaken by the Himachal government to spur the development of this remote region was the introduction of ‘single-line administration’. A senior IAS officer was appointed the first Resident Commissioner, making him the administrative head of all departments in Pangi.

The officer was keen that the people of this remote valley should be introduced to the new world of television. I was entrusted with the task of contacting a Delhi-based firm dealing in dish antennas. As luck would have it, members of the Vidhan Sabha Committee on SC & ST Welfare happened to visit Killar by helicopter. The Resident Commissioner linked my tour programme with that of the Committee. As we rose above the valley in a chopper, it struck me that the very mountains which had appeared so formidable now looked strangely small and vulnerable.

Within barely an hour, I was in Pathankot. The Vidhan Sabha Secretary gave me a lift in his car from Pathankot to Hamirpur. I could hardly believe that I had covered in about six hours a journey that had earlier taken me six days to complete.

A child in a remote Himalayan village may watch a drone descend silently from the sky carrying a postal bag, scarcely imagining that not so long ago, a dakia braved snow, rain and biting winds to deliver letters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Rule of law should be paramount

Apropos of ‘CEC is not the Election Commission’; the Supreme Court's firm reminder to the apex poll body regarding the execution of the Special Intensive Revision of electoral rolls brings much-needed institutional accountability to our democracy. Recent disclosures highlighting how decisions were taken without unanimous consent or consensus strike at the very core of our constitutional framework. The Chief Election Commissioner acts as a chairperson within a collegiate body, not an individual commander. Bypassing internal consensus directly compromises democratic integrity. In a robust republic, constitutional values and the rule of law must remain paramount over any single office or official.

Challenges for GST Council

Apropos of ‘GST reforms’; sound reasoning endorses the proposed shift from departmental arrests to judicial oversight to curb harassment of taxpayers. Quick conclusive redressal of disputes is essential. An immediate Centre-state consensus must bring transport fuels under the pan-India GST ambit, not only to reduce logistics costs by promoting their movement through pipelines instead of roads, but also to curb the glaring disparity in VAT rates — just 1% in the Andamans, 35.2% in Telangana. Bringing alcohol under its ambit is another lingering challenge for the GST Council.

Growing cynicism among voters

With reference to ‘Punjab's politics needs change’; populist and vote-bank politics have influenced the current political landscape in the state, leading to growing public cynicism. Major parties, affected by ideological differences, defections, internal splits and opportunistic alliances, are adopting various strategies to win the upcoming Assembly elections. Punjab direly needs a dedicated, visionary leadership for a transformative change in its degraded political culture and for restoring public trust. Whichever party the voters choose should introduce structural reforms in various sectors and ensure transparent and accountable governance, economic stability and job creation to restore public confidence and institutional credibility.

DS KANG, HOSHIARPUR

AAP failed to deliver

Refer to ‘Punjab's politics needs change’; the people of the state, who had high hopes from the Aam Aadmi Party, gave it a chance in 2022 only to be let down. AAP, which had promised to create jobs and improve state's revenue, failed to meet people's expectations. Voters are at a crossroads, wondering which political party to vote for. While there seems to be no end to factionalism in Congress, the SAD has failed to change its leadership, further disappointing the people.

RAVINDER SINGH, JALANDHAR

Khaps were for different times

Refer to ‘Khaps must evolve with times’; we are living in the 21st century. Education, mobility, greater interaction between young men and women and exposure to a globalised world are inevitably transforming social relationships. Young people cannot be expected to surrender their personal choices to customs framed for a very different social order. Attempts to forcibly restrain this change can create conflict and even put young lives at risk. Interestingly, khaps are increasingly wearing multiple hats — as farmers' representatives, caste leaders and social crusaders — sometimes becoming instruments of political mobilisation and caste consolidation, thereby deepening social divisions.

RAMPHAL KATARIA, KURUKSHETRA

Khaps must shift focus

Apropos of ‘Khaps must evolve with times’; a democratic society cannot tolerate parallel structures overriding individual rights. The author rightly notes that reform must pass the test of legality, fairness and human dignity. If khaps wish to remain resilient community anchors rather than obsolete relics of regimentation, they must abandon moral policing. True survival lies in championing education, gender equity, creating constructive opportunities for the youth, and preserving regional identity through enlightened reform rather than cultural orthodoxy.

Economic karma is pointing south

R JAGANNATHAN
SENIOR JOURNALIST

THE economy is sending mixed — even opposite — signals. While the structural problems related to job creation are widely recognised, what is baffling most observers is why an economy growing at over 7% consistently is seeing its currency drop precipitously and its stock market even more so.

Over the last four quarters (July-Sep & Oct-Dec 2025 and Jan-Mar & Apr-Jun 2026), GDP has grown robustly in the range of 7.8% or more. But over the last 12 months, the rupee has fallen by a similar percentage and the Nifty 50 has cratered by twice that amount (14-15%) just between January and early October this year.

However, the voices which tend to believe that the GDP numbers may be cooked up are wrong. Not because the latest GDP methodology is 100% correct, but because all GDP figures are estimates and they keep getting revised over succeeding quarters as more data becomes available. If anything is cooked up, it will show up in the coming quarters. So we should not get bogged down by the fake data argument to explain the confusing signals.

There are several reasons why these divergences exist. The GDP measures the overall growth, while the currency tracks demand for foreign exchange against demand for rupees. The stock markets are discounting the future, while the GDP tells us what happened in the past. But clearly, headline growth is not doing much for the currency or delivering a feel-good factor on the wealth front, which is what the stock market reflects.

When markets rise, the general sense of financial well-being increases among the investing class and this reflects in decisions like buying new products or investing in a home. But, thanks to the GCT cuts and the income tax bonanza given to middle-class taxpayers in the 2025-26 Budget, there is no sign that people with money have (yet) stopped or delayed discretionary spending (on cars, bikes, ACs, fridges), though there is concern over the failed monsoon, which could dent rural purchasing power.

Exports are booming despite tariffs and a weakening global trade scenario (15.5% in April-August 2026), which is faster than the underlying growth in the economy. Put simply, even in a bad trading environment, exports are pulling our growth rates up rather than down. But there is still trade pessimism. After raising more than $140 billion in foreign currency (non-resident) deposits and through external commercial borrowings, the RBI is being forced to defend the rupee to prevent a faster decline.

Another contrast: Over the last two financial years (and five months of this year up to August), Indian investors have pumped just under Rs 8 lakh crore through systematic investment plans (SIPs), much of it in stocks, but the markets have still tanked. So what exactly is going wrong? Why are the rupee and markets heading south when the economy is heading north?

There are times when no matter what you do to reform or correct your own economic policies, things you cannot control will damage you. Call it the law of economic karma, where it is not the things you do right that matter in the short-to-medium term, but the larger political and economic sins of the world that are coming to visit you.

This does not mean we should stop doing the right things (deregulation, rationalisation of taxes, simplifying rules for foreign investment), but doing the right things does not always guarantee instant results. So, let's instead understand why economic effort and outcomes are showing contradictory trends.

First, and probably the most important factor for markets to underperform, is rising global interest rates.

First, and probably the most important factor for markets to underperform, is rising global interest rates. The benchmark US dollar treasury bond yield is 5.3% and counting, marking its highest point in 24 years. Even the Japanese 10-year bond has crossed 3.1%, highest since 1996. And this in an economy which spent more than three decades in stagnation. The point here is simple: When risk-free dollar bonds can give you such high returns, why take the risk with stocks denominated in rupee?

Consider this math: If you invest in US 10-year bonds, you get a 5.3% risk-free return; add rupee depreciation of between 4-5% annually based on past trends, and you are effectively getting zero if you invest in India. This is why foreign portfolio investors are voting with their feet, even while rupee investors continue to believe in the India story.

Second, the key to stock prices is liquidity — the amount of money chasing stocks — and not only corporate fundamentals. You may own the most profitable company in the world, but if a lot of money is not chasing it, its prices won't rise much. Right now, governments are not only borrowing more at higher rates, but a lot of the spending is going into areas like defence and subsidies. And the money flowing into stocks is flowing disproportionately into tech and AI companies. This is draining the pool of money available for other stocks.

Since India is not (yet) a major AI player, the surge in global tech stocks has bypassed us. Foreign investors think risk-free US bonds and tech equity are better bets than Indian stocks. Once this feeling passes — as it surely will — they will look at India again.

Three, there is the oil shock, thanks to the weaponisation of the Strait of Hormuz, sanctions on Russian oil and destruction of energy infrastructure in Russia, Ukraine and West Asia. India has, so far, managed these shocks well, but the markets know that this cannot be sustained and higher fuel, fertiliser, food and other costs will slow down growth as prices rise. More so when domestic interest rates start rising.

Four, voters are in turmoil the world over. There is a real possibility that the Republican party will lose in the November senate and Congress elections, leaving it with a lame-duck president. Not that Donald Trump has done particularly well when he wasn't much of a lame duck, but things could get worse as the President and Congress start moving in opposite directions.

In Europe, anti-immigration parties are growing in electoral strength and youth unemployment is raising its spectre everywhere even as AI threatens jobs. Governments will, in this scenario, throw more money at the problem, worsening their own finances in the bargain. Everywhere, social media is being used to encourage the forces threatening law and order.

We saw that during our anti-NEET protests (and now the anti-Chief Election Commissioner protests), and in the Bangladesh and Nepal movements that ended up ousting governments. The violent student protests in France have just seen a partial government capitulation.

The anger and anxiety among youths is being weaponised and even when the goals are achieved, the problems will get worse, not better. One should ask: Assuming the CEC resigns, will the protesters go home? Or will new demands be raised to keep the agitated youth's mindset alive till it results in political change?

But even if there is a new government in place tomorrow, will it be able to deliver better on jobs? The slow collapse of law and order is not going to do anything to restore growth and market confidence in the short-to-medium term.

The economic and karmic cycle is turning adverse and it will be a while before it becomes virtuous again. We have to batten down the hatches and wait for the storm to clear before betting on economic optimism again.

When Washington wavers, Japan matters

MANOJ JOSHI
DISTINGUISHED FELLOW,
OBSERVER RESEARCH FOUNDATION

LAST week's phone conversation between Prime Minister Modi and US President Trump was, to go by the readouts, "productive" and "reaffirmed commitments" between India and the US. But it was in reality a damage-control exercise sparked by the threat of 100% tariffs brought on by the Graham Act and the ongoing trade friction preventing the two sides from working out a trade agreement.

The formal framing of the readout of the phone call between the two, who had in past called each other "good friends" underscored this, as did US Trade Representative Jamieson Greer's admission that the deal was not quite imminent.

The lesson is not that Delhi should wait out Trump's tenure. Those who expect a successor to restore the old intimacy are betting on a past that was already eroding. That means building depth with other middle powers, and the most consequential of these is Japan.

Japan's experience with the US has been different from that with India considering that the US is its military ally and security guarantor in a difficult region. Last year, Japan's trade agreement with the US involved 15% tariff, a commitment to $550 billion investments in the US and $8 billion annual agriculture/energy purchases.

Tokyo has responded with a shift in its defence policy and a sharp boost of its military expenditure. Last month, Jennifer Kavanagh of the Defense Priorities think tank in Washington DC, called for the scrapping of every single mutual defence treaty in Asia to be terminated or phased out. Today, hers may be a minority view in Washington, but you can be sure that after the experience of west Asia, people are listening.

Geography unites India and Japan as do geopolitics, economics and trade. Located on two ends of the Indo-Pacific, they are ideally suited to fill the vacuum left by the de facto US recusal from the region. Both have uncomfortable relations with China, whose industrial capacity and military is looming over the region. Both depend on sea lanes across the Indian Ocean for trade and energy.

Since the Alondra Rainbow incident of 1999, Japan has realised the significant role India could play in diplomatic and security balancing to protect its energy sea lanes. The Alondra Rainbow was captured by pirates in the South China Sea and after a chase by the Indian Navy and Coast Guard, the vessel was recaptured.

Given its military reticence, initial collaboration with India on security issues was worked through their respective Coast Guards, but now features bilateral and multilateral exercises between their armed forces.

In July, the two sides held their 16th Annual Summit in New Delhi. Here, the two unveiled a comprehensive roadmap to expand their partnership. They issued a formal Joint Statement on Energy Resilience to share experiences in building up strategic petroleum reserves. The two have also set up an LNG stockpiling task force to jointly manage disruptions and mitigate price shocks.

Protecting sea lanes is an important aspect of energy resilience. In August this year, the two sides entered into a Memorandum of Arrangement on Maritime Security Cooperation. This agreement allows the Indian Navy and the Japanese Maritime Self-Defence Force (JMSDF) to share real-time maritime intelligence, conduct joint anti-piracy measures and mine counter-measure operations and grant reciprocal access to each other for ship repairs and logistics.

Japan brings in real assets here. The Indian Navy is more than twice the size of its Japanese counterpart by numbers, but in heavy ocean-going ships, Japan is roughly three and a half times larger. It also fields 23 advanced diesel-electric submarines to India's 18.

An important and ongoing aspect of their ties are the relationships relating to investment, trade and technology, which are growing by leaps and bounds. Defence technology is of special interest in view of Japan's capabilities in a range of areas. Its electronics industry is well known, but it has also developed hypersonic and unmanned combat aircraft technology.

Recently, it launched a Taigai-class submarine, whose high-capacity lithium-ion batteries make it the most advanced conventional submarine in the world. Japan also has an advanced aerospace sector developing a sixth-generation stealth fighter with the UK.

In a first ever defence technology transfer, India and Japan are collaborating in Project Unicorn for a stealth sensor mast. A major area for cooperation is AI through the India-Japan Digital Partnership and the two sides plan to place 500 Indian AI professionals in Japan by 2030.

India and Japan therefore have an opportunity that extends beyond the immediate uncertainties in their respective relationships with Washington. Neither can replace the US, nor should that be their objective. The more useful goal is to build a web of capabilities among countries that have a direct stake in keeping the Indo-Pacific open, secure and resilient. For India, Japan is particularly important because the relationship can combine maritime security, energy resilience, technology, defence production and economic security.

None of this should be oversold. Japan will not follow India on Russian oil; it has aligned with the US sanctions policy, and that limits how far either can cover for the other's exposure to Washington. For the near future, indeed, it remains a part of the US' alliance system.

But Japan needs partners capable of contributing to the security of the sea lanes that connect it to West Asia and Europe. The emerging India-Japan relationship consequently has significance beyond bilateral ties. As US strategic commitment becomes less predictable, the two countries need to create a regional balance in which responsibility for security is distributed more widely — and in which neither has to depend on Washington alone.

SC intervention on SIR deletions raises hope for corrective action: CM Omar

Says Uniform Civil Code must be debated in Parliament; rules out its implementation in J&K

ADIL AKHZER

SRINAGAR, OCTOBER 6 Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister Omar Abdullah on Tuesday said it remains to be seen how far the Supreme Court will go in rectifying the issue of deletions from electoral rolls after seeking responses from the Election Commission and the Union government on the Special Intensive Revision (SIR). Talking to reporters in Srinagar, Omar welcomed the Supreme Court’s intervention and said the INDIA bloc’s protest against the issue would continue. “It is a good thing. Now, the Supreme Court is also raising questions, especially about the deletions on the basis of which the names of people have been removed from the voter list,” he said. “The Supreme Court has also asked for an answer from the Election Commission and the Government of India. We are waiting to see how this will be rectified by the court,” Omar said. The Chief Minister said Tuesday’s protest in Delhi was part of the programme decided by the INDIA bloc. “Under the calendar, the members of Parliament of the INDIA bloc were informed. Today, they had a programme to march to the Election Commission. This process will continue,” he said. Omar also said the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) would not be implemented in Jammu and

Omar Abdullah, Chief Minister, J&K

Kashmir. “The Uniform Civil Code does not apply until it is applicable everywhere. We will not apply the Uniform Civil Code here. In Bihar also, Nitish Kumar’s party has said that they will not apply it. Similarly, there are other governments who have said that they will not apply the Uniform Civil Code,” he said. Omar asked the BJP to bring a Bill in Parliament for debate on the issue. “Then see if it gets passed in Parliament or not. They will not bring a law in Parliament because they do not have the numbers to pass it. That is why, one by one, the BJP is doing it in their states, which is wrong,” he said. The National Conference vice-president also drew a distinction between illegal Bangladeshi migrants and Rohingya refugees. “If you look at it, we did not face any difficulties with their stay here. But it is also true that they cannot stay here illegally,” he said. “The people who have come from Bangladesh without permission, it is a different matter for them. But the Rohingyas, who are being targeted for no reason, when they were driven out of their country, we gave them a place here,” Omar said. He said India had allowed the Rohingyas to stay until the situation in their country improved. “Now, to suddenly take action against them, I find it strange. But this is not in our hands. This falls under the Government of India, and they are taking the assistance of the police for this. The police are not under our control either. So, it is better that you ask this question to those who have command over the police,” he said.

Four nabbed as Jammu police bust cross-border drug racket

OUR CORRESPONDENT

JAMMU, OCTOBER 6

Jammu police have busted a suspected cross-border drug smuggling racket with the arrest of four persons, including a Punjab resident, and the recovery of heroin, opium resin and a pistol. According to police, two residents of border villages in the Arnia sector were arrested on October 3 during a naka operation. Preliminary investigation suggests that the narcotics consignment was delivered through drones from across the International Border. A police spokesperson said a surprise checkpoint was established at Tamala Bridge in Arnia on October 3. At around 10.45 pm, two persons travelling on a motorcycle were intercepted by the naka party.

Heroin, opium resin, Beretta pistol recovered from accused

The accused were identified as Rahul Kumar of Trewa and Ajay Kumar of Talhar in the Arnia sector. During the search, police recovered 264 grams of heroin-like substance, along with packing material, a silver-coloured Beretta pistol and two magazines from Rahul Kumar. Another 276 grams of heroin-like substance, two magazines and four live rounds were recovered from Ajay Kumar. Station House Officer (SHO), Arnia police station, Darshan Singh, said the seized narcotics were suspected to have been dropped by drones originating from across the border.

An FIR under Sections 8, 21, 22 and 29 of the NDPS Act and Section 3/25 of the Arms Act was registered at Arnia police station and investigation taken up. Police said that during sustained interrogation of the two accused, another suspect, Ajay Kumar alias Sam, was arrested and 464 grams of opium resin and 13.3 grams of heroin were recovered from his possession. “He is being questioned regarding the source and procurement of the recovered narcotics,” police said. Further investigation led to the arrest of Jaganpreet Randhawa alias Jaggi from Punjab, who is suspected to be part of the forward supply network. Police said efforts are underway to unravel the entire smuggling nexus and identify other persons involved.

‘Illegal’ structure linked to Afzal Guru’s kin razed

OUR CORRESPONDENT

SRINAGAR, OCTOBER 6

The Jammu and Kashmir administration on Tuesday demolished a structure allegedly built on state land by the family of Parliament attack convict Mohammad Afzal Guru in north Kashmir’s Baramulla district. Officials said the structure, identified as a dairy farm shed, was located on a flood basin near Gulnar Park and was removed during an anti-encroachment drive conducted by the district administration. Security personnel were deployed in the area during the operation, officials said. Family members alleged that no prior notice had been served before the demolition. “They demolished it without giving us any notice,” a family member claimed. Meanwhile, Baramulla district authorities said several kanals of prime state land under alleged illegal occupation were retrieved during the anti-encroachment drive.

Census 2027: J&K, Ladakh complete enumeration in snow-bound areas

OUR CORRESPONDENT

JAMMU, OCTOBER 6

The Directorate of Census Operations of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh has completed population enumeration in the snow-bound areas of the two Union Territories, marking an important operational milestone for Census 2027. With the exercise completed in the snow-bound areas, population enumeration in the remaining non-snow-bound areas of Jammu and Kashmir is scheduled to be conducted in February 2027. Ladakh has become the first Union Territory in the country to complete population enumeration for Census 2027 and will not be part of the February 2027 enumeration schedule. Amit Sharma, Chief Principal Census Officer (CPCO) and Director of Census Operations (DCO), J&K and Ladakh, described the completion of the exercise as a significant operational achievement.

Amit Sharma, Chief Principal Census Officer, J&K and Ladakh, addresses a press conference on Tuesday.

The exercise covered 5,292 Enumeration Blocks (EBs)—4,597 in J&K and 695 in Ladakh—across designated snow-bound areas. It required extensive preparation, specialised field arrangements and close coordination with district administrations and special charges. Special charges are areas under the control of security forces where public access is restricted. Addressing the media in Jammu, Sharma said the Directorate would now focus on prescribed post-enumeration processes in the completed areas while ensuring that preparations for the February exercise in the remaining areas of J&K remain on schedule. The snow-bound population enumeration was preceded by self-enumeration from August 17 to 31, followed by field operations from September 1 to 30. In Ladakh, the entire Union Territory was covered during the September exercise, with 695 Enumeration Blocks completed—367 in Leh and 328 in Kargil.

In J&K, the snow-bound operation covered 16 districts and 95 charges. Doda recorded the highest number of completed Enumeration Blocks at 798, followed by Kishtwar with 602, Ramban with 418, Anantnag with 377 and Baramulla with 359. Reasi recorded 345 completed EBs, while Udhampur had 313. Kishtwar district was declared fully snow-bound and has consequently become the first district in the country to complete population enumeration for Census 2027. Sharma appreciated the coordinated efforts of district administrations, Census officials, special charges, enumerators and supervisors, as well as the cooperation extended by residents. The snow-bound operation was supported by substantial logistical and financial arrangements, with approximately Rs 49.2 crore released to the respective districts for infrastructure and allowances.

BJP seeks faster deportation of illegal immigrants

OUR CORRESPONDENT

SRINAGAR, OCTOBER 6

A day after 150 Bangladeshi immigrants were flown out of Kashmir, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) on Tuesday called for accelerating the deportation process and urged authorities to act swiftly in all confirmed cases of illegal immigration. In a statement, BJP J&K spokesperson and former MLC Girdhari Lal Raina said Jammu and Kashmir Police and intelligence agencies had conducted surveys to identify Rohingya, Bangladeshi and other undocumented foreign nationals residing in the Union Territory. He claimed that the Jammu and Kashmir administration had submitted verified data to the Centre’s High-Level Committee on Demographic Change (HLCDC), identifying around 8,160 undocumented foreign nationals across Jammu and Kashmir. “Security assessments indicate that the actual number could be much higher, particularly in cases where individuals may have obtained forged or fraudulent local documents,” he said. The BJP leader also called for a comprehensive investigation into illegal entry, procurement of forged documents and local networks allegedly facilitating unauthorised settlement, particularly in sensitive border districts. He demanded strict action against agents, middlemen, landlords and other facilitators found involved in illegal entry, human trafficking, sheltering of undocumented immigrants or arranging fraudulent documents. He also sought a probe into any possible links with hawala operations, foreign funding, organised crime or terror networks.

Harmanpreet steps down...

Harmanpreet, who made her T20I and ODI debuts in 2009, captained India in 211 matches — five Tests, 51 ODIs and 155 T20Is. In 2018, she led the team to the T20 World Cup semifinals after having taken over the full-time role from Mithali Raj. She followed that up with a runners-up finish at the T20 World Cup in 2020. In red-ball cricket, she led India to a 347-run win over England, which remains the biggest victory margin in women’s Tests. Harmanpreet also captained India to three T20 Asia Cup titles (2016, 2022, 2026) and two Asian Games gold medals (2023, 2026). Her biggest achievement as captain, though, came last year, when she led India to the ODI World Cup triumph, ending the women’s team’s long wait for a world title. “I have seen it all. Captaincy may end today, but my love for Indian cricket never will. I feel I have done my duty. I gave this team everything I had. I carried the responsibility with pride, and I will always be grateful for the privilege of leading Indian women’s cricket,” she said.

Air Marshal Dixit named next IAF chief

He will also oversee efforts to indigenise spares for Russian-origin aircraft and the planned upgrade of the Sukhoi-30MKI fleet. Progress on the long-pending procurement of 114 Rafale fighter aircraft is also expected to remain in focus. Born on December 9, 1966, Air Marshal Dixit was commissioned into the fighter stream of the IAF in December 1986. Prior to assuming charge as the Vice Chief of the IAF, Air Marshal Dixit served as the Chief of Integrated Defence Staff. He has commanded the IAF’s Central Command. Air Marshal Dixit has logged over 3,500 flying hours on a range of aircraft, including the Mirage-2000, MiG variants, Jaguar, Hawk and Tejas. He is an experimental test pilot and a qualified flying instructor. During a career spanning nearly four decades, he had been involved in numerous operations and exercises, including Operations Safed Sagar, Rakshak and Sindoor. The Air Marshal has held a number of field and staff appointments. He commanded his Squadron at Gwalior in the Western Sector and a premier fighter training base in the Southern Sector. According to the Ministry of Defence, he contributed significantly to enhancing the operational capability of the IAF while working in various capacities. He is an alumnus of the NDA, the Defence Staff Service College (Bangladesh) and the National Defence College.

Rahul leads 8-hr Oppn charge...

even several Congress leaders by surprise. Rahul entered through the reception area, while Priyanka got off the bus and joined him. The two eventually sat under a tree near Gate No. 4 and refused to leave, demanding either permission to proceed to the EC office or a designated place in Delhi where they could continue their protest. Congress leaders, including Venugopal, Kherra, Imran Pratapgari, Warring, Deepender Hooda and Srinivas BV, subsequently joined the sit-in inside the premises. Outside, Congress workers and supporters gathered at the reception entrance. Some climbed the boundary wall and raised slogans, while Indian Youth Congress and NSUI workers attempted to remain near the building despite repeated police warnings. The police invoked prohibitory orders under Section

163 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita and directed protesters outside the building to vacate the area, warning that those who refused would be detained. Several workers were subsequently taken away in buses. Rahul told reporters from inside the compound that the Opposition MPs merely wanted to meet the Chief Election Commissioner and the Election Commissioners. “If they don’t want us to sit here, give us another place in Delhi. We will sit there comfortably and continue our protest. The Constitution allows people to protest,” he said. He questioned why elected MPs were being stopped from travelling the short distance to the Election Commission headquarters and alleged that the poll panel was refusing to meet representatives of the people. The Opposition INDIA bloc has accused the Election Commission of disenfranchising eligible voters. It has demanded Gyanesh’s resignation and restoration of names “wrongly removed” from the rolls. Rahul has accused PM Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat and Gyanesh of undermining democracy and alleged “vote theft”. The march brought together senior Opposition leaders, including Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav; Trinamool Congress’ Abhishek Banerjee, Derek O’Brien and Sagarika Ghosh; NCP’s Supriya Sule, Shiv Sena (UBT)’s Sanjay Raut and RJD’s Manoj Jha. BJD MPs also joined the protest. The Election Commission, meanwhile, maintained that it had not received any formal request from a political party seeking a meeting amid the standoff.

String of killings puts Pb Police...

17-18 while on PCR duty. Two policemen were killed in Dorangla in Gurdaspur, while ASI Joga Singh was shot dead in Majitha in May. ASI Jaswant Singh was shot at in Rajasansi on September 12, while ASI Sukhchain Singh of the Government Railway Police sustained a gunshot injury to his left arm near Jagdev Khurd in Ajnala on the night of October 4-5. Police officials said influencers were being targeted by local groups or gangsters acting in the name of moral policing. Mad Sandhu had received threats from multiple quarters, including gangsters, and had been informed about them. Another influencer Komal Bhabhi was also targeted by a local group, officials said. The attacks on policemen, on the other hand, were allegedly being orchestrated from across the border based on specific inputs. One official described them as part of a new ISI strategy aimed at denting police morale. According to officials, the ISI is operating through a front organisation called Tehreek-e-Taliban Hindustan (TITH), which exists only online and has no physical presence. The name, they said, was intended to create the impression of an Indian group. “It is a paper organisation, floated so Pakistan and Pakistan-based terror groups can deny involvement,” an official said. A social media post purportedly issued by foreign-based gangster Goldy Dhillon and an associate claimed responsibility for Sandhu’s killing, alleging that he was “corrupting the younger generation”. Spain-based gangster Lucky Johal also claimed responsibility. The police are verifying both claims and examining extortion, personal enmity and hate crime as possible motives. Sandhu had faced objections from certain Nihang groups over his content and attire several months ago. Gangster Prabh Dasuwal had also threatened him in February. In June 2025, influencer Kanchan Kumari, aka Kamal Kaur Bhabhi, was found dead in a car near Bathinda. Self-styled Nihang leader Amritpal Singh Mehron was named the key conspirator. He was deported from the UAE in April 2026. In July, influencer Manjeet Kaur, 28, was allegedly abducted from Chandigarh and set on fire near Morinda. She succumbed to her injuries on August 26. ASI Sukhchain Singh of the Government Railway Police was shot at in Amritsar late on Sunday. Police officials said a personal enmity angle was also being probed, even as Tehreek-e-Taliban Hindustan had claimed responsibility for the attack. (With inputs by Pawan K Jaiswar and Archit Watts)

Indian seafarers hurt in Black Sea...

The injured were rescued by Romanian authorities and were receiving medical attention. “We thank Romanian authorities for their swift action in this incident,” it said. The two incidents, involving commercial vessels navigating two of the world’s strategically important waterways, have put the safety of merchant crews and international shipping back in focus for India. “India views these attacks on commercial shipping and seafarers with grave concern,” the MEA said.

Punjab moves SC against CBI probe...

failed to register an FIR, Saraf filed a PIL highlighting the inaction. The HC on Monday said the information shared by the ED prima facie conveyed commission of cognisable offences in high public office which had the potential of endangering public interest. Noting that only some sort of a “preliminary inquiry” was conducted since the sharing of information by the ED on August 3, the High Court said the Punjab Police were delaying the matter on the pretext of seeking legible copies of ED documents. While notices were issued to many persons, Mann’s OSD was not asked to join the probe, it pointed out. “The material shared by the ED prima facie indicated the involvement of high public officials in acts of corruption and at least required the registration of an FIR. This is not the response of the police,” it said.

Mann cries vendetta as camp office among 8 sites raided...

besides the camp office of the CM. The exercise began around 5.30 pm and ended at 11 pm. Reacting to the searches, CM Mann said the BJP was misusing the CBI to defame him. Claiming that the party was “fearful of the love and support he enjoyed among Punjabis”, he said, “The raids are aimed at tarnishing my image ahead of the 2027 Punjab Assembly elections. The BJP is misusing the ED and the CBI.” Punjab Finance Minister Harpal Singh Cheema termed the action a predictable pattern before the elections. “The BJP uses the CBI, the ED, Income Tax officials and the Election Commission in poll-bound states where Opposition parties are in power. These agencies are tools of the BJP. All allegations are false and AAP is the only party that has given a corruption-free government to Punjab,” he said. At the CM’s camp office in Sector 2, a large contingent of central personnel, including CBI officials, descended around 5 pm. The CBI said it seized laptops, mobile phones and documents from the premises connected with the persons named in the case. The material, according to the agency, is being examined for evidence relating to the allegations of bribery and other alleged improprieties. Searches were also conducted at the residence of Ghuman at Gharachon village and at the residence of a person related to him in Phase 11, Mohali. The raid was also conducted at the Nabha residence of the Gohal brothers and the Gurdaspur and Ludhiana residences of Romi Mahajan. The searches followed the Punjab and Haryana High Court’s order on Monday directing the CBI to register a case and investigate information relating to alleged corruption and influence-peddling. According to the CBI, the allegations under investigation relate to an alleged arrangement to influence or manipulate the postings of government officers, including IAS and IPS officers, departmental proceedings, policy formulation, administrative approvals, tender conditions, licensing matters, land-use conversion matters, property disputes, and revenue and land-related issues in return for alleged pecuniary benefits. The agency has also alleged that certain public servants accessed and provided drafts of government orders and policies to private individuals before their formal issuance by the government.

Deficient rains take toll on paddy plantation, acreage dips 15.6L ha

SURYA S PILLAI TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6
Rice emerged as the worst-hit major kharif crop this season, with the area under cultivation declining by 15.56 lakh hectares, or 3.5 per cent, compared with the corresponding period last year, according to the Agriculture Ministry's final crop-wise sowing data released on Tuesday.

As of October 2, paddy had been sown on 433.62 lakh hectares, down from 449.18 lakh hectares a year earlier.

The decline in rice acreage was significantly steeper than that recorded for any other major kharif crop, underscoring the impact of uneven and below-normal rainfall during the southwest monsoon season on paddy cultivation.

Among the states, Telangana recorded the sharpest fall in rice acreage, with the area under cultivation declining by 4.26 lakh hectares to 22.99 lakh hectares from 27.25 lakh hectares last year. Karnataka followed closely, reporting a decline of 4.23 lakh hectares, with acreage falling to 6.2 lakh hectares.

Uttar Pradesh, the country's largest rice-producing state, saw paddy acreage decline by 1.84 lakh hectares to 69.21 lakh hectares, while Madhya Pradesh recorded a fall of 1.75 lakh hectares. Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu reported declines of 1.7 lakh hectares and 1.41 lakh hectares, respectively.

Jharkhand and Maharashtra also recorded substantial reductions in paddy acreage, with declines of 1 lakh hectares and 1.15 lakh hectares, respectively.

The overall decline was partially offset by increases in a few states. Odisha recorded the largest gain, adding 0.66 lakh hectares under rice cultivation, followed by Assam at 0.59 lakh hectares and Bihar at 0.26 lakh hectares. Gujarat, Haryana and Punjab also reported marginal increases.

The data showed a mixed trend across other kharif crops. Total pulses acreage increased by 2.57 lakh hectares to 122.39 lakh hectares. Within the category, urad acreage rose by 2.96 lakh hectares and arhar by 1.49 lakh hectares, while moong acreage declined by 1.17 lakh hectares. Among coarse cereals, acreage under jowar increased by 1.30 lakh hectares and bajra by 2.09 lakh hectares. Maize, however, recorded a decline of 2.8 lakh hectares.

Oilseeds registered a marginal increase of 1.11 lakh hectares to 196.66 lakh hectares. Sesame acreage rose by 1.37 lakh hectares and sunflower by 0.59 lakh hectares, while castor acreage declined by 0.80 lakh hectares. Cotton acreage stood at 110.53 lakh hectares, down 0.55 lakh hectares from 111.08 lakh hectares a year ago. Sugarcane acreage also declined marginally, falling by 0.26 lakh hectares.

The sowing data comes against the backdrop of an uneven southwest monsoon, with rainfall deficits affecting agricultural operations in several regions. The sharp contraction in paddy acreage is significant given rice's role in India's foodgrain production and security.

Roadmap ready for launching indigenous mobile phones in 2 years

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6
The government has prepared a roadmap to launch completely indigenous mobile handsets within the next two years, as the complete ecosystem for manufacturing components and design for these mobile phones is now in place.

According to highly placed sources, the thought process had begun around three years ago. Despite the idea of developing completely Indian-made mobile handsets being "extremely difficult", the Ministry for Electronics and IT managed to prepare the ecosystem for components manufacturing as well as for designing optics (features and appearance) for these proposed indigenous handsets.

The government is confident of rolling out these phones in the Indian market within the next two years. "While the government is providing the ecosystem, certain private firms will be manufacturing these phones," sources said. This comes amid rapid expansion in India's upstream electronics supply chain. — TNS

‘Floating storehouse’ Surya to boost Navy’s sustained ops

AJAY BANERJEE TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6
In a move that will enable the Navy to sustain operations at sea for longer periods, the first Fleet Support Ship (FSS), Surya, was launched in Visakhapatnam on Tuesday.

Designed to serve as a floating logistics hub, the vessel will carry fuel, ammunition, spares, water and other supplies for replenishing warships at sea, allowing them to remain deployed for extended durations without returning to port.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh was the chief guest. In keeping with maritime tradition, the vessel was launched by Laila Swaminathan, President of the Navy Wives Welfare Association (NWWA).

A ship's launch marks its entry into the water and is a key milestone before induction into service. Surya is expected to join the naval fleet in the next eight to 10 months after the completion of outfitting, equipment integration and sea trials.

The 43,500-tonne vessel is the first of five Fleet Support Ships being built by state-run Hindustan Shipyard Limited (HSL) under a Rs 19,000-crore contract. In naval terminology, these vessels are classified as Fleet Support Ships.

Once commissioned, Surya will function as a mobile logistics platform capable of replenishing fuel, water, ammunition and stores to warships while at sea. This capability will enable prolonged deployments and significantly enhance the Navy's operational reach, mobility and endurance.

Each of the five Fleet Support Ships will feature enhanced cargo and fuel-carrying capacity. According to the Ministry of Defence, the vessels will be equipped with maintenance workshops, a helicopter deck capable of supporting multi-role helicopter operations and self-defence systems.

In addition to their primary logistics role, the ships will be configured for Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR) missions and Non-Combatant Evacuation Opera-

India has crucial role in global security, says Finland envoy

UJWAL JALALI TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6
In his first media interaction after taking charge as Finland's Ambassador to India, Mikko Kivikoski on Monday described India as an important player in maintaining international security and resolving conflicts, while backing New Delhi's bid for a permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council.

Kivikoski cited India's position as the world's largest democracy and a leading voice of the Global South. The Finnish envoy said Helsinki valued its dialogue with New Delhi on the conflicts in Ukraine as well as West Asia and Sudan.

"All of these conflicts have global consequences and impacts and we want to have these conflicts to end," he said, while appreciating India's efforts towards ending conflicts.

Defence Ministry signs ₹661-crore contract for addl BrahMos systems

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6
The Ministry of Defence on Tuesday signed a Rs 661-crore contract with BrahMos Aerospace for additional missile launchers and fire-control systems for Indian Navy warships, as part of a plan to equip the entire fleet with the supersonic cruise missile by 2030.

The acquisition is part of the Navy's broader plan to equip all frontline warships with BrahMos missile systems by 2030. The supersonic cruise missile is available in anti-ship and land-attack variants, both of which can be launched from naval platforms.

Designed to strike targets with high precision, the BrahMos currently has an operational range of around 300 km. Over the past few years, all newly commissioned major warships have been fitted with the missile system as standard equipment, while older vessels are being retrofitted in phases.

In 2024, the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) approved the induction of the extended-range BrahMos variant on naval platforms, increasing the missile's strike range to about 600 km. The Navy and BrahMos Aerospace have conducted several successful trials of the extended-range version from ships at

Chief Justice of India Surya Kant on Tuesday administered the oath of office to three newly appointed Supreme Court judges — Justice Sunita Agarwal, Justice Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya and Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh.

With their appointment, the working strength of the SC has reached 37 judges against the sanctioned strength of 38, and the number of women judges has gone up from two to three.

The SC Collegium took the decision to recommend their names for elevation at a meeting on September 28.

Before being elevated to the SC, Justice Agarwal was the Gujarat HC Chief Justice while Justice Upadhyaya and Justice Singh were Chief Justices of the Delhi HC and Telangana High Court, respectively.

Justice Agarwal has been the Chief Justice of the Gujarat HC since July 2023. A 1989-batch law graduate from Awadh University, she has been in the legal profession since 1990. Appointed as an HC judge in November 2011, she will retire from the SC in April 2031.

Justice Upadhyaya holds a law degree from Lucknow University. He enrolled as an advocate in May 1991 and was the Chief Standing Counsel for UP from May 2007 till his elevation as a judge in November 2011. He was appointed as the Bombay HC Chief Justice in July 2023, and transferred as the Delhi HC Chief Justice in January 2025.

Justice Singh obtained an LLB degree from Delhi University. He enrolled as an advocate in 1990, and practiced law before the Patna HC and the Jharkhand HC till his elevation as a judge of the Jharkhand HC in 2012. He later served as the Acting Chief Justice of the HC; before he was elevated as the Tripura HC Chief Justice in 2023. He was transferred to the Telangana HC in July 2025.

Cabinet resolution hails Modi’s 25 yrs as govt head

ADITI TANDON
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEWDELHI, OCTOBER 6
The Union Cabinet on Tuesday passed a resolution hailing Prime Minister Narendra Modi for completing 25 years as the head of government while “championing the politics of nation first over family first”.

Speaking metres away from Aakashvani Bhavan in central Delhi where Rahul Gandhi-led Congress MPs sat in a dharna for most part of the day before being detained, Information and Broadcasting Minister Ashwani Vaishnav said the resolution lauded the Prime Minister for a historic 25-year term as the head of government in Gujarat and later as PM of India. Modi had taken oath as Chief Minister of Gujarat on October 7, 2001, and led the BJP to three consecutive wins in the state and later three consecutive victories in the Lok Sabha elections of 2014, 2019 and 2024.

Vaishnav said the PM’s tenure was a sign of maturity of Indian democracy and serial mandates to him were signs of people’s abiding faith in his leadership.

“The 25-year record of PM Narendra Modi is a sign of vibrant Indian democracy where a person from a humble background rose to become Prime Minister,” Vaishnav said, adding that the ten-point resolution passed by the Cabinet today lauded PM Modi for his decisive leadership amid the global crisis such as Covid-19 and the West Asia crisis.

DRDO tests high-altitude long surveillance platform

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEWDELHI, OCTOBER 6
Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) on Tuesday carried out a successful flight trial of indigenously developed High-Altitude Platform (HAPS)—a new technology that is needed for persistent intelligence gathering and surveillance.

It is like an “eye in the sky” and can operate in the stratosphere for long duration but operates above the flightpaths of commercial planes. Unlike a satellite that burns up or becomes space junk at the end of its life, the indigenous platform can be commanded to fly back and land on a small runway and can be relaunched.

“The experimental flight attained an altitude of 21 km and remained at an altitude of 20 km for more than 30 minutes, before it was commanded to descend back to ground,” the Defence Ministry said. While the DRDO today tested a ‘balloon shaped’ platform. There is another kind of HAPS that has fixed wings and is shaped like a UAV. The second-type of HAPS what the IAF is looking for

80% turnout in Bengal bypolls amid violence, threat claims

NEWDELHI, OCTOBER 6
Nearly 79 per cent turnout was recorded till 5 pm in the high-stakes bypolls to the Nandigram and Rejinagar Assembly seats in West Bengal as the polling was marked by sporadic violence, and allegations of voter intimidation and polling irregularities. Votes will be counted on October 9.

The turnout remained high despite some voters being unable to cast their franchise as their appeals for inclusion in the electoral rolls were pending before appellate tribunals.

Opposition parties alleged electoral malpractices, with the Congress seeking a repoll in both the constituencies. The polling trends till 5 pm showed Nandigram at 79.4 per cent and Rejinagar at 78.4 per cent.

The West Bengal Chief Electoral Officer received 97 official complaints through designated portals on the polling day.

Meanwhile, byelection was also held for Assam’s Nagaon Lok Sabha constituency where about 76 per cent of the 19.05 lakh electors turned out to vote.

The bypoll was necessitated after Pradyut Bordoloi, who won the constituency for the second successive term in 2024, quit the Congress to contest and win the Dispur Assembly seat on the BJP ticket.

Bypolls were also held for Madurantakam and Dhara-puram Assembly seats in Tamil Nadu, which recorded polling percentage of 86 per cent and 80 per cent, respectively. In Puducherry’s That-tanchavady Assembly seat, 80.8 per cent voting was recorded. — TNS

Jeffrey Archer — the British master storyteller India made its own

SHYAM BHATIA
LONDON CORRESPONDENT

Jeffrey Archer, the bestselling British author whose novels found an enormous readership in India, died on Monday at the age of 86.

For generations of Indian readers, particularly those who discovered English-language fiction in the 1980s and 1990s, “Kane and Abel” was not simply another bestseller. It was often the book that opened the door to adult fiction. Archer understood that affection and, unlike many successful British authors, never took the Indian audience for granted.

He returned to India repeatedly, often to crowds that astonished him. At one Bengaluru appearance, he recalled that about 1,000 people had come to hear him, with roughly 80 per cent under 20.

“Fifty million Indians have read ‘Kane and Abel,’” he

86-year-old author dies a day before release of his final novel Adam and Eve once claimed.

The figure may have been exaggerated but there was no doubting the affection behind it. His books were widely read in India and frequently passed from reader to reader.

Archer visited India almost every year from 2008 onwards and in 2011 began the world-wide tour for “Only Time Will Tell” in Bengaluru. The book went on to sell more than 48,000 copies in India that year, according to Nielsen BookScan figures.

Born in London in 1940,

Archer had a life that could itself have been constructed by one of his more imaginative plots. He entered Parliament as a Conservative MP at 29, only to leave the Commons after a disastrous investment left him deeply in debt. He turned to writing to repair his finances, producing “Not a Penny More, Not a Penny Less” in 1976.

‘Call off march’: Shehbaz invites Imran party for talks

ISLAMABAD, OCTOBER 6

PM Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday invited the Pakistan Tehreek-i-Insaf for talks to resolve contentious issues through dialogue, as he urged the party founded by jailed former premier Imran Khan to call off its long march to Islamabad.

Shehbaz issued the call for talks two days after the party launched its long march with the intention to make it to the Islamabad in the coming days to press the government to set Imran free.

The PM said that unfortunately the “dreadful shadows” of long marches were moving again despite efforts to resolve the political issues through negotiations. — PTI

PoK standoff deepens as Joint Awami goes on indefinite strike

Political and public unrest has intensified in Pakistan-occupied Jammu and Kashmir, with the Joint Awami Action Committee announcing an indefinite shutdown and wheel-jam strike, escalating its confrontation with the authorities over long-pending demands and alleged government inaction. The committee has called on traders to keep markets closed and residents to suspend transport services until its demands are addressed. Umar Nazir Kashmiri, member of the committee, alleged that the authorities had failed to engage seriously with the protesters despite repeated assurances. ANI

Reconciliation with Hasina party not a bad idea: Dhaka

DHAKA, OCTOBER 6

A senior official of the Bangladesh government on Tuesday said “reconciliation” with the now-disbanded Awami League was “not a bad idea”, but the party led by deposed premier Sheikh Hasina must come forward by acknowledging its responsibility to initiate such a process.

Zahed Ur Rahman, the Prime Minister's information adviser, made the comments during a press conference here.

His comments were the first reconciliatory tone by a leader of the Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP) government that came amid a sense of unease in Bangladesh's political and economic arena. — PTI

Belgian-American physicist Halzen wins Nobel for Antarctic ‘ghost particle’ hunt

Francis Halzen

STOCKHOLM, OCTOBER 6

Francis Halzen won the Nobel Prize in Physics for his work creating an Antarctic observatory of ice to detect high-energy neutrinos, elusive subatomic particles that can reveal otherwise inaccessible information about the cosmos.

Halzen, 82, realised that pristine ice at the South Pole could be used to track such neutrinos, sometimes known as “ghost particles” for the way they pass through the Earth without a trace, only interacting with matter extremely rarely.

“The messengers bring information from the cosmos,” Eva Olsson, of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, said during a press conference. — Reuters

Airlines warn of route withdrawals as W Asia crisis drives up costs

SHEKHAR SINGH

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Indian airlines are staring at a fresh operational squeeze as the continuing West Asia conflict, soaring aviation turbine fuel (ATF) prices, rupee depreciation and higher flying costs threaten to make several domestic routes financially unsustainable, with the Federation of Indian Airlines (FIA) warning the government that carriers may be forced to withdraw from some routes if urgent relief is not provided.

In a letter to Civil Aviation Minister Kinjarapu Rammo-han Naidu, the FIA, representing Air India, IndiGo and Spice-Jet, has sought immediate intervention, saying the cost of jet fuel alone has jumped to nearly 55-60 per cent of airline operating expenses from the historical 30-40 per cent.

The industry body has warned that the continuing cost pressure could result in further curtailment of operations and network, potentially hitting air connectivity across the country. “Timely relief” is critical, the FIA said, warning that if support was not provided, airlines “may be compelled to withdraw from several unsustainable routes”. According to the FIA, Brent crude has risen from around $72 per barrel to $118 per barrel since the conflict began, while the price of ATF based on MOPAG and premium moved from $87.24 per barrel to a peak of $260.24.

Cabinet approves ₹10K cr fund to boost SME sector

ADITYA RANGROO
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Union Cabinet, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, on Tuesday approved the government's commitment of Rs 10,000 crore towards the establishment of the SME Growth Fund (SGF).

The SGF aimed at catalysing growth-oriented capital for India's small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and enabling the emergence of champion Indian enterprises across manufacturing, services, technology, innovation-driven sectors, and strategic value chains as per Para 28 of Union Budget 2026-27.

This was in part of the holistic set of announcements that were made in Union Budget 2026-27 focussing on providing equity, liquidity and professional support for the MSME ecosystem as a whole. There are existing funds which provide equity support but majority of them focus on early-stage enterprises and cover majorly micro enterprises. A structural gap exists for equity growth capital for SMEs.

The landmark initiative reflects the government's commitment towards realising the vision of Viksit Bharat-2047 by strengthening India's entrepreneurship ecosystem, deepening the domestic capital market for growth-stage enterprises, and creating a new generation of Indian companies capable of competing at the global level.

SMEs constitute the backbone of the Indian economy, contributing significantly to employment generation, exports, manufacturing output, and innovation. The fund is designed to address this critical financing gap by providing patient growth equity capital to high-potential SMEs with demonstrated business viability and scalability.

Cabinet okays plan on Integrated Transport & Logistics Authority

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Union Cabinet on Tuesday approved a proposal to set up an Integrated Transport and Logistics Authority (ITLA), Union Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said.

The authority will function as the apex body for integrated transport and logistics planning, research, project appraisal and monitoring, policy support and data analytics. The ITLA would prepare a long-term transport plan covering roads, railways, ports and shipping, civil aviation, inland waterways, coastal shipping, urban mobility and logistics, he said.

“The Cabinet approved the setting up of a Special Purpose Vehicle, namely, Integrated Transport & Logistics Authority, to strengthen research, planning, appraisal, monitoring and impact assessment within the broad domains of transportation and logistics,” an official statement said. — TNS

Tata Group retail firm Trent Ltd's standalone revenue for the September quarter jumped 22.5 per cent to Rs 5,788 crore, according to a quarterly update filed by the company.

Trent's standalone revenue was Rs 4,260 crore a year ago. “Revenue from sale of merchandise (excluding other operating income) also grew by 23 per cent and 21 per cent during the quarter and the half year ended September 2026 respectively,” it said. — PTI

Data centre sector attracted $173-bn investment since 2021, shows report

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

India's data centre sector has attracted $173 billion investment commitments since 2021 as investors remain bullish on the future prospects amid increased adoption of technology, according to real estate consultant CBRE.

India's data centre (DC) market added about 130 MW of new capacity in the first six months of 2026, while more than 200 MW was expected to go live in the second half of the year, CBRE said in a report ‘Beyond Growth: India's Rise Among APAC's Leading Data Centre Markets’ released on Tuesday.

‘Capacity on track to reach 2 GW by year-end’

“India's DC sector attracted around $38 billion in investment commitments during January-June 2026, taking the cumulative total since 2021 to about $173 billion,” it added. Hyperscale and co-location investments accounted for close to 62 per cent of the cumulative DC commitments from 2021 to the first half of 2026. CBRE noted that this sustained momentum demonstrated robust investor confidence, driven by increased cloud adoption, AI-related demand, and ongoing digitalisation initiatives. — PTI

Australia's Green ruled out of first Test vs South Africa
SYDNEY: Australia all-rounder Cameron Green will miss the first Test against South Africa after failing to recover from an abdominal strain, coach Andrew McDonald said on Tuesday. Green was hurt during the last one-day international against South Africa in Potchefstroom on Wednesday after being struck in the stomach by a full toss from Corbin Bosch that left him writhing in pain. Two balls later, his attempted pull shot bounced off his gloves and he was not only caught but strained his muscles as he fell to the ground. "It's an odd one and had our medical team scrambling, so I'm not going to go down what the medical said around it, but there's not a hell of a lot of evidence in these injuries in cricket," McDonald told a press conference.

BCCI invites applications for Agarkar's replacement
NEW DELHI: The BCCI on Tuesday invited applications for filling up the vacant position in the men's selection committee following the exit of Ajit Agarkar, who was also the chairman of the five-member panel. Agarkar's tenure ended on October 4, with the former India pacer having informed the Indian cricket board after its Annual General Meeting on September 18 that he would not seek an extension to his contract. Former India spinner Pragyan Ojha is currently the interim chairman of selectors for the men's team. AGENCIES

McSweeney, Beardman set up big Australia A win over India A

PUDUCHERRY, OCTOBER 6 Nathan McSweeney smashed a fine century before medium pacer Mahli Beardman wreaked havoc with a four-wicket haul as Australia A registered a comfortable 125-run win over India A in the first one-dayer of the three-match series at the Siechem Stadium here on Tuesday. McSweeney (123), who recorded his second List A hundred, put on 141 for the sixth wicket in 23.2 overs with skipper Will Sutherland (77) to lift the visitors to a competitive 274 all out in 48.2 overs after being reduced to 87/5 after the visitors opted to bat. Defending the total, the 21-year-old Beardman, who returned career-best figures, dismissed Sai Sudharsan, Devdutt Padikkal and Prabhsimran Singh to push India A onto the back foot. — PTI

Writing was on the wall for Harman

Mandhana gets 'long overdue' leadership role

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6 It was a no-brainer that Smriti Mandhana would receive the honour of captaining the Indian women's cricket team after Harmanpreet Kaur's resignation from the position. But is it a case of the elevation coming too late in the day for the 30-year-old left-hander, who is the country's best batter right now by quite a distance. The call from Harmanpreet, who led India for the first time in 2016, to step down from captaincy across formats was taken following a review meeting with the BCCI. The 37-year-old from Moga ended her path-breaking leadership tenure on a high, having just captained India to a second consecutive Asian Games gold in Japan. Mandhana was the obvious choice to take over the mantle from Harmanpreet. Having made her debut way back in 2013, the elegant opener has risen to be among the leading batters in the game, tallying more than 10,000 runs across formats. Mandhana was always head and shoulders above the rest when it came to skill and now she has further elevated her craft by adding power to her all-round game. It was no secret that she had run out of patience with the selectors, who chose to maintain status quo on captaincy even after India ended their ICC trophy drought with the ODI World Cup win at home last year. In a recent interview, she expressed her readiness to lead India and after the Asian Games gold, she went on to say that India should be aiming to win bigger tournaments. In between the 50-over high, India had made premature exits from back to back T20 World Cups, raising questions over the leadership starting with the shortest format. But the selectors did not bell the cat. But at the review meeting in Guwahati, which was chaired by BCCI secretary Devajit Saikia, it was made clear to Harmanpreet that a change of guard was inevitable. She eventually decided to take matters in her own hands. The captaincy had also become a thorny issue between Harmanpreet and Mandhana, who used to get along pretty well. "They were not seeing eye to eye for a while now and that led to an obvious unease in the dressing room," said a team source. After India crashed out of T20 World Cup in the UK earlier this year, the legendary Mithali Raj had told PTI that the selectors should have elevated Mandhana two or three years ago while questioning Harmanpreet's form and fitness. With women's cricket not facing the same scrutiny as the men's team, it is not the first time that the selectors have messed up in the leadership transition. Even when Harmanpreet took over the ODI captaincy from Mithali, following the World Cup in 2022, the relations between the two veterans were at an all-time low. It caused factionalism in the team. And now with Harmanpreet wanting to continue as a player for the next two or three years, it remains to be seen if she and Mandhana can shed that baggage for the team's cause. While India dominated the recent Asia Cup and Asian Games, Harmanpreet was not at her best. As a pure batter in the side, the expectations are bound to rise going forward and she will have to raise her game significantly to stay in contention. — PTI

“Being given the responsibility of leading India is a special honour. Representing India has meant a great deal to me, and to now have the opportunity to lead the team is something I will value deeply. I would also like to acknowledge Harmanpreet and the contribution she has made as captain over the years. She has led the team with great commitment and has been an important part of our journey.”

Shreyas smashes ton as India beat WI in first T20I

India's captain Shreyas Iyer plays a shot. PTI

LUCKNOW, OCTOBER 6 Skipper Shreyas Iyer led from the front with a maiden T20I century after all-rounder Naman Dhir made a dream debut with three wickets as India comfortably defeated West Indies by eight wickets in the first match here on Tuesday. Dhir picked up three wickets with his off-spin to finish with impressive figures of 3/31, while Kuldeep Yadav took 2/33 as India, after opting to bowl, restricted West Indies to 171. Iyer (102 not out) and Ishan Kishan (37 not out) then made short work of the chase, stitching together an unbeaten 137-run partnership for the third wicket to help India chase down the target in 14.4 overs. Chasing the total, India didn't have the best of starts as they lost both openers Abhishek Sharma (21) and Sanju Samson (11) inside four overs with the scoreboard reading 35. Roston Chase picked up Abhishek in the third over, with Shimron Hetmyer taking a brilliant diving catch while running in from long-off. An over later, Samson departed, extending his lean patch since the Asian Games, as he sliced a short delivery back to Akeal Hosein, who took the catch off his own bowling. — PTI

Bhuvneshwar makes India comeback

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6 Veteran India seamer Bhuvneshwar Kumar on Tuesday returned to the national side nearly four years since his last appearance, for the upcoming five-match T20I series to be played in New Zealand later this month. The 36-year-old Meerut-born Bhuvneshwar, who has played a stellar role in Royal Challengers Bengaluru's back-to-back IPL titles with 17 wickets in the 2025 season and 28 wickets in 2026, tormented the best in the business with swing and seam movement in powerplay overs. However, Bhuvneshwar's comeback didn't happen due to the presence of Ajit Agarkar, who didn't believe in looking back despite performances. It is understood that Central Zone selector Rudra Pratap Singh never found much support when it came to the inclusion of Bhuvneshwar but once Agarkar was gone, it wasn't very difficult to convince Pragyan Ojha and the other colleagues about the value of the experienced seamer in the absence of Jasprit Bumrah. With his experience, he can also guide the likes of Mayank Yadav and Prince Yadav, both of whom are

However, the short BCCI press release didn't clarify how many of the three 'Tests' would the likes of Rahul, Jaiswal and Washington Sundar, who are also part of the Indian ODI setup, play in New Zealand. The first 'Test' will be played from October 24 in Lincoln followed by the second game in Christchurch starting October 31. The last 'Test', again in Lincoln, will be held from November 7. — PTI

Djokovic wins China Open title

this... hopefully see you next year," added the 27-year-old fifth seed. Both semifinals ended prematurely on Monday, as Hubert Hurkacz retired with an injury and Daniil Medvedev was disqualified for hitting a spectator with a ball. Sixth-seeded Djokovic's win continued the Serbian's unbeaten record at the tournament with 34 straight victories and ensured the 39-year-old won a singles title for the 21st straight year. "I'm really sorry for the way you had to finish today and I really hope that you can recover quickly," Djokovic told de Minaur. Alcaraz finds best form to retain Japan Open crown Tokyo: Carlos Alcaraz made another slow start before cruising past unseeded Czech Jiri Lehecka 7-6(4) 6-4 in the Japan Open final to retain his title and continue his resurgence after a lengthy wrist injury layoff. The ATP 500 tournament victory is Alcaraz's third of the year after the Australian Open and Qatar Open, before the 23-year-old was sidelined for nearly five months and returned at the US Open in late August. "I'm really happy to be able to lift a trophy again," Alcaraz said. "It's been a while and obviously it's extra special after my injury and my comeback, in the second tournament that I'm playing. It was a really tough week and I didn't play my best tennis and my best level but I did find good solutions and that's what matters in the end." Alcaraz became the first man to go back-to-back in Tokyo since Pete Sampras in 1993-94. — Reuters

Thapa strike lifts India before Uruguay run riot in 6-1 win

KOLKATA, OCTOBER 6 Anirudh Thapa briefly lifted the subdued mood at the Salt Lake Stadium with a fine equaliser, but India eventually ran out of steam as two-time former world champions Uruguay cruised to a 6-1 win in their international friendly here on Tuesday. India showed plenty of promise in the opening half, with Thapa's 22nd-minute goal cancelling out Darwin Nunez's 11th minute penalty and giving the home side belief against the 20th-ranked South Americans. But fatigue gradually crept in after a 34-minute interruption because of lightning as Uruguay took control and scored five more times through Maximiliano Araujo (28th, 59th), Rodrigo Zalazar (53rd), substitutes Juan Sanabria (71st) and Rodrigo Aguirre. Khalid Jamil's side thus completed the international window with a 1-1 draw against Panama before suffering 0-4 and 1-5 defeats to Brazil and Uruguay, respectively. — PTI

Zidane, Mancini get first home wins as national coaches

France's Michael Olise celebrates scoring their third goal. REUTERS

PARIS, OCTOBER 6 France left it late to beat Belgium 4-1 in the Nations League as Zinedine Zidane got his first home win as the national coach. Substitutes Desire Doue, Rayan Cherki and Michael Olise (two) netted four goals in 14 minutes to completely turn the match around for France, who trailed until the 77th minute. "This is what we love," Zidane said. "We faced some difficulties in the first half but that's part of the game; it's the kind of match you get from time to time. It's good to set things right — which is what we did — and we managed to play an extraordinary second half." The win reinforced France's control of Group A1, three points above Italy, who beat Turkey 3-1. Third-placed Belgium slipped four points below France. Turkey have no points. Zidane started his time in charge of Les Bleus with wins over Turkey and Belgium before being held to a draw by Italy on his home debut on Friday. "It's a collective effort, too," Olise said. "He (Zidane) brings in ideas, we follow them — we've done that well over the last four matches, we're going to continue like this." In Italy, Roberto Mancini was also looking for a first home win. He started his return to the Italy bench with a loss in Rome to Belgium before morale-boosting away performances against Turkey — where the Azzurri won 4-1 — and France. — AP

Traffic cops help accident victims reach hospital

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Two Delhi Traffic Police personnel posted at Prem Bari Pul helped rush two persons injured in an e-rickshaw accident to a hospital in Ashok Vihar in northwest Delhi, officials said.

The incident took place around 10.05 am on Monday when an e-rickshaw travelling from Prem Bari Pul towards Azadpur slipped, leaving Mohammad Asif (38) and a 20-year-old woman injured.

Sub-Inspector Ramesh Chand and Head Constable Manish, who were deployed on traffic duty at Prem Bari Pul, reached the spot after noticing the accident. They arranged an auto-rickshaw and shifted the injured to Deep Chand Bandhu Hospital, Ashok Vihar.

The families of the two injured persons appreciated the prompt assistance provided by the traffic personnel.

The Northern Range Traffic appreciated the officials for their timely intervention and said their response reflected the Delhi Traffic Police's commitment to public safety and service to citizens.

Hry man nabbed for circulating AI video targeting ACP Bhagat

Cops recover mobile phone, find account linked to fake reel

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

A Haryana-based man claiming to be an independent journalist was arrested by the Delhi Police for allegedly circulating an AI-generated video falsely portraying ACP Vivek Bhagat allegedly harassing a woman during a protest, officials said on Tuesday.

The accused has been identified as Nadeem Ahmed Ameen (24), son of a retired Urdu lecturer and a resident of Palwal, Haryana.

Addressing a press conference, Additional DCP-I (New Delhi) Manjeet Sheoran said the case stemmed from a video being circulated on social media platforms in which Vivek Bhagat, ACP, Delhi Police was falsely portrayed.

Sheoran said the video was presented as genuine CCTV footage showing a person dressed as a police officer allegedly engaging in an inappropriate conduct with a woman. The photograph, name and designation of ACP Vivek Bhagat were prominently displayed alongside the purported CCTV footage, falsely suggesting that the incident involved the said officer.

Accordingly, an FIR under relevant sections of the BNS was registered at the Cyber police station, New Delhi District, and an investigation was initiated.

During investigation, the user of an Instagram account,

Accordingly, an FIR under relevant sections of the BNS was registered at the Cyber police station, New Delhi District, and an investigation was initiated.

During investigation, the user of an Instagram account,

"@news aaina0776", was identified as Nadeem Ahmed. He works as an independent journalist and runs an Instagram news handle named "News Aina Today".

He was apprehended from the Mewat region on Monday, and a mobile phone was recovered from his possession. On examination, the Instagram account "@news aaina0776", through which the incriminating reel had been circulated, was found logged in on the device.

Content and photographs linked to the fabricated reel were also found in the phone's gallery, Sheoran said. According to the officer, Ahmed is an independent journalist. His father is a retired government Urdu lecturer, and he is the sixth of seven brothers. He is a Class X dropout and runs an Instagram news handle "News Aina Today", which was created in April 2026, and has around 24,000 subscribers.

The officer said the investigation was underway to ascertain his source of funding and verify whether any larger pre-planned conspiracy had been hatched to spread instigation and create an anarchy during the protest.

Other accounts allegedly involved in creating a false narrative to tarnish the image of the Delhi Police and spread disaffection and dissatisfaction against the government are also being identified, the officer said.

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

A 24-year-old woman was allegedly attacked with acid by her former live-in partner in northeast Delhi's Bhajanpura on Tuesday morning, days after she ended their relationship, the police said.

The woman was on her way to work in Gandhi Nagar around 6 am when the accused allegedly approached her from behind near a local crossing and threw acid at her and fled.

She suffered serious burn injuries to her face, chest and thigh and was initially taken to Jag Pravesh Chandra Hospital. She was later referred to GTB Hospital in view of the severity of her injuries, the police said.

Following the attack, the woman sought help from an around 80-year-old man, who also suffered minor burn injuries to his left hand in the incident, the police said.

She subsequently managed to return to her rented accommodation, following which her landlord's son informed the police. A police team reached the spot and took her to the hospital.

Court grants bail to 17 held during anti-CEC agitation

Seeks police report on 'custodial torture' allegations

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

A court here has sought a report from the Delhi Police on allegations of "custodial torture" levelled by two protesters arrested on Monday, while granting bail to 17 people accused of unlawful assembly and obstructing public space, saying were young and had their careers ahead of them.

The court also emphasised that while any person has the right to protest peacefully, assaulting police officials on duty is a matter of serious concern and cannot be permitted under the garb of a peaceful protest.

The order was passed on Monday night by duty judicial magistrate Animesh Kumar after the 17 were arrested while they were protesting outside the Parliament Street police station earlier in the day. They were demanding registration of an FIR against a police officer alleging that he had molested a woman journalist during a protest over the SIR row.

The court noted that, according to the investigating officer, the accused had been arrested for being part of an unlawful assembly and obstructing a public space where prohibitory order were in force. The police also alleged that they manhandled police officials, including a woman police official, while they were being detained.

Meanwhile, two of the accused alleged that they were beaten after being detained at the police station. The court called for a report from the DCP, New Delhi, and directed that the CCTV footage of the Parliament Street police station be preserved. It also directed that necessary medical treatment be provided to the injured accused.

Cops wear body cameras amid heightened security at protest site

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Amid the ongoing protest against the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) at Jantar Mantar, the Delhi Police have equipped its personnel deployed at the protest site with body cameras to record key developments and interactions between the police and protesters.

Senior police officers, supervising the security arrangements, will also wear body cameras, with the recordings intended to provide a real-time record of important incidents and exchanges during the demonstration.

The move comes days after a protest at Jantar Mantar, seeking the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar, during

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Delhi Government on Tuesday approved a Rs 263.45-crore project to construct a 4.5-km drain along the railway line to address waterlogging in four Assembly constituencies, including Kirari, and provide improved drainage to more than 70 unauthorised colonies.

The Expenditure Finance Committee (EFC), chaired by Chief Minister Rekha Gupta, cleared the project, which has been given a December-2027 completion deadline by the Irrigation and Flood Control Department.

The proposed drain will have a design discharge capacity of 760 cusecs and will run from Mundka Halt station to the Supplementary Drain. It is expected to serve as a main outfall for the Kirari area and facilitate the discharge of rainwater accumulating around the railway line.

The project will directly benefit Kirari, Mundka,

Bawana and Nangloi Jat Assembly constituencies. In Kirari, around 70 unauthorised colonies will benefit from improved drainage, while areas in Mundka, including Rani Khara Industrial Area, Venu Enclave, Ratan Park, Rajdhani Park, JJ Cluster Colony, Rajendra

JNUSU screens 'Palestine 36' at hunger strike site

HARSH YADAV

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Jawaharlal Nehru University Students' Union (JNUSU) on Tuesday screened "Palestine 36" at its hunger strike site on the campus, as its agitation against disciplinary action and several campus-related issues entered its fourth day. The film was being screened at the Sabarmati T-Point when this report was filed.

A JNU official, when asked about the event, said no permission had been given to the students for the screening. The JNUSU had described the event as a screening to "celebrate Palestinian resistance".

The screening was held at the site where 17 students, including JNUSU office-bearers, have been on an indefinite hunger strike since October 3. The students are protesting disciplinary action against union office-bearers and raising several campus-related demands.

In its latest statement, the JNUSU alleged intimidation by the university administration, claiming that the Chief Security Officer had threatened the protesting office-bearers with an extension of their rustication if they continued the hunger strike. The union also alleged that the administration had denied medical check-ups to the office-bearers on hunger strike.

The union also alleged that JNU officials denied medical check-ups to its office-bearers participating in the hunger strike. It claimed the Chief Security Officer told them that, being rusticated, they would not be provided medical examinations and warned of possible action over alleged violation of bail conditions. The JNUSU demanded immediate and regular medical monitoring for all hunger strikers.

The students are demanding the revocation of the CPO Manual and rustication of the JNUSU office-bearers, reinstatement of the Gender Sensitisation Committee Against Sexual Harassment (GSCASH), restoration of the JNU Entrance Examination (JNUEE) and reforms in the Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC) in line with the principles of the Rohith Act.

"Palestine 36" had earlier been at the centre of controversy over its screening in India after the Information and Broadcasting Ministry initially denied permission for the film to be screened at the International Film Festival of Kerala last year, before it was subsequently cleared for screening.

Right-wing influencer Bhardwaj granted bail

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

A Delhi court on Tuesday granted regular bail to right-wing influencer Swatantra Bhardwaj in a case concerning the alleged assault of the father of a student activist during the CJP protest at Jantar Mantar.

Additional Sessions Judge Saurabh Pratap Singh Laler passed the order after earlier giving Bhardwaj interim bail for three weeks and observing his conduct during the period.

On September 15, the court granted Bhardwaj interim bail for three weeks, saying his conduct would be taken into account while deciding his plea for regular bail.

While granting the interim relief, the court imposed several conditions on Bhardwaj, including a direction not to post, publish or discuss the case, his defence or the complainant's family on social media or any other media platform.

He was also directed not to contact the complainant, his daughter or any witness and not to interfere with the evidence in the case.

While granting the interim bail, the court had stressed that bail was an expression of the court's trust and "not a trophy to be displayed".

The court had also cautioned Bhardwaj against any public celebration following his release on bail. — TNS

Delhi doubles ASHA incentive, expands newborn screening

ANSHITA MEHRA
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The Delhi Government on Tuesday doubled the monthly incentive for 6,690 ASHA workers from Rs 3,000 to Rs 6,000 and launched a series of health initiatives, including expanded newborn screening for 63 congenital diseases, a digital portal for nursing homes and a new organ and tissue transplant facility at GB Pant Hospital.

Lieutenant Governor (L-G) Taranjit Singh Sandhu and Chief Minister Rekha Gupta launched the initiatives at the state-level ‘ASHA Sammelan-2026 and ASHA Samman Samaroh’ at Thyagraj Stadium under the “Seva Sankalp Abhiyan”.

The expansion of Mission ANMOL will provide screening for 63 congenital diseases within 24 to 72 hours of birth. The government said more than 75,000 newborn babies had so far been screened under the initiative, with over 700 children receiving timely treatment.

The government plans to increase annual newborn screening coverage from around 1.5 lakh to 2.5 lakh,

CM REKHA LAUNCHES SERIES OF HEALTH INITIATIVES

The State Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation (SOTTO) building at GB Pant Hospital was also inaugurated virtually during the event. The facility is aimed at strengthening coordination, awareness and institutional mechanisms for organ and tissue donation and transplantation in Delhi.

Gupta said organ donation was a symbol of compassion and respect for life and appealed to Delhi residents to spread awareness about organ and body donation. The CM said she had registered for body donation through the SOTTO portal and urged ASHA workers to take information about organ donation to families and senior citizens.

The Delhi Government also launched the Nursing Home Management System portal to digitise the registration and renewal process for private nursing homes. Officials said the system would reduce the need for repeated visits to government offices and help improve record management, monitoring and administrative processing.

humane approach. He said ASHA workers played a crucial role in taking health services and awareness to pregnant women, children and families.

He described the doubling of their monthly incentive as recognition of their contribution and dedication.

Gupta said ASHA workers take healthcare services and government schemes to people's doorsteps and that the government had a responsibility to ensure their dignity, welfare and support. She also announced a special dandiya programme for ASHA workers during the upcoming Navratri celebrations.

Health Minister Pankaj Kumar Singh said the increase in the ASHA incentive had addressed an issue that had remained pending for nearly a decade. He said the workers continued to serve during the Covid-19 pandemic despite the lack of adequate recognition of their contribution.

Singh said the government's objective was not merely to make announcements but to deliver concrete work and results in the health sector.

Delhi has always embraced Punjab, says Taranjit Singh Sandhu

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Delhi Lieut Governor (L-G) Taranjit Singh Sandhu on Tuesday laid the foundation stone of the “Punjab Heritage Home” at Lajpat Nagar, saying the city had always embraced the spirit of Punjab and acknowledged the community's contribution to Delhi's culture, economy and growth.

The heritage centre is being built by the International Punjabi Society, a 70-year-old organisation founded by former Punjab Chief Minister Giani Gur-mukh Singh Mussafir.

The foundation stone-laying ceremony was attended by BJP MP Bansuri Swaraj, MLA Neeraj Basoya, councillor Sharad Kapoor, former MP Tarlochan Singh and International Punjabi Society president Anil Kohli, among others.

Sandhu said Punjab was “more than a geography” and represented courage, enterprise, generosity and resilience. He said Punjabis had, over generations, helped shape Delhi's character, strengthened its economy and enriched its cultural fabric.

“The Heritage Home will be a space to honour these traditions, keep our roots alive and inspire future generations,” Sandhu said.

The International Punjabi Society has branches across the world. According to the society, former Lok Sabha Speaker Gurdial Singh Dhillon, former chairman of Punjab & Sind Bank Inderjeet Singh and industrialist Bhai Mohan Singh have headed the organisation. Former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh was its chief patron.

Women panel head interacts with students on safety, legal rights

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Delhi Women's Commission Chairperson Lata Gupta on Tuesday interacted with students at Dr Shyama Prasad Mukherjee College and Rajdhani College as part of the “Betiyaan ke Saath Bharose Ka Samvad — Nari Shakti Samvad” initiative, discussing women's safety, legal rights, complaint mechanisms and digital security. The programme aimed to create awareness among students about the Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) Act, the process of filing complaints of sexual harassment and the role of Internal Committees in educational institutions. Gupta also cautioned students against cybercrimes, including online harassment, cyber fraud, misuse of private photographs and videos, and online blackmailing. She urged them not to silently tolerate harassment, discrimination or other problems and to use available complaint and legal mechanisms when required. Students raised questions and shared suggestions on women's safety, education, careers, digital security and other social issues during the interaction.

Students oppose new gate between two campuses

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

A new iron gate being constructed between Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) and Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University for Women (IGDTUW) campuses has become the latest flashpoint at AUD, with protesting students on Tuesday opposing the construction and alleging that the university administration had failed to intervene in the matter despite being aware of the issue.

The AISA-led indefinite sit-in at the AUD Kashmere Gate campus entered its ninth day on Tuesday. The protesters said more students joined the demonstration and raised objections to the proposed gate, which they claimed would further restrict access to shared campus spaces and leave AUD students with limited areas for movement and interaction.

Mrinalini, CC member of AUDSC-KP, said, “The AUD administration is more concerned about surveillance rather than safety of the students and is doing nothing to prevent the IGDTUW administration from constructing the gate.”

The student group said the AUD and IGDTUW campuses had shared space since the former's establishment, with the ground and auditorium designated as common spaces. It alleged that once the new gate is completed, only one road would remain available to AUD students. The protesters also said classrooms were locked after classes and the ground, corridors and a small canteen constitute the limited public spaces available to students.

AISA also questioned the timing of the administration's response. It said AUD had made public a letter dated October 3 addressed to IGDTUW, suggesting reconsideration of the gate. According to the protesters, they had been told that discussions between the two administrations had been on for more than two weeks, while work on the gate had already begun.

The protesters said the gate was being justified on the grounds of safety of female students, but argued that restricting movement between the campuses was not a solution to women's safety concerns.

The students are demanding rollback of the event permission notification, opening of the front gate and removal of all iron gates and barricades, reinstatement of the PhD fee waiver, student representation in decision-making bodies and faculty recruitment.

AISA said the sit-in would continue until its demands were met and appealed to civil society and rights organisations to intervene and seek accountability from the university administration.

FARIDABAD, OCTOBER 6

The Faridabad police have arrested an 18-year-old youth for allegedly murdering his 17-year-old friend during an argument over a mobile phone. After the incident, the accused allegedly fabricated a story for the victim’s family and the police, claiming the teenager had drowned in a lake while taking a selfie. The accused, identified as Mufid (18), a resident of Sirohi village, even assisted the police in searching the body in the lake. However, the police grew suspicious after he repeatedly changed his statement. During questioning, he confessed to the murder. Acting on his information, the body was recovered on Monday night from among the rocks on a hill, around 200 meters away from the lake. An FIR was registered against the

When Mufid tried to snatch his phone, the device fell to the ground and broke. An argument broke out between them, following which Mufid pushed him into the ravine,” said a spokesperson for the Faridabad police. According to a complaint filed by Gaurelal, a mason and a native of Tikamgarh in Madhya Pradesh, he had been living in a rented room in Sirohi village for the past 20 years. He had five sons, all of whom are labourers. “Around 4 pm on Sunday, one of my sons, Rajkumar, was called out by a friend who lived in the neighborhood. When Rajkumar did not return home by late evening, we made inquiries. His friend told us that he and Rajkumar had gone to the lake. Rajkumar was taking a selfie when his foot slipped, and he drowned in the water. After we informed the police, a search operation was launched in the lake on Monday morning, but the body was not found,” Gaurelal said in his complaint. Rajkumar’s family members had already become suspicious of the young neighbour as he kept changing his statements. Subsequently, the police took Mufid into custody on Monday evening. During questioning, he confessed to the murder and led the police to the spot where he had hidden the body. Based on the location pointed out by the accused, the police recovered Rajkumar’s body on Monday night. “We are questioning the accused and also verifying the role of his father. We handed over the body to the family members after the post-mortem examination. Further probe is underway,” said a police officer.

Ashoka Chakra sought for Captain Smit Machchhar

GURUGRAM, OCTOBER 6

The Gurugram District Bar Association has submitted a memorandum, addressed to Prime Minister Narendra Modi through the Gurugram administration, demanding Ashoka Chakra, the country’s highest peacetime award, for flydubai pilot Captain Smit Machchhar. According to the memorandum, on September 30, during a flight from Dubai to Israel, Indian pilot Captain Smit Machchhar displayed extraordinary courage by risking his life. He ensured the safety of 180 passengers and brought honour to India on the global stage. “Captain DK Jatar who, following a bomb explosion on the Air India aircraft ‘Kashmir Princess’ in 1955, risked his life and used great presence of mind to attempt an emergency landing, and flight attendant Neerja Bhanot (1987, posthumously) who saved the lives of hundreds of passengers by acting as a human shield against terrorists’ bullets during the hijacking of Pan Am Flight 73 have been awarded the Ashok Chakra for displaying extraordinary bravery under perilous circumstances. The Gurugram Bar Association demands that the Government of India confer Ashok Chakra upon Captain Smit Machchhar,” read the memorandum. “Ashoka Chakra is India’s highest peacetime gallantry award, conferred upon both military personnel and civilians for extraordinary courage, valour, or sacrifice. In this context, Flydubai pilot Captain Smit Machchhar is deserving of Ashoka Chakra,” said advocate Kulbhushan Bhardwaj, president of the Gurugram Bar Association.

Woman held for extortion, blackmail

Motorcycle with 80 pending challans of ₹2.60L impounded in G’gram

OUR CORRESPONDENT

GURUGRAM, OCTOBER 6

The Gurugram Traffic Police impounded a motorcycle that had 80 pending challans amounting to Rs 2.60 lakh. The vehicle was seized during a checking drive at Agrasen Chowk near Sadar Bazaar on Tuesday. According to the police, the Gurugram Traffic Police is continuously conducting special enforcement drives against motorists violating traffic rules. As part of these drives, action is being taken against vehicle owners who have failed to pay their pending challans for a long period, in accordance with the provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. Vehicle owners are also being informed about their pending challans and advised to ensure timely payment. On Tuesday, Zonal Officer, Agrasen Chowk, ASI Pritam, along with his team, was conducting a routine vehicle-checking drive. During checking, a motorcycle was stopped and the rider was asked to produce the vehicle documents. However, the rider failed to produce any documents. “During verification, it was found that 80 challans were pending against the motorcycle under various provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, involving a total fine amount of Rs 2,60,000. Most of the pending challans were related to violations such as driving without a helmet, without a valid Pollution Under Control (PUC) certificate and without a number plate, among other violations. In accordance with the law, necessary action was taken due to the pending challans, and the Gurugram Traffic Police impounded the motorcycle and parked it at the designated parking facility,” said a senior traffic police officer. “Gurugram Traffic Police appeals to all vehicle owners and drivers to follow traffic rules, keep all necessary vehicle documents updated, including valid insurance and Pollution Under Control (PUC) certificate, and ensure timely payment of pending challans. Compliance with traffic rules is essential for the safety of motorists as well as other road users,” said the spokesperson of Gurugram traffic police.

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

The New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC) on Tuesday launched a special sanitation drive at the park adjoining Najaf Khan Tomb in BK Dutt Colony, Lodhi Road, and announced plans to develop it as a “Peepal Park” through extensive plantation and improved civic maintenance. NDMC vice-chairperson Kuljeet Singh Chahal, who led the drive, said the initiative aimed to improve sanitation, maintenance and civic amenities at the park, which is located near an area under the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI). He said the Civil, Horticulture and Health Departments would work together for the phased revitalisation of the park. The Civil Department will undertake repairs of grills, boundary wall and the main entrance gate, while the Horticulture Department will maintain the grass, prune shrubs and trees and undertake fresh plantation. The Health Department will focus on removing waste from the grass and other areas and ensuring regular cleaning, the NDMC said. Chahal also planted a ‘peepal’ sapling under the ‘Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam’ campaign and said an extensive plantation drive would be

He said efforts would be made to give the green space a distinct identity as a “Peepal Park”. “Keeping New Delhi clean, beautiful and well-organised requires more than regular cleaning. Proper maintenance of public spaces, improvement of civic amenities and protection of green areas are equally important,” Chahal said. The NDMC also launched “Seva Chitra” competitions at Navyug School, Sarojini Nagar, under its “Seva Sankalp Abhiyan”. Students from 43 NDMC and Navyug schools will participate in the competitions, being organised jointly by the civic body’s Art & Culture and Education Departments. The competitions will be held from October 6 to 10, with students creating artworks around themes, including service, civic responsibility, cleanliness, environmental protection, youth power, innovation and nation-building. The entries will be evaluated by a jury comprising artists, art experts, academicians and subject experts. Selected students will be felicitated at a ceremony on October 17.

ous governments had failed to address the problem with the required seriousness. Irrigation and Flood Control Minister Parvesh Verma said the drain would strengthen the drainage network and provide a long-term solution instead of relying only on temporary measures. The project, he said, would help drain rainwater accumulating in areas along the railway line and reduce waterlogging across the four constituencies. Senior officials of the Irrigation and Flood Control Department were also present at the EFC meeting. Heading to work, woman attacked with acid by... 581 Class IX girls get bicycles under Vidya Vahini Yojana in Delhi

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 6

Delhi Education Minister Ashish Sood on Tuesday distributed bicycles to 581 Class IX girl students at two government schools in Janakpuri under the Delhi Government’s Vidya Vahini Yojana, aimed at making the daily commute of schoolgirls easier and safer. The bicycles were distributed among students of Government Sarvodaya Kanya Vidyalaya and Government Girls Senior Secondary School in A-Block, Janakpuri. The government plans to provide branded bicycles to around 1.4 lakh Class IX girls across Delhi. So far, nearly 18,000 girls have received bicycles under the ongoing distribution drives. Addressing students, parents and school officials, Sood said the initiative was not merely about providing a mode of transport but about giving girls greater independence and confidence. “For me, this joy is not merely that bicycles are being given to our daughters,” said Sood. The minister said the bicycles would enable girls to travel to school and nearby places independently without having to depend on family members. He also urged mothers to encourage their daughters to ride bicycles independently and build confidence. Sood also highlighted infrastructure and academic initiatives being undertaken in government schools. He said classrooms were being equipped with 75-inch smart displays to promote experiential learning, while schools had been provided ICT labs with 40 computers and specialised language labs. Under the NEEEV project, student teams are being provided grants of Rs 20,000 to develop innovations such as drones, smartwatches and apps. The minister also said the government would rebuild the 50-year-old school building during its current five-year tenure. He said approvals had also been secured for two foot overbridges on Pankha Road near C-1 and Jeevan Park Som Bazaar to improve pedestrian safety and ease traffic related concerns. Sood further highlighted the government’s free competitive coaching initiative under the Madan Mohan Malaviya Education Mission, under which students can receive two years of coaching for examinations such as NEET, CUET, CA, ICWA and CLAT.

Tune in to tradition

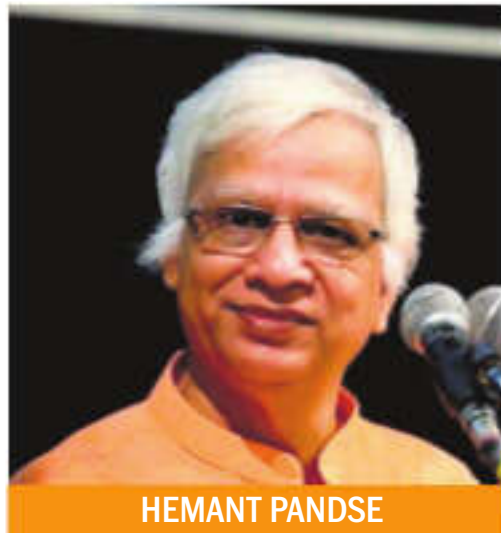

The 48th Chandigarh Sangeet Sammelan brings leading Hindustani and Carnatic maestros to the city from October 8–10

AKHIL KUMAR

There are moments when music does more than fill a room, it lingers in the air, unfolds like a raga and draws the listener into a world where time seems to slow and every note finds its own meaning. For three days, Chandigarh will resonate with such moments as some of the finest voices and maestros of Indian classical music come together in a celebration of melody, rhythm and tradition. The Indian National Theatre, Chandigarh, in association with The Durga Das Foundation, will present the 48th Chandigarh Sangeet Sammelan from October 8 to 10, bringing together celebrated artistes of the Hindustani and Carnatic traditions for an immersive musical journey.

For more than five decades, the society has been a custodian of India's rich cultural traditions, keeping its heritage resonant through music. Each year, it brings the timeless sounds of Indian classical music to the city through a three-day concert, complemented by seasonal musical offerings in the monsoons by celebrating not just the changing seasons, but the melodies that give them a voice.

Anil Nehru, president of the society says, "Every year, for our annual concert, we invite artistes who have an in-depth understanding and knowledge of the classical tradition. In fact, it has been two years since we introduced Carnatic music to the concert, and we have received a very encouraging response. Despite the limitations we face, including budgetary constraints, we are happy that we can continue to bring quality classical music to the city. For music lovers in Chandigarh, it is a wonderful opportunity to come and listen to some outstanding artistes. What makes it even more special is that this is not a ticketed or commercial event and it is an open invitation to experience and appreciate the richness of Indian classical music."

The idea took shape in 1977, when N. Khosla, who became the Honorary Secretary of the society, envisioned bringing a prestigious Sangeet Sammelan to Chandigarh, modelled on the renowned Hariballabh Sangeet Sammelan in Jalandhar.

Vinita Gupta, Secretary of the society, says, "Classical music is one of the best ways to immerse yourself in something meaningful, it has the ability to evoke a range of emotions and offer a sense of calm and reflection, which is especially valuable in the times we live in. With young people increasingly caught up in social media and dealing with stress, anxiety and other pressures, music can provide a space to pause, connect and find balance. Through our concerts and the music appreciation courses we offer, our larger objective is to nurture an understanding of Indian classical music and ensure that this rich tradition continues to be preserved and passed on to future generations."

The city is set to tune into three days of the classical music, beginning October 8 with the Carnatic music, with an acclaimed vocalist Ramakrishnan Murthy. He is a recipient of the Sangeet Natak Akademi Award, a featured artiste at the annual Madras Music Season and an A-grade artiste of All India Radio.

As the concert moves into its second day, the landscape of Hindustani music will unfold in the evening through the voice of Shruti Vishwakarma Marathe. Trained in the rich tradition of Khayal under the guidance of her grandparents, Ganpatrao Vishwakarma and Jayanti Vishwakarma, she brings to her music a deep sense of lineage and tradition. The melodic conversation then moves to the sitar, with Ayan Sengupta, an Indian Council for Cultural Relations-empowered artiste, serving at the ITC Sangeet Research Academy bringing the resonant strings of the instrument alive.

Saturday morning will open on a more contemplative note, with Hindustani vocalist Hemant Pandse bringing the quiet depth of a morning raga to the Sammelan. A disciple of Pt. Jitendra Abhisheki, Pandse's music is rooted in a rich classical tradition, while his creative sensibility has found expression in conceptual musical presentations such as Abhangvarsha and Ek Radha Ek Meera.

Across these three days, the music will move from voice to strings, from rhythm to silence, and from one raga to another creating not merely a concert, but an unfolding conversation between tradition, time and the listener. The Sammelan will be held at Newton Hall, Strawberry Fields High School, Sector 26, Chandigarh. Entry is free.

Beyond the Godman

NONIKA SINGH

MORE than one film and series has laid bare the misdeeds of dhongi babas. So, what did Karan D Kapadia, co-creator and co-director of the web series Hunkaar: The Roar, which is literally roaring today, have in mind when he and his "other half" Nitya Mehra decided to tread the same path?

Well, first and foremost, Karan avers, "While Ashram is about the godman, Sirf Ek Banda Kaafi Hai tracks the journey of a lawyer, we wanted to project this significant concern strictly through the lens of the survivor."

He never uses the word victim. Indeed, much of the sensitivity with which the series deals with sexual violence not only comes from Nitya's feminine gaze but also other female actors on board. Casting Saiyaara star Aneet Padda with whom they had worked earlier in Big Girls Don't Cry and Nitya's short film short Khatti Meethi Yaadein was a no-brainer. Much before audiences saw the phenomenal actor in her, he knew she had the 'gravitas, emotional intelligence, innocence and fire in her' to pull off the part of a 17-year-old. And no the Saiyaara effect did not worry him. Rather he was super-excited about Aneet's success and quips, "A star was born and now the actor in her was to reveal herself." Similarly, he did not feel the weight of audiences' expectation whether they would accept goody goody Raghbir Yadav as the repugnant godman. He not only praises Raghbir to the skies hailing him as 'Marlon Brando of Indian cinema' but his entire cast, which indeed was a casting coup of sorts.

Interestingly, Mohammed Zeeshan Ayyub signed on the dotted line the moment he read the scene where Aneet's character is publicly humiliated for stepping out to have golgappas. Victim shaming was imbedded in the story from the word go. Karan says, "It was very important for us to reflect our society. How we as a society deflect the truth by talking about trivial things and judge survivors."

He hopes the series and he himself act as a catalyst for change. If 'good fight' is a term he uses often to describe his protagonists' battle, he certainly believes that the makers ought to be a part of it. Of course, he knows viewers are morally outraged for the limited watch time and go back to being unempathetic. Yet, even if in small way, he would like to be a catalyst for change, 'for betterment of society.'

As a creator, he would rather not be misunderstood and is overwhelmed by audience response and the fact that they could read between the lines and all the subtexts. However, his real gratification comes from his family and friends.

Undeniably, the husband and wife are each other's best and worst critics. But on the sets they approach the project as professionals, ready to follow the vision of whoever and whatever benefits the story. If critics saw elements of David Fincher like dread in his thriller, he admits he is a huge fan particularly of Fincher's Mindhunter Fight Club and Spotlight. Karan adds, "David almost colonises your mind."

Having worked as an assistant director to some of India's great talent, from Aamir Khan to Zoya Akhtar to Mani Ratnam, indeed Karan has taken inspiration from the stalwarts. He singles out Mani in particular who 'lives and breathes cinema and injects the same in you' and truly made Karan the filmmaker that he is. For someone who decided to join films after watching films like Rang De Basanti, he would always like to pack entertainment with message.

Underdog stories are often the most powerful stories to tell because they resonate deeply with people. Most of us are underdogs, fighting our own battles in the struggles of everyday life.

Sonakshi-Zaheer's thriller unveiled

Star couple Sonakshi Sinha and Zaheer Iqbal will soon be sharing screen space in a new film titled Tu Hai Meri Kiran. On Tuesday, the trailer of their movie was unveiled. Releasing in cinemas on October 23, 2026, Tu Hai Meri Kiran blends elements of "unrequited desire with suspense, twists and thrills," as per the makers.

Talking about the film and her experience of playing the character, Sonakshi said, "Tu Hai Meri Kiran is a very different space for me, and that's what made it so exciting. What intrigued me most was the unsettling world the film creates, where an emotion can slowly become something far more intense and consuming. My character goes through a very unusual journey, and there are so many layers to her that I really enjoyed exploring. The film keeps you on the edge and makes you question the reality unfolding on screen. I'm looking forward to audiences stepping into this world and experiencing Tu Hai Meri Kiran in theatres."

Zaheer Iqbal also shared his experience working on the project. He said, "Tu Hai Meri Kiran is a very special film for me. What drew me to the story was the way it explores one sided love and how an emotion that begins with intensity can take an unexpected turn. There is a strong sense of mystery and suspense throughout the film, which keeps you wondering what lies beneath the surface. I really enjoyed exploring the complexities of my character and discovering the different layers to him. Working with Sonakshi made the experience even more special. I'm looking forward to audiences discovering the world of Tu Hai Meri Kiran and experiencing its mystery, suspense and emotions on the big screen."
